APPLES NOT JEALOUSIES.

The strong, hard headed, common sense of some very practical and sensible men is very sure to come to the front when such a body of farmers and fruit growers get together as was present at the Chamber of Commerce Friday afternoon and evening. There seems to be some inclination on the part of the various sections of Coos County to be jealous of one another and it appears that a separate fruit growers' association has been organized or is being organized at Myrtle Point and is called the Myrtle Point Fruit Growers' Association. It was not a mistake to organize it, but it was a mistake to call it anything else than the Coos County Fruit Growers' Association. It was not a mistake to hold its meetings at Myrtle Point and to have a station there, but its headquarters could be at Coquille with less friction than at Myrtle Point, because the latter is the county seat.

It was not a mistake to undertake to have an inspector appointed, but it was a mistake to let anything like jealousy of any kind creep in. Jealousy and derision never yet produced a good apple. They never made a good market. They never accumulated profits. They never yet succeeded in anything and utter and complete failure is the history of their activity.

But the hardheaded, common sense of one of the speakers who had no fear of enemies and was indifferent to any friendship not based on the truth was well expressed when from a fruit buyer's point of view he called attention to the fact that there must be three stations for the collection of apples for the market—namely, Myrtle Point, Coquille and Marshfield; that the headquarters could be anywhere but that the apples would have to come to Marshfield for shipment. That is indeed, the true situation. Let the headquarters, therefore, be wherever they can be located with the least friction, but let the fruit growers get down to business. They should raise apples and not try to cultivate jealousies. The present product of 25,000 boxes of shipping apples would not be sufficient to supply the home market if Coos Bay should get 25,000 population. While the people of the county divide on the question of whether the Coquille Valley or the Coos Bay district produces the most apples, Rogue River, Yakima, Hood River and other localities, will be shipping apples to Coos Bay to supply its market. The Coquille is a garden spot and has square miles of rich land where the rest of the county has acres, but if Coos Bay becomes a great city the Coquille acres will be worth hundreds where now they are worth tens of dollars. The same is true of Coos Bay. The Coquille Valley will be a garden which will supply the great city of the future. Both are married to each other and family disturbers are not friends of either side. Let us now proceed to consider the question of apples.

WITH THE TOAST AND TEA

GOOD EVENING

What is the end of fame? 'Tis but to fill A certain portion of uncertain paper; Some liken it to climbing up a hill Whose summit, like all hills, is lost in vapor; For this men write, speak, preach and heroes kill, And bards burn what they call their midnight taper, To have, when the original is dust, A name, a wretched picture, and worse bust. —Byron.

Life.

A little sleep, a little sigh, A little dreaming; A little time in which we think we are awake— A little sigh, a little love, A little seeming; And then, alone, a journey we take.

A little doubt, a little pain, A little grieving; And groping blindly for the light; A little hope, a little sheen, Of airy castles weaving; Then the silence and the night.

A little joy, a little grief, A little anguish; A little brushing 'way of bitter tears; A little play, a little work, A little resting, And then the eternal years. —W. B. Hughson.

YOUNG'S SHOW IS POPULAR

"The Ladies Club Minstrels" put on the boards by the Young's Musical Comedy company at the opera house last night brought the usual crowded house, and all who attended enjoyed the show immensely. The songs were excellent, the jokes were new here, and the "North Bend Sanitarium" was a school of instruction in itself regarding the handling of patients.

The last resort of the physicians of this hospital when nothing else would effect a cure was the use of slappings well applied, invariably effecting a cure. Miss Maud Williams as interlocutor carried out her part excellently. Frank Harcourt and Mr. Abbott, on the tamborine side of the house banded the fun back and forth to Charles Dudley and Al Dickerson, the "bones."

Miss Williams' rose song during the olio was very well rendered and she showed plenty of expression. Dudley sang "Asleep in the Deep," in a way which thrilled the house. He has a deep rich voice and in this masterpiece of the songmaker's art he brought out all its splendid qualities, receiving great applause.

The musical numbers of Miss Clayne and Miss Williams, with a chorus famous for its beauty, and especially its costumes, closed the performance.

"Two Thieves," a burlesque on comic opera, will be the bill tonight and is said to be great. The show will close tomorrow night with "The Irish Jubilee."

EAST MARSHFIELD WANTS A PARK

A Resident of Suburb Across the Bay Says Now is the Time to Reserve Recreation Ground.

Editor Times:—We have been talking of a park at East Marshfield for some time and would urge the stockholders to reserve a few acres before it is too late. Soon the prettiest part of the woods will be sold and the time is here right now that a picnic must pay dear for the use of the groves up the river. By all means let us have a beautiful park near the largest city on Coos Bay. —A READER.

A SUBSCRIBER LOST.

Troy Topics has lost a subscriber, as witness the letter received some days ago.

Exter, Nov. 11, 1907. Troy Laundry Machinery Co., Ltd.

Gentlemen: Kindly do not send your book, Troy Topics, as I am not running a laundry any more. As I am now farming and do not need Topics any longer, and those running the laundry here are Chinese, so I guess your magazine would be too white to do them any good.

Anything you could do in the shape of a help on a farm would be all right. Respectfully yours, Don't let this happen in Marshfield.

There is yet a white laundry in the city. Phone 571, and our wagon will call.
