COOS BAY STEAM LAUNDRY

Marshfield and North Bend.

All Parts of the World

We use the necessary facilities for sending money to all parts of the world, and without danger or loss.

FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF COOS BAY, Marshfield, Ore.

Be sure that your chief business competitor doesn't beat you in advertising—and he will beat you in nothing else.

Tattle of the Town

Little grains of fact sifted from the chaff of gossip flying up and down the town.

Breakwater Leaves Portland.—Word was received by the local agents of the Breakwater that the steamer had left Portland last night for Coos Bay and she is expected to arrive in the bay tomorrow morning. She will sail Sunday morning at the service of the tide.

Berwick Leaves Tomorrow.—The gasoline schooner Berwick, which left Marshfield several days ago for the lower part of the bay, and which returned to the cold storage plant to take on four tons of fish eggs for the Rogue River, will leave in the morning if the bar is favorable for Wedderburn and Port Orford.

Registration of Voters.—Judge Pennock has secured a bunch of registration blanks for voters for the county election which will be held next June and they can be secured at his office. Each voter registering must be accompanied by two freeholders as witnesses to prove that he is qualified to vote in the coming election.

Will Build Towing Boat.—Messrs. Hayes and Smith, of North Bend, have gone in with the Reynolds Lumber company on the building of a 45 foot gasoline launch, which will be erected near the company's mill on Pony Inlet. The boat will be used for towing logs for the mill and general purposes. It will be finished in time for the spring business.

Chamber Meets Tonight.—Tonight is the regular meeting night of the chamber of commerce and a large attendance is expected to be present to consider matters vital to the growth and prosperity of Coos Bay. Reports of various parties on questions which have been recently agitated will be heard and a general boost meeting will be held, to which everybody is cordially invited to attend.

File An Attachment.—The "Dining Car" located on Front street, which has been operated by Lucia & Doan as an eating house for several weeks, has been closed by an attachment filed against it by the Hibbard grocery store for debts contracted with the latter. The defendants have seven days latitude in which to announce their intentions before judgment will be made by Judge Pennock.

Want Incorporation.—The matter of incorporating East Marshfield as a town will come up at the present term of the county court which is in session this week at Coquille, and is expected to pass. The citizens of the ambitious municipality across the inlet are going in for civic honors and are seeking improvements in every direction with great prospects of success.

Makes Last Shipment.—Henry Bishop, the local commission merchant who has been handling much of the fruit of Coos county, made a shipment of fourteen boxes on the Delhi for San Francisco this morning, as the field has been pretty well cleaned up. Mr. Bishop has made Marshfield his permanent residence and will be actively identified with the fruit business in this section during the coming season.

Charges No Theft.—Joseph Endicott, who a few days ago told a representative of this paper a few things about his brother, Moses Endicott, losing logs of the "K" brand, stated today that he does not accuse anybody of theft in connection with their loss, and that while he traced some of the "K" brand to the bay he has no idea whether they were stolen or not and until he does he will make no charges concerning same. He says there may be more than one "K" brand in the county.

Two More in the Toils.—Two more North Bend men were brought over to Marshfield yesterday charged with operating gambling games in that lively city. They were W. T. Cook, charged with running the game of "Klondyke," and Dave Klink, charged with running the game of "21." This makes ten men who are charged with gambling in North Bend. The last two were brought to Justice Pennock's court yesterday by Constable Johnson, of the neighboring city. Dave gave $250 bond for their appearance before the grand jury.

To Have Leap Year Dance.—Invitations have been issued to the Leap Year dance to be held by the Fraternal Union of Marshfield in the Odd Fellows' hall tomorrow night. The ball room is handsomely decorated, the decorations which caused so much admiration at the Hahatonka Club dance having been left in position for the dance tomorrow. The decoration committee of the organization has been busy for the past few days attending to further decorations of the room.

Carmel Brings Gasoline.—The steam schooner Carmel arrived in the harbor this morning and tied up at the Standard Oil warehouse with about one hundred drums of gasoline from San Francisco. The steamer stuck on the mud bottom of the bay just as she was approaching the dock and could not tie up properly until the tide came in. The scarcity of gasoline on the bay during the past month will be relieved considerably by the arrival of the cargo, as very little was left to supply the river boats with propelling power.

Meat Famine in County.—Retailers of meat in Marshfield and North Bend are having quite a time lately securing enough of the product from off the hoof to satisfy the inner demands of the population of Coos Bay. Beef, especially, is scarce some days and on other occasions there is enough to go around. The local butchers are kept quite busy rounding up enough beef to supply the market, and a number of them are ordering meat from Portland to fill in this depressing vacancy. Which all goes to prove that the raising of cattle is another one of the numerous money-making propositions, awaiting the newcomers to this section.

Clams Bring Good Money.—While the shallow portions of Coos Bay, which are uncovered at every tide, are well stocked with clams that are long in neck and fine in flavor when properly cooked, this delicate article of food can be secured at local eating places about once or twice a month. Clams at present are said to bring as high as $1 a bucket, shells and all, and it appears that here is another opportunity for the newcomers to pick up a little money with which to lay the foundation of a fortune. It has been suggested that a clam digging corporation, which would provide spades and boats for a percentage of the diggings, would be a profitable investment in Marshfield, and that it would also provide a means of securing work for newcomers who don't know how to do anything else, or who can't find anything else to do. The market is ready for any quantity of clams, judging from the way they are cleaned off the board whenever they are billed for the tables of the local restaurants.

Fish Could Replace Beef.—The dearth of beef on Coos Bay has aroused the suspicion that there might be some fish in the bay or the ocean which would fill in the difference until the calves in the county grow to marketable proportions. A close search of the hotels and restaurants, also private eating houses, and possible numerous homes, discloses that salmon are about the only fish to be found by the fishermen in these parts. Men who have followed the steps of noted fishermen and know whereof they speak, state that there are just as good fish in the ocean as have ever been caught. It is certain that there are sea bass, halibut and other tasty fish to be caught, providing that all the attention of the fishermen is not given to catching crabs and salmon. The subject of deep sea fishing as been mooted in this section for a number of years, and all who know anything about the matter at all believe that the market in this county would easily support one good sized deep sea fishing boat. The completion of a railroad would mean that quite a number would be supported by the towns back inland and on the Southern Pacific. Even the poorest fishermen agree that there are plenty of good fish to be caught, and what the people who weary of the sight of salmon are wishing is that somebody would go out and catch them. They will do the rest.

A SOUTH MARSHFIELD BARGAIN. 100x100 foot lot and an eight room residence with all modern improvements. Beautiful lawn. If you are looking for a home this will take your eye. Price $3,000.00. STUTSMAN & CO.

The Southern Oregon State Normal School

At ASHLAND, Ore.

Offers especial opportunities for teachers to review for the teachers' examinations in February and August, and to take work in Pedagogy and in Special Methods of teaching in the various grades of the training school. Since the public schools of Oregon are calling for teachers who can teach manual training, many are taking advantage of the industrial work lately installed in the school. Expenses of board and lodging and tuition nominal.

The State Normal School at Ashland is enjoying the largest appropriation of state funds ever granted a Normal school in the history of Oregon. Catalogues sent on application to the PRESIDENT.
