

Getting Ahead Of The Sluggards

"PLOW deep while sluggards sleep and you'll have corn to sell and keep," wrote Benjamin Franklin. If there is any feature of your life or business which has never been properly exploited in the advertising columns of the newspapers the opportunity is open to you to profit by Franklin's suggestion. Many of the rich men of today were the pioneer advertisers in their respective fields not so many years ago, turning the virgin soil with the plow of publicity while their sluggish competitors restfully clung to the antiquated sales methods of another generation. "Plowing deep" is an advantageous policy under any circumstances; but it is ten-fold remunerative if the chance offers to do the plowing before others begin.

Contest for Homestead.—Before Land Commissioner Liljeqvist, Henrich Wukasch is now contesting Carl Olles for an adjoining farm homestead. The land in question lies adjacent to Ten Mile lakes and has been in litigation for some time.

More Library Donors.—In the list of library donors published yesterday mention was omitted of the following subscribers. Dr. E. Mingus, $50; J. S. Coke, $50; Progress Club—$50; ten per cent on sales from Bazaar for one day, $10.

Report Good Roads.—E. B. Norris, representing the Dunham, Carrigan and Hayden company, and R. W. Davis, representing the J. A. Folger company, arrived in Marshfield this morning from a trip overland from Crescent City, Cal. They report the roads in very fair condition.

Interest Continues.—Deep interest still continues in the revival meetings now in progress at the Presbyterian church. Tonight the subject which the Rev. H. H. Brown will speak on will be: "The Great Advocate, or the Advocate With the Father. 's He Yours?" Mrs. Ernest McCra. will sing a number of selections.

Good Timber in Coos.—The underpinning in the rear of the Lockhart building on Front street has become impaired recently and carpenters are at work putting in new timbers. The present timbers have stood the action of time and the tides for 24 years which is a high testimonial to the wearing powers of Coos county timber.

Preparing for Bazaar.—The ladies of the Catholic church are very industrious these days preparing for the bazaar to be held in the O'Connell block next Saturday afternoon commencing at 1:30 o'clock. The ladies will have for sale many tempting delicacies in the shape of cakes, home made bread, cookies, baked beans and other table necessities.

Goes to Bandon.—H. Anderson, better known to his friends in Marshfield as "Mazook" and who has been in the North Bend Mercy hospital for some months, left this morning for Bandon where he will take charge of Robert Marsden's liquor business. George Stoltz, who has been filling the position, will return to the bay to resume his old duties of delivering the brewery's products to the trade.

How About This Cal Wright?—The Times is mistaken in stating that there is a fine for shooting any kind of a bird or animal whatever without a license. A license is required for "any of the game animals, fowls, or birds, protected by the laws of the State of Oregon." And also "no license shall be required of a man or member of his own family for permission to hunt upon his own lands of this state."—Coos Bay News.
Deputy Game Warden Cal Wright was The Times' authority for the statement.

Manager Herde Issues Edict.—Owing to the wayward behavior of some of his blackface troupe in keeping late hours in company with Miss Lucy Long after the minstrel rehearsal Manager Herde takes occasion to state that he will publish their names in full if the action is Personal Notes.

SEYMOUR BELL returned this morning after his trip to Portland and Tacoma.

MR. SCHROEDER, the well known Ten Mile creamery man, is on the bay on business for a few days.

JOHN PREUSS, the druggist has gone to San Francisco for a month's stay and may take medical treatment there.

DONALD MOORE, lately freight clerk on the Transit, has taken service with the L. J. Simpson lumber company.

W. W. NOFFSINGER, a prominent attorney of Kingfisher, and an old time friend of Dr. Houseworth, is in Marshfield on the double duty of renewing a pleasant friendship and investigating the far famed resources of the Coos Bay section. By special arrangements with the weather man Dr. Houseworth had the regular quantum of Coos Bay sunshine turned on and Mr. Noffsinger expressed himself accordingly as more than pleased with the climate.

Honor Is the Best Principle
(From Coos Bay News.)
Some good news, relating to improvement of the bar and bay, was received by the chamber of commerce early last week. The matter, however, was not for publication at that time, nor are we permitted to publish it in this issue. When the report is printed in the government office, it is then open to the public, but prior to that time it is regarded as private by the engineer department, whose wishes in the matter of non-publication should be entitled to respect.

repeated. Late dispatches from the battle line say that Interlocutor Charley Lee is making gallant progress with his command.

Receive Challenge.—The Marshfield High School Athletic Association has received a challenge from the brother organization in North Bend for a field meet in May. The challenge has been accepted. Ed. Wleder was elected manager of the Marshfield track team at a meeting held Wednesday night and the team will start training as soon as possible. The latter part of May all the schools in the county will hold a field meet in Marshfield.

Alliance Comes in.—The Alliance arrived in Coos Bay this morning after a good trip down from the Columbia river. The boat brought in 85 tons of freight for North Bend and 115 for Marshfield. Following is the passenger list:

C. R. Seeley, Mrs. Busey, Loui Wallace, W. Holland, P. C. Graves, J. F. Sheels, O. Dodge, J. McRake, Addie Staw, E. T. McDonald, A. H. Sayer, Mrs. Ryan, Thos. Ryan, J. W. Flaughed, Mrs. Flaughed, C. PENNSYLVANIA GRAFT TRIAL
Architect Admits That Blue Prints Were Indefinite.
(By Associated Press.)

HARRISBURG, Jan. 30.—Stanford B. Lewis, associate of Architect Joseph K. Huston, was forced to divulge at the morning session of the trial at the state capitol testimony of a damaging nature to the architect's interest. Lewis virtually admitted the blue print plans for the capitol furniture were indefinite. The furniture was charged for at the rate of $18.40 "per foot."

The Southern Oregon State Normal School
At ASHLAND, Ore.
Offers especial opportunities for teachers to review for the teachers' examinations in February and August, and to take work in Pedagogy and in Special Methods of teaching in the various grades of the training school. Since the public schools of Oregon are calling for teachers who can teach manual training, many are taking advantage of the industrial work lately installed in the school. Expenses of board and lodging and tuition nominal. The State Normal School at Ashland is enjoying the largest appropriation of state funds ever granted a Normal school in the history of Oregon. Catalogues sent on application to the PRESIDENT.
