"What would you do Buck if you had got that fellow in your bus?" asked a bystander.

"Oh, I don't know. Guess we could 'ave handled him. I've had worse un that before this. Remember that fellow Landis. Killed a fellow for $80 down near Coquille about three year' ago. Well I've had him in the bus. He'd have to fix up pretty good for me not to pick him out. You know he got away and they've never seen nor heard tell of Saturday .. 8 11:14 1.1 11:19 2.3 him since. Yes I've hauled some pretty tough ones in the bus. Some of 'em I didn't know were tough till afterwards and some had the brace-• lets on when they got on. You can't never tell whose ridia' with you -All aboard here, all aboard!"

For the past several days business Washington, rain tonight; . has been steadily on the upward Thursday southerly winds, fresh • trend at Marshfield hotels. The registers have been filled as completely as though every day had been a steamer day. This increase in the hostelry line is attributed by the hotel men to the fact that money conditions have eased up allowing the For 24 hours ending Feb. 4. . wholesalers to depart from the policy ◆ at 6 p. m. > weather of the past few days. The workmen are making substantial progress on the erection of the outside walls and the interior is going forward as well.

Business Slack-Coos Bay owners of boats for charter express themselves as a trifle dissatisfied with the business at present. The captains say there has been little demand for boats for some time. This is partly parties, etc.

Boats on Market-Captain Tom Holland, owner of the Eagle and the Bird, is now on the market with his two speedy boats. The captain says he is going to retire from the strenuousity entailed by boat life on Coos Bay and recuperate for a year. Both the Eagle and the Bird are well known boats on the bay and have done faithful service in the passenger line between North Bend and Marshfield.

Steamer Intelligence-The Breakwater will leave Portland tonight and is due in this port Friday morning. Both the Plant, San Francisco, and the Alliance, Portland, which were due in this morning are late in ardelayed by reason of the recent heavy winds which have been blowing up the coast, but this cause should have put the Plant into Coos Bay early this morning. There is no cause for delay at the bar as it was reported this morning to be very smooth.

Ladies Are Heroines-Detailed reports from the fire which destroyed the bunkalation on Steven Roger's place on South Coos River place Mrs. Prey and Lea Rogers, daughter of Frank Rogers, in the class of heroines. The ladies were the only persons in the vicinity of the fire when it occurred. The bunkalation is but a few yards from the residence of Steven Rogers and it was in imminent danger. The ladies removed a heavy piano and practically all the furniture in the house and then opened the barn doors letting 60 head of cattle out.

Jim Lyons a Marshfieldite-"Jim" Lyons, the well known and popular manager and part owner of the Coos Bay Steam Laundry has become a naturalized Marshfieldite. Since the North Bend branch of the business has moved to Marshfield Jim's entire time has been taken up at this end getting the machinery in shape and improving the building in order to bring the plant up to the high standard which he shortly expects to attain. Some time ago he decided to economize time by moving to this city and, with his wife, he is now occupying the apartments over the laundry building.
