Some of these articles bear their own stamp of merit, but back of every article that goes out of this store is our name and our guarantee. No sale is ever completed until our customer is satisfied. We want this store to have a place in your confidence, and if faithful, conscientious service and honest endeavor will win it, we shall always merit what we seek to achieve.

Yours For a Greater Coos Bay.

A Leap Year Girl.—Born, to the wife of Dr. W. A. Toye, Saturday, February 29, a girl. This little burst of sunshine has the honor of being not only a leap year girl, but a 29th of February girl, who will have a birthday only once every four years—how the other girls will envy her. That she may grow up to be as beautiful and good as her mother, and as good-natured as her father, will be the wishes that will accompany congratulations from many friends.

An Accession to Coos Bay.—John Ross Smith, a brother of William J. Smith of the North Bend Hardware Co., has recently arrived from California with his wife and two children and will make his future home in North Bend. Mr. Smith made a thorough investigation of Coos Bay and its prospects before deciding to cast his future in this section, and his decision is abundant evidence of his favorable impression. Mr. Smith will take a substantial interest in the North Bend Hardware Co., which is about to increase its capital, incorporate and extend its business into the wholesale and jobbing trade. Many wishes of success will be forthcoming from the business friends of the concern, as well as from the friends of the individual members of the firm.
