EVENTS TONIGHT.

MASONIC OPERA HOUSE.—Travelling Landers & Co. in advanced vaudeville.

CRYSTAL THEATRE.—Moving pictures, illustrated songs, vaudeville. Change of program tonight.

ORPHEUM THEATRE.—Moving pictures, colored views, electric piano.

DANCING SCHOOL.—In Odd Fellows' hall.

CITY COUNCIL.—Meets at city hall.

Omega Arrives.—The Omega arrived yesterday and is loading at the Porter mill.

A Street Contract.—The Mael brothers have taken a contract to slash and grade streets in the Boise addition.

Dies at Libby.—John Zarf, an employe of the Libby mine, passed away at his home there last week from consumption. He leaves a wife and child to mourn his loss. In their affliction they have the sympathy of all who know them.

Move to Plat C.—Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cameron moved Saturday to Plat C, where they have a comfortable little home ready for occupancy. They are located west of the county road, a short distance beyond the O'Connell property.

Small Pox Refugee Caught.—The man named Dean who was exposed to the case of smallpox at Sunset bay and escaped the quarantine was apprehended in Marshfield Saturday night and returned to the camp. There have been no further cases, and it is hoped the disease may be confined to the one case.

Sale a Success.—The many people that attended the sale at George Goodrum's Furnishery Saturday evening enjoyed a rare musical treat. The Erickson Boys, mandolin orchestra, discoursed sweet strains until a late hour, not only winning fame for themselves, but making the sale a great success.

A Leap Year Boy.—The question of what was to become of all the leap year girls arriving on Coos Bay was partially solved this morning, when a young draughtsman, weight nine pounds, put in an appearance at the C. M. Himebaugh home and announced that he had come to stay. Mother and child are doing well, and Architect Himebaugh is designing air castles that would make a Fifth Avenue mansion look like a fisherman's hut.

Beautiful Flowers From Empire.—Saturday while The Times was engulfed in great clouds of gloom as a result of the typesetting machines that wouldn't work and reporters that indulged in the "absent treatment," the silver lining to the cloud was found in a great bunch of spring flowers that shed a wealth of rare beauty and fragrance in the editorial sanctum. They came from Empire for the editor, with the kindly compliments of Mrs. R. H. Olsen. There were beautiful jonquils and daffodils, daisies, pansies and a dainty and fragrant bunch of violets. They were a flattering compliment to the rare mildness of the Coos Bay climate and a suggestion to everyone in this section how it may be made a place of surpassing beauty by cultivation of flowers. The Times staff extends its kindly thanks for the special courtesy implied and the thoughtfulness which sent this first breath of spring-time into an atmosphere of newspapers and magazines, and a ray of sunshine and beauty direct to the soul.

The public responds "in kind" to "sore-advertising." If it is big, important, full of significance to thrifty ad. in the paper today you are talk-
