

BANDON TURNS DOWN CHARTER

Proposition to Extend City Limits and Enlarge Council's Powers Rejected.

By a vote of 100 against the charter to 92 in favor of it the people of Bandon rejected the proposed new charter for Bandon at the polls. The draft of the charter having been more than a year in preparation and was compiled and published at a considerable expense to the municipality and while there has been considerable dissatisfaction expressed in regard to some of the provisions, the outcome of the balloting was a surprise to the city officials and to many of the townspeople. It was presumed that the explanations presented some time ago at the charter mass meeting by Recorder Wade and Attorney George P. Toppling, father of the move to reincorporate and compiler of the rejected charter, had removed opposition from the minds of the disgruntled. A good deal of electioneering was done by the opposition to the movement while the charter people were caught napping and did not appreciate the strength of their opponents. The defeat of the proposition to extend the limits of the municipality, was a foregone conclusion. However, the sentiment of the population, both within and outside the present limits is shown by the vote polled, which was 44 against and 10 for the proposition outside, and 81 for and 80 against it within Bandon. Ten votes within the city and one outside were rejected by the board for irregularity. Some scattering, misdirected votes were against the charter and for annexation. The chief factors in the defeat of the charter was the extension of the power of the city council in the matter of taxing and the annexation clause was opposed on account of its taking in too much rural and undeveloped land. It proposed to extend the present area of about 240 acres to an area of more than 4,000 acres, while the population of the actual town of Bandon covers about 600 acres. Robert Walker, Sr., and Chris Rasmussen acted as judges of election and C. R. Wade and A. D. Morse as clerks. As the municipality is still under a charter granted in 1891, it is probable that a second attempt will be made to recharter us in accordance with our actual needs.—Bandon Recorder.

C. E. BAILEY SHOWS UP AT NORTH BEND.

Youth Over Whose Whereabouts Considerable Apprehension was Felt Returns.

C. E. Bailey, the North Bend youth who suddenly disappeared last week after a row, returned to North Bend Saturday night. He offered no explanation of his disappearance although it is said that the cause of it was the fear of arrest.

George Farrin, deputy district attorney, said today that he had not been apprised of Mr. Bailey's return. Mr. Farrin had made preparations for a careful investigation of the case on account of the rumors of foul play that were circulated at North Bend.

NORTH BEND WINS GAME

Defeats Marshfield in Seven Innings by Score of Six to Five Sunday.

North Bend defeated Marshfield at the North Bend grounds yesterday afternoon by a score of six to five. Only seven innings were played and the lineup was changed frequently to give the various ones a chance but the contest was a good one.

The new material this year is showing up unusually strong and it is not unlikely that a number of last year's players maybe replaced on both teams by new timber.

Manager Howard is pleased with the prospects. Between 200 and 300 witnessed yesterday's game for which twenty-five cents admittance was charged.

The Coquille baseball team for 1908 has been organized with Russ Chapman as manager and C. E. Baxter as president. Messrs. Chapman, Baxter and Witt also constitute an executive committee to assume general charge of the team. The prospects are said to be very good.

Myrtle Point, owing to the absence of good material, may decide not to organize a regular team for the season, it is said.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in a Class by Itself.

"As an ideal cough medicine I regard Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in a class by itself," says Dr. R. A. Wiltshire, of Gwynneville, Ind. "I take great pleasure in testifying to the results of Chamberlain's Cough Medicine. In fact, I know of no other preparation that meets so fully the expectations of the most exacting in cases of coughs and colds of children. As it contains no opium, chloroform or morphine, it certainly makes a most safe, pleasant and efficacious remedy for the ill it is intended." For sale by John Freuss.
