BOOST FOR A GREATER CITY

New Hotel, Briquetting Plant and "Clean Up" Day Things That Are Promised.

FOR GREATER AND BETTER COOS BAY.

Coos Bay Hotel Company announces that The Chandler will be started within few weeks and rushed to completion. A. N. W. Club agrees to take charge of Marshfield's "Clean Up" day and aid in beautifying city. Installation of experimental plant to determine whether or not Coos Bay coal can be briquetted, thus, if successful, enabling the rapid development of the coal industry, advocated by Francis H. Clark and unofficially endorsed by Chamber of Commerce.

The above, in brief, outlines the accomplishments towards a greater and better Coos Bay that were announced at Friday night's meeting of the Chamber of Commerce. They were enthusiastically endorsed by the large audience present.

Special interest was taken in the proposed "Clean Up" day which will inaugurate a campaign for "Marshfield beautiful." It was agreed that the ladies of the Artistic Needle Worker's Club, generally known as the A. N. W. Club, should take charge of the affair. Mrs. J. T. McCormac, Mrs. Flanagan and Mrs. Frances Hazard, for the club, accepting the offer of the Chamber of Commerce. It was understood that the women of the A. N. W. Club should have general supervision of the "Clean up" day program but that the Chamber of Commerce, city officials and in fact everyone in Marshfield shall cooperate in making the event a success. At the next meeting of the Chamber of Commerce, the club's plans for systematizing the work will be announced, the women who are to have charge of the work in the various districts into which the city will be divided and the date designated. Mayor E. E. Straw will probably issue a proclamation declaring the day, or part of it, a legal holiday in order that all may participate. Secretary Walter Lyon announced last night that S. H. Bell had contributed $30 towards the fund that will be necessary to defray incidental expenses of cleaning up. Other contributions will be secured for this purpose.

The New Chandler. Senator J. S. Coke announced to the meeting that the construction of The Chandler hotel was an assured fact that would be realized within the course of a few months and that construction would begin within a short time. He said that the meeting of the directors of the Coos Bay Hotel Company, which had been held just prior to the Chamber of Commerce meeting, had practically determined to engage Bettes, Hendricks and Tobey of Portland as the architects to prepare the plans and specifications for the building. A preliminary draft of the plans had been submitted to the directors and were approved. The idea, he said, is to erect a five-story building, 50x100 feet. This is only one-half the size of the site which the company has purchased and will leave room for enlarging the hotel as soon as the business warrants it. It is proposed to closely copy the Cornelius hotel at West Park and Alder streets in Portland.

Mr. Coke also announced that E. D. LaChance of Hibbing, Minn., who has been in the city, had practically been engaged to operate the hotel. Mr. LaChance will expend about $18,000 in furnishing the hotel, making it one of the finest in this section. Mr. LaChance is an experienced hotel man and comes highly recommended in addition to the recommendations furnished by Coos Bay people who are personal acquaintances of himself and wife.

To Briquette Coal. Francis H. Clark in a brief address outlined a great possibility for Coos Bay, that is the developing and utilizing the great deposits of lignite coal here by the briquetting process. Mr. Clark has investigated the proposition and he feels quite certain that it can be made a success and if so, he says that it will be one of the most vital factors in developing Coos Bay.

Dorian Found Not Guilty on Charge. Jury Refuses to Hold on Charge of Jumping Board Bill at Blanco Hotel.

After a three days legal battle before Judge C. L. Pennock, a jury in the case of the State of Oregon vs C. P. Dorian brought in a verdict of not guilty late yesterday afternoon. Mr. Dorian was accused of attempting to "jump" a board bill of about $480 which he owed the Blanco hotel of Marshfield.

Dorian is an insurance agent formerly residing in Marshfield and during his stay here boarded at the Blanco. Recently, he moved to Bandon without adjusting his bill at the Blanco. Efforts to adjust the matter were futile and finally resulted in the proprietors of the Blanco swearing out a warrant charging him with an attempt to defraud. Marshall J. W. Carter went to Bandon and brought him to Marshfield for trial.

Deputy District Attorney Geo. Farin prosecuted the case and J. S. Upton represented Dorian. After arguing various legal points, the matter was submitted to a jury consisting of V. M. Ireland, E. O. Hall, F. M. Roeder, L. W. Mounsey and Captain Lightner who returned a verdict of "not guilty."

The verdict applies only to the criminal charge and does not affect the liability of Mr. Dorian for the debt.
