ARM OR BACK DOWN.

Congress does not favor the president's recommendation that the navy be increased by the addition of four first class battleships.

It is impossible for America to maintain her advanced position in international affairs unless she awakens to the actualities and demands of that position.

At the business meeting of the Coquille school board Monday evening the resignation of Miss Wells was accepted and Mrs. J. A. Yeakam, Jr., a former teacher in our schools, was engaged to fill the vacancy.

WELL KNOWN COUPLES WED

Nuptials of C. M. Nelson and Miss Mildred Rogers and Anson Rogers and Miss Larson.

In the presence of about sixty friends and relatives, Miss Mildred Rogers and C. M. Nelson of San Francisco were united in marriage by the Rev. Father Donnelly at the home of the bride's parents.

John J. Kronholm acted as groomsmen and Miss Leah Rogers as bridesmaid. Following the ceremony, a number of piano selections were rendered.

Following the wedding ceremony, a fine supper was served. Dr. Hosa fall acted as toastmaster and among those responded to toasts, expressing best wishes to the young couple were J. W. Bennett, E. W. Gupta, E. L. Bessey, J. C. Mahoney, J. H. Flanagan, John J. Kronholm and the Rev. Father Donnelly.

The young couple will leave shortly for their future home in San Francisco where the groom is a prominent young business man.

WED AT ST. JOHNS.

Nuptials of Prominent Coos Bay Young Couple Solemnized.

Announcement has just been received in Marshfield of the marriage of Anson O. Rogers and Miss Lena Belle Larson, which was solemnized at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. H. C. Hunter, at St. Johns, Ore., last Wednesday.

The wedding was a very quiet one, only a few immediate friends and relatives being present. Following the ceremony, a dainty luncheon was served after which the newly wedded couple was taken by automobiles to the Portland hotel in Portland where they will spend a few days prior to coming to their future home in Marshfield.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Larson of Haines Inlet and the groom is a son of Anson Rogers. Mr. Rogers is one of Marshfield's most prominent and successful young business men.

JOHN GRILLS' BROTHER WAS ACCIDENTALLY SHOT

Roseburg Review Recalls Previous Tragedy in Family—Miss Roby Well Known at Salem.

The Roseburg Review says: "John Grills was a native of Roseburg. He moved to Marshfield about ten years ago with his stepfather and mother, Dr. and Mrs. M. M. Murphy. His brother was accidentally killed on the Southern Pacific Railroad track, near the brickyard, in this city, about 15 years ago, by a bullet from the rifle of a careless hunter, whose identity was never established."

A Salem paper says: "Miss Roby was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Roby and very well known in this city. She was employed for several seasons in the Gile & Co. fruit packing house. The family removed to Marshfield last fall."

RAIN ON EASTER SUNDAY.

Display of New Gown and Hats Prevented by Weather.

An Oregon mist, which occasionally assumed the proportions of a good shower, prevented a display of Easter hats and Easter gowns on Coos Bay yesterday. The dampness prevailed throughout the day so that the hopes that there might be at least a few minutes of sunshine to permit parading in new gowns were in vain.

The special Easter service programs at the churches attracted large congregations, many of the edifices being crowded at each service. The turnout for the Sunrise meeting at the Presbyterian church was large. The musical programs at the churches are said to have been the best ever given on Coos Bay.

In response to a request of the Rev. D. W. Thurston, the ladies in the choir of the Baptist church removed their hats during the services. While the Rev. Mr. Thurston disliked very much to prevent a display of the attractive Easter headgear, he felt that it was essential to the congregation's welfare to do so.

TRIES TO GET MONEY OUT OF BLACK SAND

David L. Brittain Believes he Has Invented Machine That Will Prove Valuable Here.

David L. Brittain of San Francisco, Cal., an expert machinist and all-around mechanic as well as a mining man of more than ordinary ability, was in town one day last week on route to San Francisco to perfect arrangements to try a machine of his own inventing and manufacture on the black sands of Coos and Curry counties. It is his purpose to utilize the magnetic iron as well as to save the flour gold and platinum.—Coquille Herald.

BIG COMPANY MUST COMPLY

Fruit Inspector M. G. Pohl to Make Southern Oregon Co. Live Up to Laws.

M. G. Pohl, fruit inspector for Coos county, is making fair progress with his work. He is now having difficulty in making the Southern Oregon Company comply with the inspection laws but is determined to do so. So far, he says the Fairview orchardists have shown a better spirit of cooperation with him than the fruit raisers in other sections of the county.

In the following letter to The Times, he tells as follows of his work:

"So far I have not visited a particular section where the orchardists have entered with more spirit to improve their orchards and their own conditions as at Fairview.

"It is a pleasure to be able to congratulate these people for this spirit expressed. It is quite different meeting these farmers than many others I have met in other localities where the fruit inspector is only the recipient of ill-will for endeavoring to do his duty without fear and favor.

"So as the tide ebbs and flows so may conditions change and even those condemning will see their present folly.

"I should thank the Southern Oregon Company to obey the law on their different properties with orchards. As it is, they are injuring their industrious neighbors. Corporations have no souls but at least they should have a feeling of justice and honor."

COMPLETE PREMIUM LIST SOUTHERN OREGON FAIR

Directors Arrange for Publication of Awards to be Made for Best Exhibits Here in August.

The directors of the Second Southern Oregon District Fair to be held on Coos Bay August 26 to 29th, inclusive, have practically completed the premium list and will shortly have it printed in pamphlet form for distribution among prospective exhibitors in this section of the State. In case, it is decided to make additional awards, these will be announced later in the newspapers and additional slips for insertion in the regular premium list will be printed and distributed.

Premiums are offered for practically every product, farm, garden and orchard, in this section, in addition to the usual prizes for livestock and dairy. A prize of $25 is offered for the best exhibit of Gravenstein apples.

CURRY COUNTY PIONEER DIES FROM OVERWORK

D. H. Divilbiss Succumbs to Over Exertion Caused by Burning of His Home.

PORT ORFORD, Ore., April 20.—D. H. Divilbiss, one of the best known pioneer residents of Curry county, is dead as a result of over exertion in endeavoring to have his home on Sixes River which was destroyed by fire. The blaze had gained considerable headway when discovered and Mr. Divilbiss with the others of the family attempted to save the furniture and goods. About an hour after, he was suddenly overcome and died a few minutes later. He came here from Josephine county in 1878, and the home which was burned was considered one of the finest in Southern Oregon. He was seventy-five years old. Mr. Divilbiss is survived by his widow, and six children all grown and married but two sons. His children are Mrs. Emma R. Bowne of San Rafael, Mrs. Mary E. Haines of Myrtle Point, and George, Newton, Ernest and Edward.

DEMOCRATS PLAN FOR AN ACTIVE CAMPAIGN

Hold Meeting at Coquille to Help Candidates and Will Meet Again April 22d.

There was a meeting of the Democratic Central Committee in this city Monday, at which considerable business was transacted making ready for the coming campaign. For United States senator they will vote for Geo. E. Chamberlain; for representative in congress, first district, J. J. Whitney; for joint senator for Coos and Curry counties, Hugh McLean. There will be a meeting of the committeemen in Coquille April 22d for the purpose of forming a permanent organization.—Coquille Herald.

Loading Freight by Cards.

"I don't know whether the practice is still kept up in the far south, but I remember how tickled I was at seeing the method used in loading goods into freight cars down in Mississippi some while ago," said a railroad man of St. Louis.

"A lot of strapping black fellows will be on the job under the supervision of a white man, who will be issuing orders with great volubility. 'Put this aboard the king of diamonds; take this to the ace of hearts; load this on the ten of spades; take this to the jack of clubs,' and so on, and then you'll notice each one of the long line of freight cars has tacked on it some one of the fifty-two cards composing a full deck. The Senegambian loafers for the most part were ignorant of letters and figures, but every man of them knew the pasteboard emblems which he had often handled in games of seven up. That next to craps is the chief diversion of the colored sports of Dixie."—Baltimore American.

Cruel Spring.

The talk in the village hostelry had been on the subject of vegetable freaks, but at length it veered round to goats.

"Did ever you keep a goat, Bill?" inquired a gray whiskered gentleman in a corner seat.

"Did I ever?" answered the little man addressed with rustic familiarity. "I bought one last Christmas what nearly brought me to the work'us. Eat anything, from tins o' black'n' to flatirons, that goat would. Lucky thing for me the spring killed it."

"I didn't know the seasons affected goats," observed the gray whiskered gentleman.

"Who's talkin' about seasons?" came the reply "It was the spring of our alarm clock what 'e made a meal of one day as done it!"—London Express.

Generally the Case. "I wish you would mention this to Jack. It is highly important." "I'll mention it to him today." "But how do you know you will see him today?" "I'm bound to bump into him. I owe him money."—St. Paul Pioneer Press.
