

Important Notice

Having found it necessary to make some repairs and improvements in our ovens that will result in rendering the public better service with our baked goods, we have been compelled to shut down our ovens until next Monday and ask our customers indulgence and patience for a few days. During this time we will serve our patrons with bread secured elsewhere, but after the first of next week, will again resume service from our own bakery.

Meeting Tonight.—Rev. M. E. Anderson will preach in English at the First Baptist church this evening at 8 o'clock. There will also be a song service by Isaacson. Bro. Everyone cordially invited to attend.

Many have Mumps.—A large number of Marshfield and Coos Bay residents are suffering from the mumps. It started as an epidemic among the children but many older persons are now afflicted. No critical cases have been reported.

May Sell Ranch.—Negotiations are on for the sale of the Blaine ranch near Allegany to parties who figure on dividing it into ten-acre tracts and selling them on term payments to small ranchers. There is more than a hundred acres of good bottom land in the tract. Similar projects are on for other Coos River ranches.

Tyler for Sheriff.—R. D. Hume of Wedderburn, who is on Coos Bay in behalf of his candidacy for state senator on an independent ticket, stated yesterday that he had just received advice from Curry county that Norman Tyler had been nominated by the Republicans for sheriff. He was not appraised of the result on the rest of the field.

Minstrel's Coming.—It was a big, good-natured audience that greeted the popular Gorton's Minstrels at the Victory Trestler last night, and every one present voted the performance from first to last the best "burnt-cork" bill ever presented at the Victory, not even excepting the one given by the Dockstader Minstrels, says the San Jose Times about a Minstrel Company that will soon appear on Coos Bay.

Coquille Wants Baseball Meeting.—The baseball enthusiasts at Coquille are beginning to ire under the delay in organizing for the baseball season. They have written here to arrange for a meeting of the managers of North Bend, Marshfield, Bandon and Coquille clubs at Coquille soon. They claim that the meetings have always been held in Coquille and that it is the most convenient place to meet. They want to see the game started soon.

Undergoes Repairs Here.—The steamer Alert is at her dock in Marshfield undergoing a general overhauling. The boiler is being cleaned and mended, the wheel repaired and other work being done. Captain Edwards says when he takes her out again in a few days she will be in fine condition.

Found His Relatives.—F. C. Wright of Puntenney, Arizona, whose recent letter of inquiry concerning relatives was published in The Times writes to this paper to say that he has found all his rela-

WM. GRIMES and wife, who have been spending the winter at Kingsfisher, Okla., are expected to reach Coos Bay within a couple of weeks. It is expected that they will stop at San Francisco to witness the festivities marking the arrival of the fleet.

MR. and MRS. CHRIS DRYDEN of Oakland, Cal., are in the city as guests of Mrs. Dryden's sister, Mrs. Mary Merchant, and also to look after business interests here. Thirty years or so ago, Mr. Dryden was engaged in the merchandise business at Empire. Both he and his wife are enjoying good health and are being warmly greeted by their old time friends.

CURRY COUNTY NEWS.

Happenings of Section as Told by the Port Orford Tribune.

Hume's horses were landed at Bandon and arrived here Thursday, in charge of a colored trainer and a white boy. Skipper never looked better, and everybody hopes the beautiful horse may recover, as his trainer says he will.

During last week a continuous gale from the northwest prevailed, and seemed to come right out of the Arctic, so chilly were the evenings. Many vessels hugged the shore to escape the full force of the wind. The roads are dry and bumpy except in the green timber.

Johnny Prock was in from the Madden mine Saturday, and says that owing to shortage of water they will be unable to wash all the black sand they have stripped, but they expect to make a good clean-up soon.

Miss Rose Ferry of Marshfield, arrived at Port Orford Monday, with a fine line of millinery goods, which she has opened up in Johnston's store. She is accompanied by Mrs.

NOTICE.

atives. He also expresses his thanks for the kindness of those who gave him information concerning them.

A New Arrival.—J. B. Hibbard of the Pettivohn & Nicols Company, went about his work today warbling "Push 'dem clouds away." The reason was the arrival of a young son at his home and he wanted the newcomer to be favorably impressed with Coos Bay, as he has arrived for a long stay. Mother and child are doing well and J. B. says it means an increased demand for Primrose hams.
