Important Notice

Having found it necessary to make some repairs and improvements in our ovens that will result in rendering the public better service with our baked goods, we have been compelled to shut down our ovens until next Monday and ask our customers indulgence and patience for a few days. During this time we will serve our patrons with bread secured elsewhere, but after the first of next week, will again resume service from our own bakery.

OUR PURE PORK SAUSAGE
 Hams must be trimmed and shaped and the nice lean pieces of pork cut from the hams, with just enough of the fat mixed in to make the sausage cook right not too fat and not too lean seasoned with pure spices and made in as cleanly surroundings as though in your own kitchen. That's how our sausages are made. All pork used in our sausages has passed government inspection and we call them just what they are, "pure pork sausage," nothing more nor nothing less. There are "fancy brands" of sausage in the market at double our price that can't touch them for goodness.

Shingle Mill to Start.—It is announced that the North Bend Shingle mill which has been closed recently, will resume operations within a few days.

Will Elect Officers.—The regular election of officers of the Millicoma club, will be held Saturday afternoon, the polls being open from 12 o'clock until 9 o'clock. Several friendly contests for honors are on.

Use New System.—The "sling" system is being utilized at the C. A. Smith mill in loading lumber. The last cargo of the Nann Smith was taken aboard in this manner and it proved very satisfactory. The iron bands were left on the lumber so that it may be unloaded the same way. The cost and time of loading and unloading will be greatly reduced by the new system.

Wins First Money.—Morwood, one of R. D. Hume's horses took first money in the five-furlong dash on the Emeryville tracks last week, defeating eleven other thoroughbreds for the $500 purse. Mr. Hume, who is on Coos Bay, is jubilant over the event as it marked his first winning of the season on the California courses. Morwood ran in the Curry county races last year. He covered the five furlongs in 23 and two-fifth seconds.

New Motor Boat.—The Bevier Engine Works of North Bend, is constructing a new motor boat that is attracting considerable attention. It is of the White Steamer type, fifty feet long, nine and one-half feet beam and has twin screws. It will be completed in about a month. It will be an oil burner.

Fine Moos Head.—Clay Moore has just placed one of the finest specimens of a mounted Moos head that has ever been seen on Coos Bay in the "Claymore." It is pronounced nearly perfect. It was secured by Claude Brown of Myrtle Point, who brought it here and placed at the "Claymore." The head is attracting much attention from hunters and others.

Gets Missionary's Mittens.—The Rev. Wm. F. Holl has placed a pair of driving mitts, formerly worn by the Rev. Father Crossman, the noted Lutheran missionary, during the latter's service in Nova Scotia, on exhibition at the Chamber of Commerce. They are declared to be a good illustration for comparison of Coos Bay weather with that of the North Atlantic coast.

Has a New Position.—Word has been received here of the appointment of H. A. Colvin, formerly with the Coos Bay Manufacturing Company, as superintendent of the new box factory which is being built by Swigert and Campbell of Portland, who recently purchased the A. W. Silaby sawmill at West Fork and the Glendale box factory at Glendale.

New Feature Films.—Two feature films were presented in the new bill at the Crystal last night. The great drama "Curfew Must Not Ring To-night" is a thrilling story of the days of Cromwell. A Royalist is captured and condemned to be shot. The heroic way in which his wife rescues him is both surprising and dramatic. "Hunting Above the Clouds" shows a realistic hunt for mountain goat in the snowy Alps. A cowboy song and a soldier song complete a bill that is unusually entertaining and interesting.
