

MADE LARGE SUM IN WEST

W. R. Shull, Who is Visiting Here, Tells Typical Story of Western Development.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Shull of Decatur, Ill., arrived on Coos Bay yesterday to visit numerous relatives and friends here and incidentally to spend some time in a "coming western city," the wonderful growth of one of which recently made them wealthy. Among the relatives at whose homes they will visit here are I. S. Kaufman, Colby Perry, D. Y. Stafford and J. Montgomery. In addition to being related to Mr. Kaufman, Mr. Shull did military service with him.

Twenty-five years ago, or thereabouts, Mr. Shull accompanied Mr. Kaufman west, going to Spokane, Wash. Then Spokane was a town of about 900, had no permanent sidewalks—in fact was the crudest kind of a western village. However, Mr. Kaufman decided to remain and Mr. Shull before leaving for the East decided to invest some of his small savings there. He bought a ranch and a small piece of down-town property, paying $500 for the latter. Time sped on and Spokane began to grow. Two houses were erected on the lot and soon afterwards as the town progressed the two residences brought in a monthly rental of $20 each a month, or $40 for the two. This was a very good income but as Spokane sped on towards the 100,000 population mark, which it now claims to have reached, the value of the little lot began to go up. Finally an offer of $15,000 was made for it and Mr. Shull accepted, deciding that the money, with other investments he had in Decatur, would enable him and Mrs. Shull to enjoy life for the remainder of their years by traveling.

Mr. Shull was identified with one Decatur firm for thirty-five years, almost continuously.

FIRE NEAR ROSEBURG.

Wilbur Scene of Bad Blaze—Loss Not Known.

ROSEBURG, Ore., May 6. — The little village of Wilbur, eight miles north of Roseburg, was the scene of a disastrous conflagration. The fire started from a defective flue in the residence of Mrs. Martha Reed, and under the influence of a strong south wind, communicated to the general merchandise store of T. J. Williams, and from there to the residence of Mrs. M. Wilson, who was also the postmaster and conducted the office in the front room of her dwelling. The fire also consumed a new house which had just been erected by Mrs. Wilson adjoining the one she occupied.

From the Wilson residence the fire swept across the county road, and quickly consumed the Southern Pacific depot. Extent of the loss has not yet been determined, but will amount to many thousand dollars.

GRAND JURY RAPS SALOON

Kane County Body Makes Sensational Report to Illinois Circuit Court.

CHICAGO, May 6.—A dispatch to the Record-Herald from Geneva, Ill., says:

In its report to the circuit court, the Kane county grand jury said: "In view of the present widespread agitation upon the saloon question, this grand jury feels it a duty to report that in many cases brought before us a few drinks of liquor have preceded the trouble.

"The expenses of this jury, of the state's attorneys and stenographers, together with the court expenses, which must follow in order to adequately punish the men we have indicted, therefore, apparently flow, in great measure, from the presence of saloons open to young men who do not know how to restrain themselves.

"This grand jury offers no advice, but desires only to call attention to the waste of time and taxes for caring for petty crime, the immediate source of which seems to be the open saloon."

STAFFORDS NEW PLACE WILL OPEN SOON.

D. Y. Stafford Will Have His Elegant New Quarters Ready For Reception Shortly.

Within two weeks D. Y. Stafford will welcome his friends and patrons into the beautiful new home of the Stafford Manufacturing Company. In the past Mr. Stafford has prospered thru the generous patronage of Marshfield citizens and as evidence of his sincere appreciation is opening this elegant new place in the First Trust & Savings Bank building. This new room, when completed, will prove a comfort to his patrons and a credit to a city much larger than Marshfield.

The fixtures and lights are specially designed in craftsman style, and the color tones of the room will be Olive and Ivory with trimmings of Havana Brown. New Cases will be installed, and the tables will be served on a spacious balcony.

Mr. Stafford takes the stand that the best is none too good for his customers. And his new location certainly will bear out the fact that the best can always be found at STAFFORD'S.

OUTING ON ROGUE RIVER.

Portland People Will Enjoy Camping Excursion in Curry County.

The Port Orford Tribune says: Messrs Adams and Shorey of Portland, accompanied by their wives, arrived in Port Orford last Thursday, on a camping outing for fun, health and adventure. They were driven in from Roseburg in two teams by Alex Pardee and Rob Isaacs, who took them to Rogue river, whence they will proceed up the river at their leisure.
