WHAT SOCIETY IS DOING

Summer Girls.
Some are summer girls;
Some are summer guys;
Some are priceless pearls;
Some are simply pies;
Some are svelte and dainty; some are otherwise.

Some are summer beauties;
Some are summer bugs;
Some are tootsy wootsies;
Some are merely mugs;
Some are fit for heaven; some are fit for hugs.

Some are summer fairies;
Some are summer freaks;
Some are certain marries;
Some are maiden meeks;
Some are chatty chummies; some are solely cheeks.

Some are summer seraphs;
Some are summer swells;
Some are fleeing sheriffs;
Some are finding shells;
Some are fresh and bonny; some are chestnut belles;

Some are summer dimples;
Some are summer dots;
Some are partly crimples;
Some are purely clo'es;;
Some are sweet and sunny; some are just so-so's.

Some are summer sillies;
Some are summer sads;
Some are seeking Willies;
Some are following fads;
Some are mamma's darlings; some of course are dad's.

Some are—some are—quit it,
Oh, my summer muse!
If we must admit it,
In the book of "Who's Who In Summer Girdom" some are goo-goo-goo's!
—Robertus Love.

SOCIETY ON COOS BAY has given evidence of just a little more life this week than for some time, but even now events are very small and informal. "Just a few came in to play cards" is the slogan-excuse that falls from the lips of protesting dame and demoi-selle when they are approached by reporters with the well known question on their lips.

The coming of the fleet was anticipated fondly as an occasion that might add life and zest to social affairs for a day—but they came in the night. Not to be entirely check-mated, however, a number of parties hid themselves to the beach and with bon fires and bon mots made the evening a merry one. The flaming front which Coos Bay presented must at least have impressed the lookout with the fact that if Coos Bay was not on Admiral Sperry's map it should be. It was possibly this reminder of war that put the Nestor of the Millicoma club in a reminiscent mood the evening following. The Nestor of the club is a kindly and kingly man, who altho' a man of war when occasion demands nevertheless loves peace. He extends that liking even to particular colors and styles of women's gowns. He says the ideal summer girl is the one who wears white gowns with lots of pink ribbons. The Nestor does not approve of startling reds and purples, the glaring yellow or even the browns tho' the hues should remind him of the flame and smoke of battle.

"When I was young," said he, "girls wore white gowns when the weather got warm. They had pink ribbons on the gowns and pink flowers on their hats, and they looked sweet. Peaches-and-cream? Straw-berries-and-cream? They are feeble comparisons. Even apple blossoms and wild roses seem inadequate expressions. Who ever sees a girl now in just white and pink? It's crushed strawberry or old rose or squeezed raspberry or some such painful suggestion. The girls who wore sprigged lawn, with big hats wreathed in roses, or white gowns with long sashes of pink and with pink bows stuck around every place, well, those were the summer girls whom every man in the land who has passed his sixtieth milestone remembers with joy."

There, now girls, what do you think of that?

The Ladies Art Club were entertained on Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Frank Sumner. A delightful afternoon was enjoyed and at its close the hostess served a dainty luncheon. The next regular meeting will be at the home of Mrs. W. E. Warwick on Friday, May 29.

Mrs. Hiram Wright is entertaining the Bridge Club at her home this afternoon.

The Progress Club will meet with Mrs. I. Lando on Tuesday next when the annual election will occur.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Merchant were in town Thursday of this week. They returned to their ranch down the coast the next day.

Mrs. J. T. McCormac has as a guest this week Mrs. Margaret Herrin of Portland, a prominent lodge worker of the Degree of Honor.

Miss Susie Eickworth will give her final piano recital of the season at her home next Friday evening. The program will include numbers by several of her pupils and possibly others.

Miss Villiers' Dancing Class will close on Friday, May 28, with an exhibition and small dance. Many children who have been taking lessons this winter will appear in fancy dances in costume.

Miss May Bennett entertained this afternoon for Mrs. Anson O. Rogers, a recent bride. Among the invited guests were: Miss Genevieve Sengstaken, Miss Lettie Larsen, the Misses Kruse of North Bend, Miss Alice McCormac, Miss Maude Painter and Miss Elizabeth Kaufman.

Mrs. J. Lando and son Arthur, former residents of Marshfield, have written from Honolulu where they now reside that they will spend a part of the coming summer visiting friends and relatives on Coos Bay. Ensign Lando of the battleship Colorado, United States Navy, will meet his mother and brother here.

The Alumni of the Marshfield High School will hold their annual meeting on Monday next at 8 p. m. in the assembly room of the school house. Officers will be elected and committees appointed to arrange for the annual promenade. There will be no banquet this year as the High School course has been changed to four years; and no class will graduate.

The A. N. W. Club met last Thursday with Mrs. Fannie Hazard. Several guests were present. Mrs. Flanagan and Miss Eickworth entertained those present with several fine musical selections. The club voted to place an exhibit of needlecraft in the pavillion at the County Fair in August.

As the club already holds a diploma from the Lewis and Clark Fair the exhibit promises to be very fine. Committees were appointed to arrange for a second edition of the A. N. W. Cook book.

Social interest in North Bend the past week has rather centered around the annual commencement exercises of the North Bend High School. The numerous friends of the graduates united in making it one that will long be remembered as one of the most pleasant periods in their lives. The only regrettable feature of the whole affair was the inability of Miss Maud Coke, one of the graduates, to participate on account of illness. The graduates were Misses Winifred F. Rood and Johanna Volz of the 1908 twelve-grade course, and Ralph W. Coke and Misses Maud Coke and Georgina M. Wyatt of the 1907 ten-grade course.

Even though North Bend people who had planned to make a social event of the passing of the fleet, which was expected to be on last Wednesday, were disappointed in not seeing the battleships that day, it did not spoil the numerous picnic and outing parties. While the fleet unexpectedly passed up the coast during Tuesday night, the holiday that had been declared for Wednesday in North Bend was taken advantage of almost everyone and picnic parties on the beaches and inlets were numerous. The weather was delightful, no rain falling to mar the joys of the picnickers.

The North Bend Beautiful America Club are continuing to live up to their principal object as is indicated in their name and are arranging for a final "Clean-up Day" in North Bend for the coming week. The exact day has not been set but will be as soon as Mayor Simpson can be seen and can issue a proclamation for the event. The first "Clean-up Day" of the Beautiful America Club was quite a success and the ladies plan to make this one even a greater success. The city will be divided into districts and the work in each assigned to committees of the club to supervise. Drays will be engaged to haul away the debris and everybody in North Bend will be asked to cooperate in making it a "Spotless town." This will be the final event of the season for the Beautiful America Club, the organization adjourning until after the summer season.

One of the novel social features of North Bend was a surprise birthday party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Arnot there last Saturday evening when the anniversary of the birth of four people present were jointly celebrated. The four guests of honor were Mrs. Nellie Arnot, Mrs. E. M. Alexander, Boyd Arnot and Margaret Bailey. All came to Coos Bay from Galeston, Pennsylvania. The Arnot home was prettily decorated and numerous handsome bouquets for the guests of honor added to the beauty of the surroundings. G. M. Bailey spoke briefly on the unusual nature of the event. Refreshments were served. Among those present were Leo Stephens, A. J. Arnot and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Reichart, E. M. Alexander, wife and son; Marjorie Smith, Percy Reet and wife, Geneva Smith, Boyd Arnot, Mrs. N. F. Throne, F. C. Arnot and wife, Paul Hamblin, Robert Throne, Marvill Throne, Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Bailey and daughter Margaret, Mr. A. H. Smith and wife, and Thelma Throne.

Many North Bend people are arranging to leave their homes in town for their summer cottages or are planning to go away for the summer. Mrs. C. S. Winsor will leave soon for Los Angeles to spend the summer months. Mr. and Mrs. Tom James expect to occupy their summer home at Ten Mile soon. Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Simpson will shortly move their beautiful new summer residence at Sunset Bay. The latter has been named "Shore Acres" by Mrs. Simpson, the name of the famous play being particularly fitting for the place on account of its proximity to the sea and the beauty of its location.

MEMBERS of the Coos Bay Circle, Women of Woodcraft, are requested to attend the meeting Monday evening. Business of importance is to be transacted. By order of clerk.

REMEMBER the opening ball Saturday at the New Temple of the Knights of Finland.

COOK WITH GAS

Our new plant is thoroughly modern and up-to-date. No better gas can be made than we are producing.

We are connecting up new customers every day. Is your application in? If not call us up and we will send a man to see you. If gas was not the thing for cooking with, it would not be used by upwards of 9,000,000 people in the United States. We are selling gas stoves at a very low price and making a nominal charge for the service pipes to our mains.
