THE OREGON DELEGATION.

That Oregon is fortunate in its delegation at Washington is the opinion of Railroad Commissioner Oswald West who recently returned from the national capital, where he was summoned as a witness in the land fraud trials. West is a well-known public official, having come to public notice because of his energetic administration of the affairs of the State Land Office while he was in charge of that department. He is a Democrat, and an observing man, hence his opinion of a Republican delegation is particularly interesting.

In an interview after his return he said that he learned that Senator Fulton stands high in the estimation of his fellow senators and that Senator Bourne has made many friends while there. In speaking of the position of Congressman Hawley at Washington, he made use of the following expressive language:

"When I visited the House of Representatives and saw the crowd that Congressman Hawley has to associate with, I really felt ashamed. In intellect, oratorical ability and devotion to the interests of the people, Hawley stands head and shoulders above the great majority of the members of the National House of Representatives. You haven't any idea what inferior men some states send to congress. Of course, there are a few able men there, but Hawley is far above the average. You can tell that by just looking at the faces of the congressmen and watching their actions."

It is gratifying to the people of Oregon to know that their representatives at Washington are the equals or superiors of men sent to Washington from other states.

A CARD.

To the voters of Coos and Curry Counties:
In reply to the statement published in the Coos Bay Times on May 29 relative to my record as a legislator, I wish to say that all my acts during the last session of our last legislature are recorded in the journal of proceedings of the house, and open to the inspection of any person who may care to examine it.
The record shows, among other things, that I introduced and secured the passage of a bill through the House, to compel the Southern Oregon Company to sell the large tract of land held by it, according to the terms of the contract. This measure was defeated by the committee on public lands in the Senate. Fulton took up the matter and secured the passage of a measure through congress to obtain the same result. I secured an appropriation of $20,000 for the construction and maintenance of fish hatcheries in the coast streams south of the Columbia river, a bill to prevent the killing of elk, but this was vetoed by our Democratic governor. I introduced and secured the passage of several other bills. In addition to the above I supported the measures relating to our public schools and in recognition of my services in securing the passage of these measures, State Superintendent Ackerman and other leading educators of our state, sent me a personal letter of thanks.

There was a great demand for a Rail Road Commission, and I worked hard in helping to secure the passage of a law creating such commission.

I have in mind several matters of legislation for which I shall labor if elected, which have already been published in the Coos Bay Times of the 29th, and in the Coquille Sentinel of recent date, and in the Port Orford Tribune a short time ago.

My past experience in the House would be of much value to me in the Senate and would enable me to accomplish much better results than could be obtained by one without such experience.

W. C. CHASE

TO THE VOTERS OF COOS AND CURRY COUNTIES.

Having at the solicitation of a large number of voters of the above named counties been induced to present my petition for your support for the position of Joint Senator in the State Legislature, I deem it my duty to declare my political principles that those who are unacquainted with me may not be deceived. My first ballot was cast for Abraham Lincoln and I have been a consistent supporter of the Republican party since that time. My idea of law making is to construct those that will preserve the greatest individual liberty consistent with the rights of the whole body of the people and if elected will endeavor to represent them to the best of my ability. I have no axe to grind or friends to favor or enemies to punish.

POLITICAL ADVERTISEMENT.A LETTER TO THE*COQUILLE VOTERS.

It is gratifying to me to know the Coquille Valley people appreciated the man who sees so clearly the great future of this county.

You may publish this statement both far and wide: Bandon and the Coquille Valley to Myrtle Point, is the backbone of Coos county, and Coos Bay is the heart and lungs. Myrtle Point some day will have one building, which will cost more for its construction than the whole townsite has cost to date. The palatial homes of the Coos Bay and Bandon merchants and manufacturers will loom up on the hills, surrounding the present townsite. Coquille will have a sanatorium, which, in importance and as a developing influence, will out-weigh all of their other resources. Invalids and health-seekers cannot live on the sea shore, but with their home hotel at Coquille, and the resort on the Bandon beach, their chances for recovery, and return to robust health, is greater than at any other point in the United States or Canada.

As for Bandon, I have this to say: A seaport city of 25,000 will be on our map in a very few years. There is no Bandon man today who has so clear a conception of his city's future as I have. I regard Bandon as the best point on the Pacific coast today for men of youth, energy and a few thousand dollars, to commence at once in, much safer and better than Coos Bay.

As all things to be great in size and power, spread out fast, thus debilitating their strength, for concentrated action, Coos Bay city site is vast, and she has a number of controlling points, two of which can hold their grip a short time, but just long enough to confuse capital, and to be fatal to a small operator; in short, the changing of centers in Coos Bay will crush hundreds of men and blast the hopes of thousands of the small investors; but for the man of great foresight and heavy money power, Coos Bay's real estate is a hundred to one better than Bandon.

Many of our Coos Bay men would do better to sell out at once and go to Bandon. As one proof is worth 1,000 arguments, I will give you the proof of my assertion. Now, you must think carefully of what I say; do not idiotically yell hot air. My harshest criticism of the people of this country is their disposition to denounce any good expression which they do not understand as hot air. I will call the turn on future development (which is against my own interest financially); Coos Bay is destined to have a large seaport city, a commercial metropolis; Bandon is so compact that no man need to change his first location; they can tell just as well today where they are at as when the city is fully developed. Bandon will have the greatest seaside resort on the coast, on account of its central location and its even climate. Its bar and entrance can be made with small outlay to pass any of the coastwise shipping; Coos Bay people can help themselves more by helping Bandon to Myrtle Point; as the average new comer will do better for himself and the country to locate there. Unlike Portland, our Coos Bay people must help build up the surrounding country before they begin establishing the mercantile institutions in keeping with her great seaport.

It will be to your interest as well as mine that I get a good vote in your part of the country. My only pledge to you is that my conduct will always be consistent with the attitude expressed in this letter. Thanking you in advance for your earnest support, which will make me your next representative,

I am sincerely yours,

L. D. KINNEY.
