LAND FRAUDS WILL BE HIT

Government to Prosecute Parties Trying to Get Coquille Timber Under Guise of Mineral Claims.

The following from the Pacific Outlook will be of much interest in Coos county as a number of local people have filed on Coquille valley tracts as mineral claims:

"Last year mention was made in the local press of the attempts made to take up valuable timber on the Coquille river as coal land. These lands have been carefully cruised under the direction of Supervisor Anderson and were found to contain from 15,000,000 to 30,000,000 feet valuable timber to the quarter section. Last season an exhaustive examination was also made by Prof. Diller and Dr. Kay of the government service. Large tracts of this reserve land has already been taken up as coal land, and as there are prominent people and huge values concerned the contest over them will probably be long and hard fought.

"The cases will be opened in this city next month, the government to be represented by A. C. Shaw, of the legal department of the forestry service.

GIRL WALKS OFF TRAIN IN SLEEP BUSINESS MEN TO MEET TONIGHT TO DISCUSS DREDGER

Miss Jessie Schilling, Sombambulist, Seriously Injured While Coming Home to Washington.

(By Associated Press.)
SAVANNAH, June 27.—Miss Jessie Schilling, aged twenty years, en route from Chicago to her home in Washington state, jumped from a Burlington train while walking in her sleep. She was brought to Savannah and is in a serious condition. Miss Schilling apparently arose about midnight from her berth in the sleeper and walked forward through the Pullman to the vestibule cars, the door of one of which had been opened to let in some cool fresh air. The Pullman porter was either asleep or did not like to interrupt the lady in her night robes.

She wasn't missed for a while and later when search was instituted, the porter remembered having seen her leave her berth and not return. A searching party found her lying alongside the track unconscious.

Under the new writ issued earlier in the day by Judge Mills, Thaw must appear in court Monday morning. Charles Morschauser has finally disposed of the case, and has been retained by Thaw to conduct the new proceedings.

DISCUSS PLAN OF PRESIDENT

Roosevelt, Taft and Wright In Conference at Sagamore Hill This Afternoon.

(By Associated Press.)
OYSTER BAY, June 27.—Wm. H. Taft and Luke E. Wright arrived here today earlier than they were expected and comparatively few people were at the depot. The visitors were conducted to Sagamore Hill in an automobile. Secretary Taft will leave Oyster Bay this afternoon.

The conference of the president and the retiring and incoming secretary of war covers a wide range of topics in that department, including the Panama situation and the Philippines and Cuba. Mr. Taft laughingly remarked that politics might be referred to incidentally, but said frankly that no determination on the chairmanship of the Republican national committee would be reached today. It will probably go over until July 8. President Roosevelt had a number of other guests today.

MINGLE SONG AND BUSINESS

Fine Rendition of "Coos Bay" Revives Enthusiasm at Chamber of Commerce.

Important business and song mingled at the Chamber of Commerce meeting last night. Prof. Todd and his chorus were present. W. R. Haines had one of his organs in place, and the song, "Coos Bay," composed by Francis H. Clarke, and set to music by Prof. Todd, was sung as never before. At the conclusion the applause continued until the entire chorus was obliged to rise en masse and bow acknowledgment.

A statement was made by Secretary Walter Lyon to the effect that Colonel Roessler is waiting to hear whether or not Coos Bay will raise any funds for its operation before making an order as to where the government dredger, now nearing completion at Portland, shall be sent. Peter Loggie of North Bend was present and gave some history of the dredger, and emphasized the importance of Coos Bay people raising the necessary funds. Others spoke along the same line. A committee to prosecute the work already started of soliciting funds from lot owners, was appointed and another to communicate with the large interests with a view of apprising them of the situation and asking their co-operation.

Urges Civic Improvement.
L. H. McCarthy, an attorney who has been on the Bay three months, was called upon to give his impressions during his stay. Mr. McCarthy touched upon those who are disposed to show a lack of civic pride, and bore down gently upon those who neglect their premises, particularly their front yards. He called attention to the retarding influence dilatory tactics may have on a town, and asserted that even the city council owed it to the public to meet public questions coming before that body with reasonable dispatch.

MANY COMING WITH TEAMS

Several Hundred Coquille Valley Fans to Attend Coos Bay Games Tomorrow.

Coos Bay fans are anticipating two of the best ball games they have ever seen here tomorrow, when Coquille meets Marshfield on the Marshfield grounds and Bandon meets North Bend at North Bend. The weather forecast is for fair weather, and the attendance at the two games is likely to be a record breaker.

The Bandon and Coquille teams will come on the same excursion train and it is expected that 200 or 300 fans will accompany them. Both Coquille and Bandon have strengthened their teams during the week, according to reports reaching here. North Bend has also been busy, and Manager Whisnant is expecting great things from his aggregation, believing that last Sunday's thirteen-inning game and victory at Coquille was but an indication of what they might do.

Manager McKeown of the Marshfield aggregation is wearing a reassuring smile, and his hope is that every fan in Marshfield will be out to the game tomorrow in order that they may see how a real team can play ball. The game will be called about 2 o'clock.

Is After Players.

The Portland Oregonian of Thursday says:
"The Coos Bay Baseball League is playing a most interesting season, for each of the four towns represented has a good team, and the race is so close that each club is out after new material with which to strengthen its team. For the purpose of securing new talent for the North Bend and Marshfield clubs, J. W. Gardner, of North Bend, came to Portland yesterday, and is registered at the Imperial Hotel. Mr. Gardner has signed several well known young pitchers, but is especially anxious to secure Charles 'Dolly' Gray, the crack Portland player who has made such a splendid record in the Northwestern League. Mr. Gardner says he can assure Gray a splendid position and other inducements if he desires to play at Coos Bay.

"All told the Coos Bay representative expects to secure some eight or ten players in Portland, whom he will place in Marshfield and North Bend. The Coquille and Bandon clubs are being recruited from California universities and state leagues. 'Father' Tom Kelly, who left Portland for Coos Bay last week, played his first game Sunday and made good with the fans."

NORTHWEST WHEAT CROP.

48,500,000 Bushels the Estimate—Washington Over Half.

PORTLAND, Ore., June 27.—Within a very short time the 1908 wheat harvest in the three Pacific northwest states will start. Present indications are for a crop of 48,500,000 bushels in the three states, divided as follows:

Oregon, 12,500,000 bushels; Idaho, 7,000,000 bushels, Washington, 29,000,000 bushels.

This will compare with a total of 59,000,000 bushels for 1907 and 47,521,855 bushels as indicated for 1906. It will therefore be noted that this year's wheat crop promises to be larger than that of two years ago, although the record-breaking production of a year ago will not be reached by at least 4,000,000 bushels.

The production shows a decrease not because of any decrease in acreage for the three states show an actual increase this year of about 200,000 acres over 1907.

Perhaps one of the chief defects during the growing season was the cold, raw and chilly weather during late spring months.

This year the three states have an acreage of 2,546,000, as compared with 2,340,000 during the previous year. This year Oregon had 725,000 acres sowed mostly to winter wheat while the larger portion of Washington 1,447,000 and Idaho's 374,000 acres were of the spring variety. Spring wheat was principally affected because of lack of rain during the winter and spring months.

Must Take Quick Action to Secure Improvement of Bay This Year.

NEED FUNDS TO DEFRAY EXPENSES

Many Prominent Men Telegraphed to Aid In Carrying Out Project.

"Am waiting for further information from Coos Bay before making an order concerning the disposition of the government dredger now being completed at Portland," is the word that comes from Col. S. W. Roessler, U. S. engineer at Portland.

Colonel Roessler will be removed to another district July 1. This is the most important question that has been put up to the people of Coos Bay since the growth of a city started on these shores. It should be answered in no uncertain language. The government has built the dredge and it is a good one. Coos Bay can have it, yet there is a disposition to pull it to the ports of Washington.

A meeting to take decided action has been called to be held at the Chamber of Commerce at 7:30 this evening. Let everybody attend. Numbers count.

A committee from the Chamber of Commerce has been working hard all day. Telegrams have been sent to all the big timber holders of Coos county. Report will be made this evening. This is a question on which all interests can unite.

Prominent Men Interested.

Many prominent people are interested in the project, and this morning telegrams were sent to a number to call their attention to the necessity of early action. Replies will probably be received from a number this afternoon. Among those to whom telegrams were sent are the following:

C. A. Smith, head of the Smith Lumber and Manufacturing company, at Minneapolis, Minn.

E. E. Colvin, vice president and general manager of the Southern Pacific Railway company, San Francisco.

Goodall, Perkins & Company, owners of the Libby coal mine and the steamship M. F. Plant, San Francisco.

Elijah Smith, president of the Southern Oregon company, Boston, Mass.

Gray-Holt Company, owners of the Alliance, San Francisco, Calif.

Charles P. Doe, owner of the Eureka, San Francisco.

Frederick Weyerhaeuser, of the Weyerhaeuser Lumber Company, which owns over 27,000 acres of land in Coos county, Minneapolis, Minn.

Menasha Woodenware company, owners of much Coos county timber land, Menasha, Wis.

G. A. Signalness, president of the Crawford Point Townsite company, Roseburg, Oregon.

O. C. Sopher, president of the Coos Bay Townsite company, Gledale, Ore.

Charles Ladd, part owner of the Gasco, Portland.

Committees at Work.

The committees are made up of the following citizens: J. D. McNeil, Mr. McFarland, J. D. Johnson, Wm. Grimes, Henry Sengstacken, I. S. Kautman, J. E. Oren, James Flanagan, Dr. Tower.

Peter Loggie and the North Bend Chamber of Commerce officials are canvassing North Bend.

LUMBER VESSELS HERE.

Nann Smith and the Redfield Arrive From South to Load Here.

The Nann Smith with the Redfield, a sailing lumber carrier in tow, has arrived from the south and the two are now loading at the C. A. Smith mill. The Redfield carries about 600,000 feet of lumber and the Nann Smith about 2,500,000 so that the two will shortly take over 3,100,000 feet of the local plant's product to market. The big mill has been turning out a large amount of material recently, too much for the Nann Smith alone to handle. The recent difficulties with the longshoremen have been adjusted and the longshoremen are loading the two vessels.
