MYSTERIOUS FRISCO EXPLOSION KILLS FOUR AND INJURES THREE

Fire Following Upheaval Cremates Several Alive In Ruins.

MANY THINK IT DUE TO DYNAMITE.

Others Believe That a Leak In Street Gas Main May Be the Cause.

(By Associated Press.)
SAN FRANCISCO, June 29.—Four are dead and three seriously injured as a result of a terrific explosion which was followed by fire early today in the grocery store of John Sweeney at 2796 Diamond street. The dead are:

John Sweeney,
Mrs. John Sweeney,
Ella Sweeney, aged ten,
Anton Dissmeyer, Jr., aged two.
The injured are:
Miss Mary Dissmeyer (may die).
Fred Sweeney,
Anton Dissmeyer, Sr.

Sweeney, the proprietor of the grocery, lived with his family in a flat above the store and adjoining the latter was the saloon of S. F. Johnson, with the Dissmeyer family in the flat above it. The store and saloon were closed and the occupants were asleep when the explosion occurred. So terrific was the force that Fred Sweeney, aged 25, and who was sleeping near the window was thrown through the window and over the roof of a one-story building adjoining. The grocery partly collapsed and immediately the fire broke out. Before the engines arrived, the wrecked building and the adjoining saloon were wrapped with flames. Anton Dissmeyer awoke to find himself almost surrounded by flames. He carried his wife to the street, but she was so severely burned that recovery is said to be doubtful. Dissmeyer, though severely burned himself, plunged into the building to get his two-year old son. The father unable to find his child was forced to flee for his own life.

The entire Sweeney family perished excepting Fred.

What caused the explosion is a mystery. There was no gas in the building and but five gallons of kerosene was in the grocery.

The only theories are of dynamite or an accumulation of gas from a possible leak in the street's main.

DR. B. P. BAUMBAUGH IS HELD FOR VIOLATION.

Is Arrested On Charge of Having Violated the Quarantine Regulations in Marshfield.

Dr. B. P. Baumbaugh was placed under arrest this morning on a warrant sworn out by Dr. E. Mings, city health officer, charging her with violating the quarantine regulations. The case was set for hearing for Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock by City Recorder Upton who will preside.

Dr. Mings said that the law provided that before any quarantine be removed, the health officer must be consulted and he must order the removal of the quarantine. He said that Dr. Baumbaugh had removed the scarlet fever quarantine from the Joseph Juza home without complying with the law in this respect. Dr. Baumbaugh said today that she had acted in the matter on instructions from another local practitioner. She said that she was not familiar with the technical regulations and that it was her understanding that all that was necessary was that the patient be fully recovered and the home thoroughly fumigated and this was the case in the Juza instance, she said.

MAY NOT LIVE TO SERVE TERM

"Mazook" Anderson Reported to Be In Broken Health at Coquille.

(Special to The Times.)

COQUILLE, Ore., June 27.—According to well verified statements here, Holland Anderson of Marshfield, who was convicted a few days ago of manslaughter for shooting Mrs. E. S. Gordon of North Bend, will never live to serve the sentence of five years imposed by Judge Hamilton. Anderson is declared to be a physical wreck and that he cannot possibly live more than a year.

The condition of "Mazook's" health was not known until the latter part of his confinement in the county jail here. His lungs are practically gone as the result of an abscess for which he was operated on a few years ago, he has kidney trouble and Dr. Walter Culin has been administering to him for heart trouble. Much of the trouble is due to "Mazook's" manner of living as at first glance he appears to be a big strong, healthy fellow.

Those familiar with his condition declare that a few months of prison life will end his career. Sheriff Gage will start today with Anderson for the State penitentiary, going via Drain.

REVOLUTION IS FELT IN MEXICO

Insurrectionists and Bandits Cause Government Trouble In Northern States of Diaz's Republic.

(By Associated Press.)

CITY OF MEXICO, June 29.—International troubles in Mexico have developed serious features. Today the storm center is around the City of Torreon and in the country, between that place and Jarral where bandits are operating in conjunction with the insurrectionists. Government troops have been rushed to the scene. Fifteen hundred troops have reached Torreon to reinforce the garrison there, two hundred have reached Juarez, and in Chihuahua soldiers are patrolling the streets. Public houses and jails are heavily guarded. It is believed that Ambassador Creel will appeal to the United States authorities to assist in apprehending some of the Revolutionists. The government has gained the upper hand at Las Vegas, the attacking force being driven back to the mountains and is now being pursued. The reported capture of Jimenez is untrue. There are disturbances in the vicinity of that city.

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 29.—The State Department is carefully watching the developments of the insurrectionary situation on the northern boundary of Mexico. The officials feel that the international aspect of the situation will be adjusted satisfactorily.

AMERICAN NAVAL VESSELS TAKE ON COAL AT COOS BAY

MARSHFIELD DROPS GAME

Coquille Takes Thirteen-Inning Contest By Score of 3 to 1 Sunday.

Standing of the Clubs.

	Won	Lost	Per Cent.
Marshfield	3	1	750
North Bend	1	3	250
Bandon	2	2	500
Coquille	2	2	500

Yesterday's Results.
At Marshfield—Marshfield, 1; Coquille, 3. (Thirteen innings).
At North Bend—North Bend, 3; Bandon, 7.

In one of the best games that has ever been seen on the local grounds, Marshfield lost to Coquille yesterday by a score of 3 to 1. It took thirteen innings to decide it and every one felt that he had a run for his money.

Coquille won because they outplayed Marshfield. Several of the Marshfield players had an "off" day, both at the bat and in the field. The Coquille team did better stick work and better fielding than did Marshfield.

Gardner, Coquille's new pitcher, made a hit for himself in his first game and will doubtless be the hero of the day in the county seat town today. In thirteen innings, he struck out twenty-two men and allowed but four hits. Peralto, who caught for Coquille, held up his end of the game in good shape, holding Gardner well, doing some good base throwing and getting three hits out of five times at bat.

Thelle pitched a fairly good game. While it was not up to his previous standard, he had to work against odds, having men on the bases most of the time. He had an off day for fielding and batting. Rutledge did fairly well, especially when the condition of his hand was considered. That he held Thelle as well as he did and threw bases as well as he did surprised his friends who were aware of the handicap under which he was working.

Marshfield's one and only run was largely due to Owens' base running and was secured in the first inning. Owens was first man up and walked.

He went to second on Thelle's sacrifice, McKeown bunted and beat it out. Owens had a big lead for third and Lorenze's anxiety to head him off resulted in a wild throw. While Collier backed up Howell fairly well, Owens beat the ball to the home plate. McKeown meanwhile stole second but his efforts were in vain as Bryan and Goldie both pounded the air and retired the side.

Coquille scored their first run in the second. Howell was hit by Thelle and went to third on a hit by Collier to centerfield. Thelle started to cover the third and in endeavoring to shut Collier off at second threw wild, allowing Howell to score and leaving Collier on third. Paul and Hartley struck out.

Neither side scored again until the first half of the thirteenth. Peralto got first on Thelle's fumbling his grounder and stole second. Nevins went out on a fly to center. Peralto was caught while trying to steal home, allowing Thomas to go to first on fielder's choice. Thomas stole second and Howell landed safely on the first bag on fielder's choice, McKeown dropping the throw to third. A wild throw by Thelle to a base allowed Thomas to score. Collier got first on fielder's choice, which availed nothing, and in the melee Howell scored. Collier was caught by Rutledge while trying to steal home.

In Marshfield's half of the thirteenth, it looked for a minute as though a final rally might save the day, even after Butler and Chandler had struck out. Merchant landed for a pretty single and Owens did likewise. It was a long chance for Pitcher Thelle to tie the score or win his own game with a nice hit

First Time That Government Vessels Have Ever Done So.

TWO TORPEDO BOATS AND TWO DESTROYERS

Some of Them May Remain In Bay For a Week or so Making Repairs.

For the first time in the history of Coos Bay, vessels of the American Navy have sailed clear up the Bay and have taken on coal here. The event is considered by many to mark one of the most important eras in the development of Coos Bay as they believe it is an indication that Coos Bay will be made a coaling station in the near future and this will mean that the United States War Department will give the harbor the attendant attention which will mean extraordinary improvements within a few years.

The vessels, which arrived here Saturday night and are still in the Bay coaling and making minor repairs are the torpedo boats, Davis and Fox, and the torpedo boat destroyers Goldsborough and Rowan. They are en route south from Puget Sound and the Columbia river.

The vessels are under telegraphic instructions from the United States War Department to report at Humboldt Bay before July 4th, but as two or three of the boats have to undergo considerable repairs, it may be that they will have to remain here a week or so. The Davis and probably one other will leave not later than Wednesday morning.

Each vessel will take on about twenty-five tons of coal. They were coaled at Astoria, using Australian coal. The Australian coal was far from satisfactory and impeded their time down the coast. They had to pay $10 per ton for it and the Coos Bay coal is being put aboard at $4 per ton. The engineers declare that the Coos Bay coal is much better appearing fuel than the Australian coal but of course they will not be able to make any report on its value as a fuel to the vessels until after it has been given a trial.

If the Coos Bay coal proves satisfactory, it will probably mean that the government will rely on it for fuel for their vessels on the Northwest Pacific coast at least. With this condition, it will be necessary for them to have the bar and harbor so that all of their vessels can move with ease in and out over the bar and through the harbor at any and all times.

Hundreds of Coos Bay people visited the boats yesterday and today, both North Bend and Marshfield men showing the officers and men every courtesy possible.

Will Play Ball.

The sailors on the vessels have a baseball team and have arranged to play the North Bend team an exhibition Tuesday afternoon at 2:30. No admittance will be charged. The sailors saw North Bend play Sunday and are confident that they can defeat them.

DELAY DREDGER PLANS.

Chamber of Commerce Waiting to Hear From Large Interests.

Owing to the delay in receiving replies from the large corporations which have the greatest interests at stake in the improvement of Coos Bay bar and channel, the Chamber of Commerce's efforts to secure subscriptions for the $25,000 or $50,000 necessary to secure the dredger are held back. Nothing was done at Saturday night's meeting except to instruct Secretary Lyon and the committees in charge of the work to confer further with the large corporations.
