

"DO NOT postpone enterprises to a time to come—as though that time should be of another make from this, which is already come and is ours."
—Fuller. The author was not writing to advertisers, especially—but he gave them correct advice in striking phraseology.

YOU DON'T buy goods to please the man who sells them—or because you think it a patriotic duty to support him. You buy goods to sell. Buy advertising that will sell the goods.

TWENTY MEN CRUSHED TO DEATH

Large Building Collapses While Being Moved In Minneapolis With Fearful Results.

(By Associated Press.)
MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., June 30.—While a crew of men late this afternoon were tearing down and moving a large livery stable on Seventh street, between Hennepin and Nicollet avenues, the building suddenly collapsed burying a large number of men in the ruins.
Several dead have been removed, and it is believed that at least twenty men perished.
Most of the victims are workmen who were employed in removing the structure.
However, there were a large number of onlookers near the building and it is feared that a number of them were caught in the collapse.
A large force of firemen and police are moving the debris as rapidly as possible in order to release the men buried beneath.
All of the men recovered so far were crushed to death outright, but it is hoped that some of the others may be still alive.

FALLS FROM WINDOW TO DEATH

John Lindstrom, Former Mayor of Aberdeen, Instantly Killed by Accident at Salem Today.

(By Associated Press.)
SALEM, Ore., June 30.—John Lindstrom, former mayor of Aberdeen and a prominent shipbuilder, was killed early today by accidentally falling from the fourth story window of the Hotel Willamette. He was evidently seized with nausea while at the window to get fresh air, lost his balance and fell. He arrived last night from Portland in an automobile with J. H. Peterson, a capitalist of that city. From the nature of certain telegrams in his pockets which smacked of the possibility of his being a victim of blackmail, it was first thought that he had committed suicide.

NOME CITY TO RUN IN HERE

Big Steamship Will Temporarily Take Place of the Alliance.

Agent H. W. Skinner of the Alliance, announced today that the Nome City, the big steamship plying between Portland and San Pedro, would take the Alliance's place on the Portland-Coos Bay run for one trip or so while the Alliance is undergoing some repairs. The work on the Alliance will start as soon as she reaches Portland and unloads her cargo and the Nome City will leave Portland Saturday night for Coos Bay, reaching here early Monday morning. The Nome City is about twice as large as the Alliance. Capt. Olson, Purser Brown and Freight Agent Simpson will make the run on the Nome City in order to facilitate the business.
The repairs to the Alliance consists of the installing of a new tail-piece. The new part was ordered three months ago and had to be especially cast. There was no immediate need of it aside from the feeling on the part of the management that the present one was getting old and that they would rather make the change when convenient than to wait until they were compelled to. The new piece has just reached Portland and the company immediately decided to take care of the Coos Bay business by putting the Nome City on in place of the Alliance.
The Alliance was inspected on her last trip to Portland and passed a very satisfactory inspection as is told by a Portland paper as follows:
"Local steamboat inspectors Edwards and Fuller reinspected the steamship Alliance yesterday morning. All fire fighting apparatus was thoroughly gone over and the boats, equipment, and life preservers tested. On departing from the ship the inspectors declared her to be in first-class shape. The Alliance will sail from the Greenwich dock this evening for Coos Bay ports."
Alliance Sails Today.
The Alliance sailed at 1 o'clock today for Portland. She was crowded with passengers, being unable to accommodate all who desired to go. Among those who sailed from Coos Bay were:
Mrs. W. J. Galbraith, Alice Galbraith, John G. Nyland, W. E. Bronson, Minnie Owens, C. C. Springer, W. T. Hawley, H. H. Hertz, L. D. Heater, E. J. Masters, J. T. Stever, A. N. F. B. TICHENOR IS GIVEN A LOVING CUP

The following from the Spokane Evening Chronicle will be of interest to the many friends that F. B. Tichenor has made here by his systematic boosting of Coos Bay:
"As a token of the high esteem in which he was held and their appreciation for the exceptional work he has done in building up the order in this city, the members of Spokane camp 99, Woodmen of the World, presented General Organizer Frank B. Tichenor with a handsome solid silver loving cup at the camp meeting last evening.
"Mr. Tichenor leaves Spokane for Denver, Col., July 2. His work in this city is said to have excelled anything in the organization line that has been going on in the Pacific jurisdiction for the past several years. Spokane camp 99, under Tichenor's supervision, has increased its membership from something over 500 to nearly 1,200 during the past two years. Royal camp at Colfax, Wash., was also brought to a high standard of membership while the organizer was working in that field."
In a note to The Times, Mr. Tichenor says:
"I leave for Denver on the 2nd of July, and have a trunk full of hot stuff from Coos Bay, and your Chamber of Commerce, Mr. Kaufman has sent me a good supply and all along the route and at Denver I will let them know about Coos county."

BISHOP HENRY C. POTTER IS REPORTED TO BE NEAR DEATH

CARNIVAL IS BIG SUCCESS

Entertainment by Ladies of Episcopal Church Scores Popular Hit.

A whirl of well gowned women and a galaxy of girls were the chief component parts in the Merchants Carnival presented at the Masonic Opera House last evening before a large and representative Marshfield audience. It was one of the most pleasing and entertaining amateur affairs that has been presented to the public in many days. From the opening drill to the closing farce it was pretty and amusing. There were two drills in which the various business houses of Marshfield were represented by charming girls and beautifully costumed women appropriately attired for the different lines of trade. The representative of each business house made separate entrance, was announced by the manager, applauded by the audience and taking her place in line until the final character appeared when some very pretty evolutions were given to catchy music. The program was interspersed with individual features that were novel and entertaining.
The drill by twenty-four little girls, a symphony in white, was delightful. They marched and counter-marched making a moving picture of youthful beauty that will find a cozy corner in pleasant memories for many days.
Mrs. "Bessie" Lawlor as the Electric girl and Miss Florence Aiken as "The Huntress" were novel and entertaining features that proved popular with the audience and received generous rounds of applause.
The "Electric Swing Song" proved one of the hits of the evening. A beautifully decorated woodland swing, radiant with colored electric lights which flashed and darkened in an enchanting way, was occupied by Mrs. Montgomery who sang "Sweetheart Days," assisted by J. Owens. The arranging of this feature was by the Oregon Electric Company and was one of the prettiest and cleverest displays of the evening.
The two farces "Painless (?) Dentistry" and "The Lady Barber" gave the necessary dash of fun to make a well rounded evening's entertainment. The Ladies of the Episcopal church are to be congratulated in achieving one of the most enjoyable and successful entertainments of the season and the manager, Mr. Johnson, who arranged the drills may share in these felicitations.
The following is a complete list of the ladies participating and the business establishments which they represented:

(By Associated Press.)
COOPERSTOWN, N. Y., June 30.—Bishop Henry C. Potter, one of the most prominent church men of America, is not expected to live throughout the day.
Respiration is said to have been artificially restored at midnight but was very low at noon.
Bishop Potter is past the three score years and ten and his present illness is due to a general breaking down.
For the past quarter of a century, Bishop Potter has been the leader of the Episcopal church in America and a leader in the international affairs of that denomination. He has attracted national attention on account of his liberal views, advocating the regulated saloon instead of prohibition as a remedy for liquor troubles.

McCLELLAN IS VICTOR.

Hearst Falls to Score Victory in New York Recount.

(By Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, June 30.—Justice Lambert today directed the jury to find a verdict for Mayor McClellan in the election recount suit upholding McClellan's election. McClellan's election two years ago was contested by W. F. Hearst who claimed that he had been cheated in the count of the ballots.
In his address to the jury, Justice Lambert said that no fraud had been proved in the case by the counsel for Hearst, and "if he should permit the disfranchisement of citizens on such slight evidence, this country would last but a very short time."
