W. J. BRYAN NAMED THIRD TIME FOR THE PRESIDENCY

Nebraska Receives Nomination By Overwhelming Vote On First Ballot.

KERN OF INDIANA FOR VICE-PRESIDENT

"Dark Horse" Proves Victor In Contest For Second Place On the Ticket.

(By Associated Press.)

DENVER, Colo., July 10.—William Jennings Bryan was today nominated by a national Democratic convention the third time, for the office of president, amid scenes of frenzied enthusiasm. The result came after an all night session, the nomination being made on the first ballot, the vote standing Bryan 892½, Gov. John A. Johnson of Minnesota, 46, and Judge George Gray of Delaware 59½.

In the vote on president, the absent or not voting numbered eight. The total vote was 1,006.

The announcement of the result was the signal for a wild demonstration equalling in turbulence if not duration the record-breaking display which Wednesday afternoon greeted the first mention of Bryan's name in the convention. The vote was made unanimous and by acclamation.

The taking of the vote was with breathless interest as state after state swelled Bryan's strength. When New York was reached, Murphy's announcement, "78 voted for Bryan," brought out a burst of enthusiasm which for a time compelled the suspension of the roll call. Pennsylvania after a sharp disagreement in the delegation divided its vote.

Adjournment was taken at 1:35 o'clock this morning until 1 o'clock this afternoon, after a continuous session of eight hours. There were wild scenes as the delegates and spectators left the hall amid a resounding chorus of "Bryan, Bryan, Bryan."

Alabama the first state on the roll call yielded to Nebraska and Ignatius J. Dunn of Omaha placed in nomination the famous commoner, W. J. Bryan. Dunn's speech was an earnest one and that he had a sympathetic audience was so demonstrated by applause and as he closed his address a tremendous outburst of enthusiasm lasted upward of forty-five minutes.

The nomination of John A. Johnson by Hon. Winfield Scott Hammond also precipitated a demonstration, the Minnesota delegation being its storm center.

Judge Gray's nomination by L. T. Handy, also received vociferous applause, but the demonstrations for Johnson and Gray failed when compared with that for Bryan. The Bryan enthusiasm was kept up by numerous seconding speeches, one of which was by Senator Gearin of Oregon.

Many Conferences Held.

Owing to the terrific strain of the all night session, a majority of the delegates slept late today. There were several lightly attended conferences on the vice-presidency but nothing tangible apparently developed.

The most important of these gatherings was in the rooms of Charles Bryan, a brother of the nominee, but at its conclusion Mr. Bryan stated that so far as he knew there was no concentration on any particular candidate. He added that he was absolutely without advice of any kind from Lincoln and that he would not even venture a prediction regarding the outcome on the vice-presidential situation.

The name of Gray was frequently mentioned but there seemed to be a fear that he would not accept. Friends of John W. Kern of Indiana, are very active. Gov. Folk of Missouri, said he would not permit his name to be presented. Ex-Senator James Smith of New Jersey, expressed the opinion of a large number of delegates when he declared, "Bryan will name his running mate and he should name him. I think about the vice-presidency just as I did about the platform and that is to say that Bryan should be consulted and his wishes respected."

SECOND PLACE TO INDIANA

Former Governor Kern Nominated For Vice-President by Democrats.

(By Associated Press.)

DENVER, Colo., July 10.—Ex-Governor John W. Kern of Indiana, was this afternoon nominated for vice-president by acclamation by the National Democratic Convention. Kern had been a dark horse and when he was first brought out, no one thought that he would have any particular strength. Frequent conferences since the convention opened and especially this morning after the presidency was settled, the leaders began to pick on Kern as the most likely man to gain them votes in Illinois, Indiana and Ohio and at the same time strong with the conservative east. With Bryan at the head of the ticket, the leaders thought that the west would be satisfied.

The first ballot was made one of acclamation for Kern, the trend of the nominating speeches and the expressions from the states indicating that it was a landslide to the Indiana man.

Among the others whose names were placed in nomination were Chas. A. Towne of New York, Archibald McNeil of Connecticut, Clark Howell of Georgia, and W. G. Conrad of Montana. John Mitchell, former president of the United Mine Workers, Judge Gray of Delaware and ex-Governor Douglas of Massachusetts, refused to allow their names to go before the convention.

Slow In Gathering.

At one o'clock not one-fourth of the delegates were in their seats. The galleries were packed. The Texans have a banner ready spring with "Texas is for Gray for vice-president," and Gray's friends say they will do their best to make him accept if he is nominated.

At 1:51 p. m., the nominations for vice-president commenced. Speeches were limited to ten minutes and the call of states began at 1:35 o'clock. Alabama yielded to Indiana and at 1:56 o'clock Marshal of Indiana, named ex-Governor J. W. Kern of that state for vice-president.

At 2:05 o'clock, Indiana was cheering for Kern and South Dakota joined in. Arkansas presented no candidate but favored Kern.

Governor Thomas of Colorado, presented the name of Chas. A. Towne of New York. J. J. Walsh of Connecticut, presented the name of Archibald McNeil.

Mr. Hill of Georgia, presented the name of Clark Howell.

Governor Folk of Missouri, took the platform and seconded the nomination of Kern.

Fred. Kern of Illinois, mentioned John Mitchell's name. He said that at Mitchell's request he will not put Mitchell in nomination.

Heflin of Alabama, seconded Kern.

Kern of Illinois, seconded the nomination of Kern of Indiana. Martin J. Wade of Iowa, seconded Kern. State Senator Lee of Maryland, seconded Towne. Michigan seconded Kern. Minnesota seconded McNeil. Mississippi seconded Kern. Missouri seconded Kern. Nevada seconded Towne. New Hampshire seconded Kern. New York announced no candidate. Hildreth of North Dakota, seconded Kern. Ohio seconded Kern. Pennsylvania seconded Kern. South Dakota seconded Kern. Former Congressman Ball of Texas, seconded Kern. J. H. Tyler of Virginia, presented the name of W. G. Conrad of Montana, but the latter declined and Tyler seconded Kern.

Ex-Senator James Smith of New Jersey, expressed the opinion of a large number of delegates when he declared, "Bryan will name his running mate and he should name him. I think about the vice-presidency just as I did about the platform and that is to say that Bryan should be consulted and his wishes respected."

Connecticut withdrew the name of McNeil. Handy of Delaware, read a telegram from Judge Gray declining to

(By Associated Press.)

LINCOLN, Neb., July 10.—The following statement was made by W. J. Bryan when he received the announcement of his nomination:

"The presidency is the highest official position in the world and no one occupying it can afford to have his views on public questions biased by personal ambition. Recognizing his responsibility to God and his obligation to his countrymen, he should enter the discharge of the duties with a singleness of purpose. Believing one can best do this when he is not paining for a second term, I announce, now, as I have on former occasions, that if elected I shall not be a candidate for reelection. "This is a nomination plainly from the people and my obligation will be purely to the people. I appreciate the honor more because it came not from one person or a few persons, but from the rank and file acting freely and without compulsion."

COOS BAY TO BE MADE PORT FOR FOREIGN TRADE

DREDGE WILL BE DISCUSSED

Important Meeting of the Chamber of Commerce to be Held This Evening.

An enthusiastic session of the Marshfield Chamber of Commerce will be held this evening when it is hoped that the canvass for funds to secure the government dredge for the improving of the harbor channel can be completed and the proposal to make Coos Bay a port for European and Asiatic liners will be discussed.

Today, Secretary Lyons sent T. S. McGrath of the United Steel and Equipment Company of Portland, a detailed statement concerning the bar, harbor and dockage facilities for ships.

Andrew McClelland of Pueblo, Colo., who has long been a Coos Bay booster, will be one of the leading speakers of the evening.

A. D. Cridge of Portland, will speak on the necessity of the united action of the people of southwestern Oregon and south central Idaho to secure a railway to develop these sections.

FISH FACTORY FOR COOS BAY

E. S. Phelps, Robert Booth and Others Propose to Install Industry.

E. S. Phelps, Robert Booth and others are making an effort to start a large fish cannery and curing establishment on Coos Bay and unless something expected interferes, they expect to be ready to do so within a week or two. The capital for the industry is being subscribed by local men and about $30,000 will be invested in the business.

Mr. Phelps has been on Coos Bay for some time and was formerly engaged in the fish business on the North Pacific coast. He is considered an expert in the business.

It is understood to be their intention to deal in deep sea fish, utilizing the halibut banks fifteen or twenty miles off the coast from the mouth of the Bay and also the other varieties of fish that can be easily obtained in these waters.

If the deal goes through, a large number of fishermen who have been operating about the mouth of the Columbia river, are planning to come to Coos Bay and work for the concern.

WILL USE COOS BAY BRICK IN CHANDLER HOTEL

Contract Is Awarded to Coos Bay Brick and Stone Company After Samples Pass Test.

The Coos Bay Brick and Stone Company has been awarded the contract for the brick for the new $75,000 Chandler hotel in Marshfield. This is the first large order that has ever been given for Coos Bay brick and as it was given after samples of the brick had been subjected to severe tests, local people are highly gratified to know that the various clay or shale deposits around here are suitable for brick making.

The company has about 200,000 bricks ready to burn and will fire the kilns in a few days so that they will have the material ready as soon as the contractors can start the brick work.

CAN SECURE LOADS FOR RETURN TRIPS

Plan Will Be Great Boon to the Local Lumber Industry.

PORTLAND, July 11.—The Telegram says:

"Coos Bay ports will soon have ships along their wharves direct from the great cities of Great Britain, Germany and Belgium. Arrangements are now being made by T. S. McGrath of this city, to extend the line of sailing ships that he operates between Europe and California ports up to Coos Bay. Final action is awaiting reports from Washington bearing on the depth of water over the Coos Bay bar.

"The rapid growth of Marshfield and North Bend and the coming to life of Empire City has set local shippers to thinking, and before many months, it is thought that many cargoes of cement and iron will be landed at the Southern Oregon ports from vessels direct from the Old World. Smaller vessels of the Europe-California fleet can cross the Coos bar now, but the time will come, says Mr. McGrath, and that not far away, when the largest wind-jammers that round the corner can make Marshfield and North Bend with full cargoes.

"At the present time sailing ships that take cargoes into San Pedro, which is the seaport for Los Angeles, have to leave there empty. The ships of the McGrath line now go to Eureka for their cargoes, but this order of things is to be changed just as soon as the Coos Bayites get busy and take steps towards deepening the channel into their ports. Then Eureka will have to share with the Oregon cities in furnishing the outward cargoes for the lime-juicers.

"The line of sailing ships into San Pedro and Eureka was established about six months ago, and, in spite of the business depression that has bothered the eastern section of America a great deal and the western side of the Western Hemisphere a little bit, has done exceedingly well. Ships sail from Europe once a month, every other one leaving some port in Great Britain, while the next sails from Hamburg or Antwerp. When the new order of things comes and Coos Bay is placed on the company's map, sailings will be made every 15 to 20 days. The vessels from the continent bring cement, while those from England and Scotland have general cargoes of iron, fire bricks, coke, ale, whisky, crockery and other lines.

"Coos Bay has become such an important place that Congress cannot long keep back improvements on the bar and harbor," said Mr. McGrath this morning. "Southern Oregon is in need of a great seaport, and Coos Bay will furnish that need. The people of Marshfield, North Bend and Empire City should get together and begin active work towards getting a million dollars to deepen the entrance to the bay. If this is done, the Pacific coast will have another seaport that will bring vessels to it from all over the world, and the lands across the seas will demand Southern Oregon lumber to build up their cities and colonies. Coos Bay will be a great rival to Eureka."
