

SOCIAL SIDE OF COOS BAY

ter and a score or more of the younger set of Marshfield and North Bend enjoyed the evening immensely.

Miss Mary Minot entertained at a bon-fire and dancing at her home last evening in honor of Miss Maybelle Minto of Tacoma, Wash. About fifty-five young folks of North Bend and Marshfield enjoyed her hospitality. The home was prettily decorated in yellow, white and green. Tiger lilies, huckleberries and roses being used effectively in the flower scheme. The lawn was illuminated with Japanese lanterns, "cozy corners" here and there. Punch was served during the evening and light refreshments at the close. Mesdames Magnes, Matson, Minto and Minot were the chaperons.

A trio of Marshfield ladies leave Monday for Portland, Mrs. Fannie Hazard, Mrs. J. T. McCormac and Mrs. C. Masters. Mrs. McCormac and Mrs. Hazard go to attend the annual convention of the Degree of Honor, ladies auxiliary of the A. O. U. W. of which Mrs. McCormac is Grand Worthy Matron and Mrs. Hazard is also an officer. Mrs. Masters goes to meet her father, J. B. Strickler who is on his way from his home in Enid, Oklahoma, to Seattle on business. Fred McCormac accompanies the party as chaperon.

Last Monday, a wedding was celebrated at Roseburg in which many Coos Bay people were interested owing to the groom Peter Marsden being a former resident. Mr. Marsden is a son of Robert Marsden but for several years has been a resident of Portland where he is prominently identified with the Crane Manufacturing Company. The following from the Roseburg News will be read with interest by the many friends of the Marsden family who will unite in wishing the young couple all the success and joy that life can bring.

"At the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. S. A. Sanford, on Linn street, Mr. Peter Marsden of the Crane Manufacturing Company, Portland, and Miss Nellie A. Litchfield were united in the bonds of matrimony at 1:30 Baptist church, officiating, Miss p. m., Monday, July 6, Rev. E. H. Hicks of the First Baptist church, officiating. (Continued From Page 1.)

Bay and who has been an earnest booster of this section. He said that nature had done wonders for Coos Bay but that nature seldom makes cities—that cities are the creatures of the determined efforts of farseeing men and women. He pointed out how Chicago, Los Angeles, San Francisco and other great cities had been built on most unfavorable sites, and declared that if only the world could learn of the opportunities on Coos Bay, Coos Bay might truly make as its own Monte Cristo's declaration "The World is Mine." He said that wonders had been accomplished in upbuilding Coos Bay in the last sixteen months and he felt sure the future would bring even greater returns if the men and women of Coos Bay will only unite in a determined effort to realize on their wonderful opportunities.

Prospect For Railway.
A. D. Cridge of Portland delivered an interesting talk on the possibilities and necessities of building a railroad eastward from Coos Bay to tap the great undeveloped section of Oregon and the portions of Idaho being reclaimed by irrigation. He said if the people of the country to be tapped and benefitted would get together, there was little doubt but that the railroad could shortly be secured.

Dr. J. T. McCormac presided at last evening's meeting and spoke encouragingly of the prospects in introducing the various speakers. Secretary Walter Lyon also briefly reviewed the work on the dredging proposition.

F. S. Dow said that Mr. Dier's claim that the gunboats did not come to Marshfield because Marshfield had no public dock was a mistake, the reason for their not coming being that they broke their steering gear in an accident coming up the Bay to North Bend.
