

"DO NOT postpone enterprises to a time to come—as though that time should be of another make from this, which is already come and is ours."
—Fuller. The author was not writing to advertisers, especially—but he gave them correct advice in striking phraseology.

YOU DON'T buy goods to please the man who sells them—or because you think it a patriotic duty to support him. You buy goods to sell. Buy advertising that will sell the goods.

MARSHFIELD AN EASY VICTOR

Defeats North Bend by Score Of 7 to 2—Bandon Defeats Coquille.

STANDING OF THE CLUBS.

	Won	Lost	Per cent
Marshfield	5	1	833
Bandon	3	2	600
Coquille	2	3	400
North Bend	1	5	166

Marshfield was an easy victor over North Bend on the Marshfield grounds yesterday, the score being 7 to 2. The victory was even easier than the score indicates, the North Bend team being badly shot to pieces and Marshfield winning without much effort. In consequence, the game was rather listless from the spectator's standpoint, only a few plays arousing much enthusiasm. The only fan who got real pleasure out of the game was a Bandon man in the grandstand who "rooted" merely to give expression to his enthusiasm for baseball in general and not because he was interested in any player or either team. In fact, the Bandon youth's rooting, some of which was quite clever, afforded more entertainment to the grandstand than did the game.

WILL CONTEST FERRY SLIP

J. D. Campbell Says That Present Plan of Construction Infringes On Him.

D. D. Campbell, owner of the lot on the waterfront north of 'X' street, has filed a protest with the city clerk against the plans for the ferry slip, now being constructed at the end of 'X' street. L. A. Liljeqvist, Mr. Campbell's attorney, in the protest declares that the present plans of the city transgresses on Mr. Campbell's property rights. Mr. Campbell does not protest against the ferry, merely against the manner of construction.
He says that the ferry does not enter at a right angle to Front street and this results in leaving twenty-two feet of sidewalk on the south side of the slip along the Sheridan property while there is only two feet along the Campbell lot. In addition to this, he says that the lines on which the city engineer proposes to open 'X' street to the water's edge is not in conformity with the original survey when the property was laid out thirty years ago and will cut seven feet off the corner of his lot.
Unless the city council adjusts the matter at once, Mr. Campbell expects to begin injunctive proceedings.

Bryan has concluded that the jollification over his nomination shall not occur until after that of Taft. It is expected that the date will be announced after Chairman Henry D. Clayton returns from his three weeks trip to the Pacific coast.
