

WELL KNOWN COUPLE WEDS

Nuptials of Jack Davis-Miss Irene W. Vincent Surprise to Many Here.

Friends of Jack Davis, the proprietor of the Blanco cigar stand and confectionery, were surprised today by the announcement of the marriage of he and Miss Irene Winifred Vincent of Gold Hill, Ore. The nuptials were solemnized Saturday evening at the home of Mr. Davis' parents in Marshfield but only a few intimate friends and relatives were apprised of the event, it being the young couple's idea to get away on their honeymoon trip before their friends learned of the event.

The Davis home was beautifully decorated for the event, lilies, carnations, bride's roses and ferns being used effectively in the flower scheme. Miss Myrtle Vincent was the maid of honor and Royden B. Coester the groomsman. The bride was dressed in white silk trimmed in duchess lace and white lawn was worn by the bridesmaid. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. Horsfall at 8 o'clock.

Following the ceremony, a wedding supper was served and later the guests spent the evening in dancing. Several vocal solos were rendered by Ed. Vincent.

Among the guests were: Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Davis, A. L. Vincent and wife, J. C. Swanson and wife, W. H. Ashman and wife, A. P. Coon and wife, Mrs. Ada McClellan, Misses Lena Ashman and Ethel Davis and Messrs. E. A. Lundberg and Ed. Vincent.

The young couple are among the best known young people on Coos Bay and a host of friends unite in extending best wishes for their happy future. They expect to spend their honeymoon at Portland and in the Willamette Valley.

TRAVELING MAN WEDS.

E. Payson, Well-Known on Coos Bay, Married at Sacramento.

W. J. Rohner has just been apprised of the secret and unexpected marriage of E. Payson, a San Francisco traveling man who is well-known on Coos Bay. The wedding occurred about five days after Payson's last visit to Marshfield, but he did not take any of his friends here into his confidence. Payson is expected here again the latter part of the month and they are planning to do a few things to him. The Record of Chico, Cal., tells the story of the wedding as follows:

"E. Payson of San Francisco, traveling agent for the Carson Glove Company, and who comes to this city regularly once a month, quietly slipped away from his fellow-drummers Thursday night, and, accompanied by Mary Bush of this city, went to Sacramento, where they were married that evening. They returned to Chico last evening and registered at the Diamond as E. A. Payson and wife and the secret was out.

"At Sacramento the two gave their names in full as follows: Eugene Alonzo Payson, aged 36, of San Francisco, and Mary Blanche Bush, aged 26, of Santa Barbara."

DEER HUNTING SEASON OPENS

Exodus of Sportsmen For the Various "Hunter's Paradises" Begins.

The deer hunting season in Coos counties and throughout Oregon will open tomorrow and last night and today there has been an exodus of the hunters from Coos Bay for the various sections where big game is said to be easily obtained. The law limits the season's shoot to five bucks, it being a crime to kill does or fawns. The season lasts from July 15 to October 15 in Coos and Curry counties, and until November 1st, elsewhere throughout the state. In some sections of Oregon, the killing of does is permitted between September 1st and November 1st, but the killing of does or fawns is not permitted in Coos and Curry counties at any time during the year.

Game Warden Cal. Wright is keeping a careful tab on the hunters and is said to have a number of deputies throughout the county who will inform him of any violation and he proposes that the violator shall be promptly punished. All hunters are required to secure a license, a fee being charged of non-residents.

DEER HUNTERS.

J. W. Bennett, Tom Bennett, Dr. Bowers of Salt Lake City and James Polhemus left yesterday for the Gould ranch on upper Coos River from where they will go into the forest. They expect to be gone a week or more.

Frank Cameron, Dr. Hayes of this city and H. W. Lynch have gone to the upper Sixes in Curry county where Mr. Cameron has a timber claim and where deer are reported to be plentiful.

Frank Denning, Henry Weld and Walter Lawhorne and wives and Mrs. Robert Marsden, Jr., have gone to Brewster Valley, near Roseburg, to spend a couple of weeks camping and in quest of deer and fish.

W. J. Conrad and others will leave in a day or two for Curry county to spend a week.

J. T. Hall, Arthur Williams and Master Tom Patterson will leave today or tomorrow for Myrtle Point from whence they will go into the timber for a week or more.

MANY VICTIMS LAND "BUNCO"

Timber Land Locators' Work Graft on Scores and Government Will Act.

PORTLAND, July 14.—More than a dozen disconsolate, disgusted and victimized would-be timberland buyers cluttered the lobby outside the office of United States District Attorney John McCourt Thursday. Each one had been buncoed for not less than $200 and two were stung to the tune of $400.

Back of their appearance is the well-worn story of flimflammed people who desired to acquire some of Oregon's heavily timbered acres in the Willamette Valley. It is not the first time the authorities have heard the tale, and may not be the last, but McCourt and Assistant United States District Attorney Walter E. Evans are now starting the machinery of the government in motion to see if the swindlers cannot be brought to justice. J. C. Burke and O. M. Stafford are to be haled before the United States Commissioner to find what they know about making false affidavits on timber claims.

According to Mr. McCourt, the victims were taken to a fine quarter-section of timber, told this was the quarter-section they were being located on, and then were given a quarter-section many miles away to file on. By questioning various victims, Mr. Evans discovered that several were shown the same fine-looking body of timber and then located on a burn. In one or two instances, the monument had been tampered with, so that when the timber-buyer was shown the monument and witness trees, they agreed with those recorded. It is a serious matter to change the markings on the monuments, but it is difficult to obtain evidence, as a man who alters the markings is not likely to do so when there are eye-witnesses.

Within the past two months over 40 people have called on the United States District Attorney to complain. They came from Portland, Salem, Albany, Roseburg, Eugene and else-

George W. Laughlin has sold his acreage northeast of town to George W. Harrington and Mr. Laughlin expects to leave soon to find a location where he will engage in the restaurant business.

J. S. Cole of Norway, recently sold his fine span of grays to a Marshfield man for $600. He thought he was asking a fair price at the time but since he has been looking for a team to replace them is rather inclined to regret that the Marshfield man took his offer.

W. A. King returned last week from Newport where he attended the state G. A. R. encampment as delegate from the local post which was also represented by T. M. Hermann, who remained longer than Mr. King for a visit with relatives and friends. The returned delegate reports the election of J. T. Apperson of Oregon City, as department commander and that the next encampment will be held at Corvallis. Mr. King says that there is not over a half crop in the valley and that things are looking dry and brown. He was glad to get back to old Coos where there is no drouth and where vegetation is green and flourishing, with promise of a bountiful harvest. He thinks Coos county good enough for him.

Mrs. Alice Zumwalt has rented the Masterson residence building in town and will start a Hotel therein in a few days. It is a fine building.

Mr. Barkus passed through town yesterday on a visit to his family who reside on his homestead on Mussel creek. He will return to Coos Bay in a day or two.

Mr. Merrill, the mining expert, came in from Axtell's Monday on his way to San Francisco. He was busy prospecting while there, and is so well pleased with the mineral deposits and ledges he saw that he will return about August 1st with a good outfit and set men to work developing two ledges, one of which he discovered himself. He says that if such prospects as he found were in Colorado there would be a stampede to reach them. He was over much of the mountain between Elk and Sixes and believes it is a great mineral region that will not remain hidden much longer. This has always been our emphatic opinion despite our knockers who never saw the country, even with a spy glass and would not know a fissure vein if they fell over or into one.

A rumor is going around the country to the effect that the Lee Creamery would not be built, which is not true as in conversation with Aaron Wilson, one of the promoters of the creamery, informed us that the creamery will be built this summer and will be already for operation next year. The roads were in such shape that it was impossible to haul the lumber to Lee.

Monday evening, July 6th, the Library Association met at the Presbyterian church for the purpose of electing trustees. The following members were elected, Mrs. Hazard, Mrs. Belloni, Mr. Mast, Mr. Knowlton and Mr. Quick to serve for the ensuing year. Articles of incorporation were prepared by Judge Sperry and signed by the trustees Wednesday evening.

Directors Knowlton and Kerr spent Tuesday afternoon in going over the school house and determining the changes which will be made in the building before the school year begins. It was decided to build two fire escapes on the rear of the building; also to work over the furnaces and to put them in repair and to oil the floors of the different rooms.
