The policy of the Coos Bay Times will be Republican in politics, with the independence of which President Roosevelt is the leading exponent.

AN IMPORTANT IMPROVEMENT.

The new train schedule announced by the Coos Bay, Roseburg & Eastern Railroad and Navigation Company, commencing next Monday, July 20, is one of more than passing interest and importance to the Coos Bay cities and the Coquille Valley section.

A LA ROOSEVELT.

Mr. Bryan, a la Theodore Roosevelt, is out with an announcement, that if he shall be elected to the presidency in November, he will never seek re-election to the great office again.

The man who cannot match Roosevelt as man and president, will appeal in vain to the American people. Therefore, we are not surprised to see the great Nebraskan emulating him thus early in the game, says the Astorian.

Mr. Bryan can do no better than cling closely to the doctrines of the Rooseveltian era, if he really hopes to inaugurate a "Bryanic" period, and we cannot forbear the fear that even with the most ardent alignment of this sort, he is destined to meet a period of another kind: the kind that will forever fix the said "Bryanic" period at a date co-incidental with the day of election in November next.

Festival Music Charms Bees. Attracted and soothed by the music during the afternoon performance of the music festival at the Union Tabernacle a big swarm of bees settled in one of the small windows in the top of the building.

CLOSING OUT Hammocks at cost you can get these summer necessities for $1.00 to $3.40 at the Coos Bay Cash Store.

Our Coffee is the BEST on Coos Bay. So is everything else we serve. The MELROSE, near postoffice.

GOOD EVENING.

Seek your life's nourishment in your life's work. Insist that your buying or selling, or studying, or teaching, shall itself make you brave, patient, pure, and holy.

OF POST-MORTEM PRAISES.

I've noticed when a fellow dies, no matter what he's been—a saintly chap or one whose life was darkly steeped in sin—His friends forget the bitter words they spoke but yesterday.

Don't save your kisses to imprint upon my marble brow, While countless maledictions are hurled upon me now: Say just one kindly word to me while I mourn here alone.

It may be fine, when one is said, to have the folks talk so, To have the flowers come in loads from relatives, you know: It may be nice to have these things for those you leave behind.

"Let joy be unconfined," remarked the jovial one at the Millicoms. "I'm pulling the cork now," answered Goldie.

Roosters are a good deal like some Coos Bay men: a rooster never gives notice of having found a worm until after he has swallowed it.

One word with a change of one letter describes two kinds of Oregon politicians. Some of them are "crafty" and the others "grifty."

After a man has once been important and loses it he is never really modest again. He can't forget the days when he was "somebody."

A Coos Bay girl said recently that the heart was a vital piano. When told that it was an organ she said she knew it was a piano or an organ.

A Coos Bay woman's memory never fails her when she is talking about the details of different attacks of sickness.

"Somebody told him that he mustn't drink ice water during the hot weather and somebody else told him he must let alcoholic beverages alone. You know now very obstinate he is."

"Yes." "Well, he mixes the two."

When a girl goes fishing she screams so loudly when she catches a fish that everyone expects to see her land at least a whale. But it turns out to be a minnow. It is the same when a girl gets a man.

"BUD" HOLLAND IN PORTLAND

Well-Known Marshfield Bar-keeper Attracts Attention In Rose City.

The Portland Oregonian of Sunday prints the following story that will be of interest to the many acquaintances of "Bud" Holland, the Blanco bartender, who is en route to Washington Springs for his health: "An amusing incident happened the day the old corner building was removed from the site where the Meier & Frank Co., building is to be erected, at Sixth and Alder streets.

"Isn't this horrible? Was anybody inside—oh, there must have been. Can any of you fellows give me the names of the occupants? How did it happen? Why don't you get in there and rescue the injured? My, my; this is terrible!"

"Bud" Holland, for it was no other, took a hurried glance at the surroundings, muttered something under his breath and hobbled away, amid the laughs of the bystanders.

"Holland is a newspaper man from Marshfield and when he saw the tumbling house and realized that it was located in the heart of Portland, his news sense prompted him to hurry to the scene of the "disaster" and gather the facts for his home paper."
