WOMEN START
ADAMLESS EDEN

Twenty Fair Chicagoans, Piqued, Will Start Town and Bar All Men.

CHICAGO, July 16.—An Adam-less Eden—a haven in the wilds of Wyoming for all suffragettes, a place where under the trained hands of twenty fair Chicagoans a model city will rise out of the desertlike surroundings—that is what is proposed by twenty Chicago girls.

In an effort to prove to the world, and to twenty "doubting Thomases" in particular, that women can be as independent and as successful as their brothers and sweethearts, these young women students and graduates of the Arts-Crafts Institute; are preparing to go to Wyoming and establish their "Adamless colony" there.

Mrs. T. Verne Morse, President of the Arts-Crafts Institute, is to be the head of the colony. An agent is already in Wyoming looking for a site for the colony, and the women themselves are getting ready to purchase ploughs; carpenter tools, lumber and everything else needed in the building of a city.

And a few miles from where the manless colony will be founded twenty or more male students of the Institute will be working and slaving on an "Eveless" town. That is, it is to be "Eveless" at the start, but the young men have no such stern edict against the other sex as characterizes the plans of the girl students.

"Girls can be just as independent as men," said Mrs. Morse today.
"They can build a town just as well as men, and they can do it better if the men are not around. They can farm as well, they can build houses as well; in fact, they can build anything as well or better. It is to prove this that the girls are going out West to found their town. It will be a town for women only. Men will not be allowed."

Will Have a Woman Mayor.

Mrs. Morse is to go along as general adviser of the girls, and is to be the first "Mayor" of the new town.
Then with things once under way she will return to Chicago and get new recruits for the colony. Twenty girls, all unmarried, have entered enthusiastically into the plan. Of these, three girls, the Misses Rosser, Lynch and Miller, all young and pretty, are the leading spirits.

The plan was evoked recently when several young men students of the Arts-Crafts decided to go West and start a colony. Several of the girls suggested that they would like to join.

"We can get along better without women for a while," was the un-gallant response, and then the scheme to found the opposition colony arose.

"Why shouldn't it be a success?" said Mrs. Morse. "It is going to be a business proposition. Sentiment will have no part. Our girls have been taught all the useful arts. We have girls who can make good farmers, others who can build houses, others who can weave, in fact, do everything necessary to start the colony. Either Wyoming or Idaho will be chosen, in the heart of the irrigation district. My son is now looking over the ground and he will select sites for the girls and for the boys, but they are to be far distant."

Man will enter upon the scene of the new Female Utopia merely to break the ground. Then, having cleared away space sufficient for the young women to erect their houses and lay out their gardens, man will hide himself far away from the scene and allow the female activity to begin.

Bloomers Not Yet Decided On.

"Will the girls wear bloomers when they work? Will they climb ladders? Will they hold elections?
And, above all, will they get married?" were among the questions propounded to Mrs. Morse.
"I don't know," she said. "All these things are mere details. Will they be married? Maybe—later, much later. The young women can raise produce. They can have a sheep ranch just the same as the men. They can get their provisions from other towns until they are well established."

KEEP LANDS FOR PUBLIC

GOVERNMENT WILL NOT THROW
OREGON TRACTS INTO RE-SERVES IF IT RECOVERS THEM FROM THE SOUTHERN PACIFIC RAILWAY.

WASHINGTON, July 18.—Forfeiture of the Oregon & California railroad lands in Western Oregon to the United States would not be followed by their annexation to the forest reserves, if the sentiment of the House committee on public lands is a sure guide of the future policy of the government. That committee, during the last session of congress, unmistakably favored opening the lands to commercial and industrial uses. It is said on good authority that had there been any possibility of the administration's annexing the lands to the forest reserves, the public lands committee would have presented a resolution, declaring that no disposition of the lands should be made without sanction of congress.

But the president has no power to create additions to the forest reserves in Oregon. The committee had this fact investigated by B. D.
Townsend, assistant to the Attorney General in the coming suits against the railroad and individuals who purchased 1,000 acres or more from the railroad, in violation of the terms of the land grants.

Mr. Townsend was often heard to say that he was confident no attempt would be made to include the lands in forest reserves; that such disposition of the lands would be contrary to the purpose of the suits and the congressional grants and the interests of the state.

Matter Most Important.

This matter is of high importance to Western Oregon, since the government will seek, in the suits about to be brought by Mr. Townsend, the alternative reliefs of forfeiture of the lands to the government or of specific performance of the original terms of the grant, which have been ignored by the railroad for 40 years. The suits will be instituted in the United States circuit court for the District of Oregon. Mr. Townsend prepared the bills of complaint before leaving Washington and is expected to file them in Portland as soon as they can be printed.

Of the 2,000,000 acres possessed by the railroad and the 400,000 acres held by the big purchasers, fully 1,000,000 acres in and south of Lane county can be used for farming, and can support an additional population of 50,000. More than one-fourth of the 2,400,000 acres is in Douglas county, and three-fourths of it is in Lane, Douglas, Josephine and Jackson.

Some parts of the land grant area would probably be put into forest reserves, in case of forfeiture. Such would certainly be the disposition of the lands now included within the boundaries of forest reserves. Small parcels of land might also be added to forest reserves to fill out certain areas and the same disposition might be made of remote lands that are useful only for timber and that would be held long periods of time by speculators to realize their value.

Amount is Limited.

But probably not more than 200-000 acres would be disposed of that way, such at least being the temper of the house committee on public lands, which threshed out the land grant matter many weeks last winter and spring.

Involved with the railroad will be some 50 companies and persons who bought lands from the railroad in quantities of 1000 acres or more—this in violation of the 160-acre limit for purchases, and of the $2.50 per acre price limit and of the "actual settler" clause. These holders possess some 400,000 acres, the chief ones being as follows:

Booth-Kelly Lumber Company, in Lane and Linn counties, 77,000 acres.
J. and G. K. Wentworth of Chicago, in Lane, 35,000 acres.
Fred. A. Kribs, in Coos, 4000
acres.
Weyerhaeuser Lumber Company in Klamath, 15,000 acres.
Charles A. Smith, in Coos and Douglas, 20,000 acres.

W. I. Vawter, in Jackson, 2000
acres.
William M. Ladd, in Douglas, 1-280 acres.

All these holders of land will be made defendants in the government's equity suits, one important reason being that they all violated the terms of the land grants the same as did the Oregon & California railroad Company.

When informed of the foregoing dispatch last night, Mr. Townsend

SEWER PLANS ARE COMPLETE

South Marshfield Property Owners Meet Monday Night to Consider Them.

City Engineer Sandberg has completed the plans and specifications for the proposed South Marshfield sewerage system and F. S. Dow, chairman of the South Marshfield property owners, today issued a call for meeting of those interested in the project to be held at the city hall Monday night. The meeting is for the purpose of appointing a special committee to represent the property owners and go over the plans with Mr. Sandberg to make certain that the property owners are securing just the kind of a system they desire. Other matters concerning the proposed system will also come up for discussion, probably.

The proposed sewage system covers all that part of the city of Marshfield south of Mills Slough.
The plans provide for a pumping station to drain the low parts of that section of the city. The system is to empty into the Bay instead of into Mills Slough as was originally proposed. Sewage facilities for every improved lot in that section of the city will be provided and the plans made for putting in the future branch mains to the portions of the district that are not now improved but which will need sewage facilities later.

The exact cost of the system has not been determined but it will probably be in the neighborhood of $75, 000. A large number of the property owners are planning to avail themselves of the Eddy bonding act in meeting the special assessment for the sewer, thus dividing it into ten payments to be distributed over a many years.

discovered that the tank had been filled with lemonade instead of gasoline.—Baltimore News.

Turtle Meets Charles First's Fate

When one hand of Harry Shores Bristol, Pa., was seized by a snapping turtle it was necessary for him to nearly behead the turtle with a knife in the other hand before the turtle relaxed its hold.—Philadelphia Record.

corroborated the information as annexing the forfeited lands to the forest reserves. He said that he was confident the lands, if forfeited, would be opened for settlement.

As to protection of innocent purchasers—those who bought lands from the railroad for settlement—Mr. Townsend remarked that there need be no alarm on their part.
"Their titles will not be disturbed at all," he remarked. "The government will not sue them."
