EASTERN CITY PROVES REAL WILD WEST
Second of Bandits Wounded But Escapes and Third Caught.

(By Associated Press.)
BOSTON, July 23.—After three deadly battles between three desperadoes and the police and a small army of citizens, the first encounter being late Tuesday night in a bar room, the second last evening in the peaceful streets of Jamaica Plains, and the third early today in a cemetery, one of the bandits was riddled with bullets and killed, a second, believed to be wounded, escaped, and the third was taken prisoner last evening. The desperadoes who are believed to be foreigners, killed two men and wounded eleven in their flight since "shooting up" the saloon and killing Frank J. Drake.
The police searched all day yesterday and finally located the robbers in Calvary cemetery. The desperadoes opened fire, wounding several persons. They then escaped into a crowd on Washington street, keeping up fire. Later, they held up cars, wounding a number of passengers and pedestrians. They continued their flight into the Forest Hill cemetery where they shot Night Watchman Herbert E. Knox. The cemetery was surrounded by officers until day break began and they began to close in. Suddenly, a man darted from the south side of the cemetery carrying a revolver in one hand and bullets in the other. After a chase of more than a mile, the man sought refuge in a ravine but was quickly surrounded and shot to death, hundreds of bullets piercing his body.
Another man was arrested near the main gate and disarmed but there is some doubt as to the identity of the captured man. The police are searching the cemetery for the third man who left a bloody track.

NO QUORUM OF CITY COUNCIL

Members Show Up at Different Hours and Special Meeting Has to Be Abandoned

The Marshfield city council was to have held an adjourned meeting last night but it didn't. Five of the six members of the council reported at the council chambers during the evening but three were the most that were there at the same time and for the lack of a quorum, no meeting could be called.
Councilmen Sacchi, Nelson and Savage arrived shortly after 8 o'clock and sat around for three-quarters of an hour or thereabouts waiting for Mayor Straw and the others to show up. After discussing the weather, the Drain-Coos Bay railroad, E. H. Harriman and several other matters, they grew weary and sleepy and started homeward. City Attorney Farrin and City Clerk Squires were also present but Marshal Carter was not around, so President Savage of the council, had no ambassador plenipotentiary to summon another member to enable them to do business.
As the three were disappearing, Mayor Straw and Councilmen Lockhart and Flanagan appeared in sight. Councilman Nelson declared it was bedtime and that he wasn't going to attend council meetings called at such unearthly hours and so continued his way homeward.

Mayor Straw and the other city officials insist that Burns will be paid simply the contract price and no more.

Before leaving, Tuttle is alleged to have converted considerable staff into cash at North Bend. In addition to this, he secured a tent and other articles on credit, claiming that he would pay for them as soon as he received a remittance from his old home in Canada which would be about August 1.
Tuttle contracted for considerable property around Coos Bay, started a three-story building and announced his intention of erecting several cottages and was supposed to be a well-to-do contractor.
