IS POOR HAND AT SUICIDE

ILLINOIS MAN MAKES TWO FURTHER ATTEMPTS, OFFERS REWARD AND IS SWAMPED WITH LETTERS.

ST. LOUIS, July 30.—Dissatisfied with his lonely existence, Ewald Siebert, a Caseyville farmer, bought a cheap revolver and when he was in his cups aimed the weapon at his temple and pulled the trigger. He made a poor shot of it, and only inflicted a slight wound. Confidence gone in his abilities as a marksman he concluded to swallow carbolic acid. This he believed he could accomplish without any previous target practice.

Fate was against him, for he got a bottle of castor oil and that sickened him. He then announced that would will his entire possessions, valued at $60,000, to the person who would aid him in killing himself.

The story was published and then came a deluge of letters, the burden of many of them being "I love you; don't kill yourself—yet," and Siebert has been kept so busy reading them that he has had no time to think of further attempts at self-destruction.

Maids, young and old, and widows, merry and otherwise, have sent him tender messages in which they say that his sixty years would be no bar to happiness seeing that he has $1,000 for each year.

Others say they are quite sure that they could keep him from further thoughts of suicide, while still others remind him that it would be foolish to kill himself if he had no one to whom to leave his money.

"Letters? Well I should say," exclaimed Siebert when he was asked about his correspondence. "I guess this is about the busiest rural free delivery route in Illinois just now. I haven't got the letters here. Haven't got room to keep them. I sent them to my lawyer in Belleville. Get him to show them to you. There are some pretty warm ones."

"When an old man like me gets his name in the papers he might just as well go out on the front steps and wait for the letters. They'll come sure."

"I don't mind getting married. Maybe if I had had a wife a long time ago I wouldn't have done a lot of things I oughtn't have done."

Attorney Buderer, to whom Siebert turned over the letters, is busy answering them. He says that replies will be sent to all of the fair correspondents who seem to be really in earnest in their proposals to his client.

"I can't make any of the letters public at this time," he said. "It might scare the girls away. I think Mr. Siebert ought to have every possible chance to get a good wife, now that this thing is started."

LOSES HIS STEP-MOTHER BRIDE

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., July 30.—Clement W. Kirkpatrick, who married his step-mother, who is several years his senior, was greatly agitated to learn that under Massachusetts statutes the marriage is void. The clergyman who performed the ceremony will be asked to explain.

BEEES IN LETTER BOX DELAY MAIL.

NOYCHAMPTON, Mass., July 30.—A swarm of bees took possession of a letter box in East street, and for several hours defied the efforts of the post-office and police department to make a collection. Finally the letters were rescued, and back-stamped "mail late."

TOMAHAWKED IN CITY.

Poor Lo Falls a Victim to the Unsteady Advance of Civilization.

NEW YORK, July 30.—Thomas Phillips, of No. 403 East Seventy-eighth street, fell against the peaceful wooden Indian in front of Bernard Brown's cigar store, No. 1330 Second avenue, and poor Lo fell against him.

Poor Lo rolled about the street in stoical silence as Phillips stepped on his face and fractured his hatchet arm.

Phillips seized the tomahawk and was chopping Poor Lo to pieces, when some excited person told the police that murder was being done. Capt. Cooney of the East Sixty-seventh street station, with his reserves, separated the combatants and took Phillips to the station house, with the Indian as a witness. Phillips was held as a doer of "malicious mischief."

DIE SAME WAY.

Father and Son, Separated by the Ocean, Die of Identical Mishaps.

SCRANTON, Pa., July 30.—Six months ago John Burnett, a miner in England, died of blood poisoning as the result of a slight scratch by a rusty nail. His widow, with their children, arranged to come to Peckville, near here, to join her son, Geo. Burnett. Two hours before their arrival George Burnett was taken to the hospital, suffering from blood poisoning, due to a scratch, and two days later he died.

Tree Cutting for Merry Widow.

The Federation of Woman's Clubs in Fort Worth, Texas, adopted a resolution asking the Street Commissioners to trim all the trees on the streets to a height of six feet, so that the Merry Widow hats may be protected.
