

SAYS THAT EUCHRE IS BETTERR THAN A HUSBAND

Wife Told to Choose Between Them Says "That's Easy; You Can Skip."

ST. LOUIS, July 31.—If William Biehlich thought he would make his wife feel badly by running away from home, and that she would be anxious to get him back again, he was very much mistaken.

"He showed what he was when he went away and left me. Now let him stay away," said Mrs. Biehlich. "I am tired of having a man around anyway," she continued. "What good is a man anyway? Especially a man who will go away just to worry and spite me? He thought I'd be just crazy for him to come back."

"He called me up by telephone this morning, and began talking soft to me. I was too busy to talk to him. I hung up the receiver and went on with my work. I'm too busy to fool with a trifling thing like a husband."

"Ah, you'll take him back all right," a neighbor said to Mrs. Biehlich.

"Will I? You wait and see," she retorted, "I can run this business without him."

Mr. and Mrs. Bierslich have a grocery store at No. 3412 South Broadway. They have been married eighteen years, and have three sons, the eldest a sailor in the navy.

They quarrelled about her membership in a woman's euchre club. She went to the meetings twice a week, and he objected to it. He said to her while he was angry:

"You have got to give up your euchre club or give up me."

"That's easy. I'll give up you," she answered.

He took some money from the safe and disappeared. She called up the bureau of information at Union Station and told them if they saw a fat man, weighing about 275 pounds, around there to get from him the combination of their safe and then to let him go to New York or any other place.

"Huh, I don't want him back," she repeated as she wrapped up a quart of beans for a customer. "This store does a nice little business. I know how to run it. I've got it. Possession is nine points of the law, and I'm going to hang on."

"But suppose he comes back and demands to return to his home?" she was asked.

"Then we'll have a lawsuit," she answered.

FIND GAS AND OIL.

Effort to be Made at Myrtle Point to Develop Deposit.

The Coquille Sentinel has learned from reliable sources that H. B. Kerns, the civil and mining engineer who is visiting the family of G. S. Lahey, discovered gas and evidence of petroleum in the vicinity of Myrtle Point while he was on his trip to the Salmon Mountain a few weeks ago. The business men of that place are arranging to prospect for these two commodities. It has always been the rule that when the citizens take such matters in hand capital will soon come to their assistance. The prospectors who have looked for oil and gas in this country have always got in the low places and have not prospected the higher places where in most countries oil is located. We believe that if Mr. Kerns and his associates make a thorough prospect for oil they will do more to bring people to Coos county than any other agency which we may have.—Coquille Sentinel.

MILLS ARE BUSY.

Changes in Coquille Valley Lumber Industry.

COQUILLE, August 1.—Frank Flam informed the Sentinel that he was going to move the old Dean saw mill, three miles east of town, to his ranch on Bear Creek.

Chas. Evland and L. P. Maury are at Fairview this week erecting the portable sawmill which the Barker Bros. ordered for the purpose of sawing out planking for the Fairview-Coquille road, and also for other purposes.

VETERANS AND PIONEERS.

Great Preparations Being Made For Reunion at Coquille.

The Southwest Veteran Association G. A. R., which meets at this place September 2, 3 and 4 extend a cordial invitation to the Pioneer Association to join them on that occasion. Many very pleasant meetings have been had together, and it is the desire of many Pioneers and Veterans to come together as of yore.—Coquille Sentinel.

HAS GRANITE BEARD COMBED

Now That Wright's Monument Bust Looks Like Him He Waits Calmly For End.

WATERBURY, Conn., July 31.—Now that he has the whiskers on his monument brushed straight, his tomb well stocked with whiskey and cigars and a proper inscription graven on the granite, Phineas Gardner Wright, Putnam's richest and oldest bachelor, says he can contemplate the end with calmness and satisfaction.

Mr. Wright is seventy-nine years old and worth something over $200,000. This sum, he says he has accumulated by strict attention to details, not trying to know too much and consistently suspecting all women. Following out the program which has made him successful, Mr. Wright has superintended the erection of his own monument and he had inscribed thereon: "Going, but know not where." Under this is the more definite information: "Never beat by man, but by woman."

The Wright monument is the show place of the Putnam Cemetery. It is a solid granite block bearing on its top a bust of the man who is to lie under it. The bust is a faithful likeness, even to the stone whiskers now trimmed in goatee fashion. The sculptor who did the work was an irresponsible person with effeminate ideas. He parted Mr. Wright's whiskers in the middle in his original work. That made Mr. Wright angry, and he paid another sculptor $600 to brush out the stone whiskers straight. This work brought the total price up to $3,600, but Mr. Wright didn't care.

In the tomb near by Mr. Wright has placed ample supplies of whiskey and cigars.

"I don't want the boys who are burying me to feel too badly," he explained. "I want them to have a little something to keep them cheerful. Nobody can say I'm stingy." He has also engaged the Putnam Silver Cornet Band to play at his funeral. Mr. Wright's "going but know not where" has stirred up a lot of trouble, particularly among theologians, some of whom have written him abusive letters. He is still hale and hearty.

PORT ORFORD NEWS.

The German Coach horse, Markgrof, valued at $2750, and belonging to citizens of Northern Curry, died suddenly of Colic Sunday, shortly after arriving here from Euchre creek. We are told that the importer will give them another stallion of equal value, but they will have to pay $1,000 insurance. We hope the owners of Markgrof will try again, and have better luck next time.

Miss Elva McGraw, of San Francisco, and Mrs. Thos. Guerin, of Myrtle Point, came down from Myrtle Point on horseback Thursday to meet old friends, and visit scenes made sacred to them by memories of the past. Mrs. Guerin is the daughter of Jacob Tichenor, while Miss McGraw is the daughter of his sister Ellen, and both are thus granddaughters of Capt. Wm. Tichenor, the first settler of Port Orford, and one of the pioneer navigators of the coast, who ran the steamer "Sea-Gull" between Portland and San Francisco in 1851.

Items of Interest in Curry County As Told by The Tribune.

The cement foundation for the cold storage building will be 19 feet high, and about 30 inches on top on the end that faces the sea, and which will have to take the assaults of Neptune's battering rams. Twenty men have been working there this week, some drilling for blasts, some breaking rocks and bringing sand and others building up the wall while a half-dozen others are busy mixing cement. It is a busy scene and slowly but surely the costliest structure ever attempted in Curry county is rising from the seashore. May good luck smile upon the enterprise when completed equal to the pluck that created it.
