ELEGANT NEW STORE.

Perry, Montgomery & Co. Open Furniture Establishment.

The opening of the elegant new furniture store of Perry, Montgomery & Co., in Marshfield, yesterday marked another step forward by this city toward metropolitanism. The store is a beautiful one both in its exhibits of the products of the skill of the best craftsmen in America and in its artistic arrangement. This gives Coos Bay an establishment that has no superior in Oregon outside of Portland and even that metropolis cannot surpass it except in size. The stock is equal to any shown anywhere. They occupy the entire building, the second floor being given over to office furniture, rugs, floor coverings and other articles not shown in the main floor. An innovation in this section is a demonstration room where the various pieces of furniture and rug or carpet may be assembled so that a customer will get a correct idea of an apartment when completely furnished. This is only one of the many new features which this enterprising and up-to-date firm has instituted. There were many visitors on the opening day and the firm was the recipient of many congratulations on the beauty of the store coupled with many wishes for a long and successful business career on Coos Bay.

Mrs. L. M. Bliven, hair, face and scalp treatment, cream massage specialty. Phone 2141, rooms 210-213. Coos building.

Gets New Auto.—Dwight Wolcott returned on the City of Panama from a three-week visit to Portland, Tacoma and Seattle. While away, he purchased a nifty Oldsmobile runabout.

Baby Is Stricken.—The three-days-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Yodukens of Beaver Hill was buried in the Marshfield cemetery this morning. There were no funeral services, owing to the mother being quite ill.

Object to Paving.—It was stated yesterday that some of the property owners along 'A,' 'B' and 'C' streets west of Broadway are getting up a petition to object to the proposed paving of that section with bituminous rock. They claim that the cost will be too great in comparison with the value of the property. It will probably be filed with the city clerk in a day or two.

"Big Four" Take Outing.—Jake Goldie, Al. Sleep, Wm. Shoup and George Rotner left this morning for Charleston Bay where they will camp for a week or so. Just who will do the cooking had not been settled when they left here, each maintaining that he could eclipse his companions in the quest of rock oysters, clams, fish, deer and everything else sought by campers. That the "Big Four" will have an excellent time goes without saying and unless something unexpected interferes, they will probably have numerous guests from time to time.

City Council Tonight.—The Marshfield city council will meet tonight to take up a number of street improvement matters. They will also pass on the new ordinance specifying the kind of uniforms to be worn by the members of the Marshfield police force and also on the question of raising the salaries of Night Watchman Condon and Shoup from $75 to $90 per month.

MYRTLE POINT POINTERS.

Items of Interest Taken From The Enterprise.

Rev. S. E. Decker of Ashland, this state, has been visiting his parents and other relatives and friends in Myrtle Point and vicinity. At the late conference of the German Baptist Brethren, Mr. Decker was given district work covering several states. He will continue to make his home at Ashland, however.

Len Hartley, contractor on the road work at Dora, was brought to town Wednesday for surgical help, having suffered a broken jaw. In pulling stumps a stick was used to press down the cable for the sweep to pass, and this stick is what did the mischief. It flew up and hit Mr. Hartley, a stunning blow on the jaw, breaking the right side of it and knocking out three of his teeth.

O. E. Marsters is mourning the death of his dog which he declares was one of the best dogs in the country for hunting and herding. Someone poisoned him and he died in the yard at Mr. Marster's home on Catching Creek.

Mrs. John Felsner returned last week from San Francisco, where she had been visiting with her parents. She brought along a bouncing baby girl who weighed 11 pounds at birth; also her brother, Walter Pohl, came along to spend his vacation.

E. O. Carter has bought the D. D. Watson residence property on South Sixth street and has taken possession of the same. Mr. Watson and his family expect to return to eastern Washington where they own property.

Dr. C. W. Endicott, a brother of the Myrtle Point dentist, has rented office rooms at Coquille and will practice dentistry there. His quarters will be in the old O. K. creamery building which has been moved to Front street, and remodeled.

Ed. Allen, formerly engaged in the cattle business here, but lately in the livery business at Portland, has sold out in the Oregon metropolis and is here renewing old acquaintances and looking over the country. He may decide to locate here again.

Mrs. J. Hendricks and Mrs. Amber, who have been guests at the J. R. Benson home for several weeks, left yesterday morning by private conveyance for Roseburg. On their way home to Philadelphia they will visit at Chicago and in Indiana, expecting to reach home by the first of September.

George Bryant has the contract for hauling the lumber that has been stacked up at the foot of Maple street for a year, to the home of Thos. Hayes of Rural who expects to build a fine residence on his ranch. It takes two days to make one trip and but a thousand feet of lumber can be hauled at a load.

NORTH BEND NEWS

Mrs. John Snyder of Marshfield, spent Sunday with her brother, E. E. Hayes of North Bend.

Mrs. W. Vaughan and son are spending the day with friends up Coos River and in Coquille.

The Old North Bend Mill will start up in the morning after being shut down a few days to make repairs.

Miss Nellie Doyle, who has been teaching school in Portland, will leave North Bend today to visit relatives in Port Orford.

Miss Lillian McCann, who has spent the last two weeks with her sister, Mrs. E. R. Hodson of Coos River, returned home today.

The workmen on the sewer construction are having a great deal of difficulty as they have to go down twenty-seven feet on Sherman avenue, as that part of the street is so much higher than the other streets. They are tunneling part of the work.

Lee Ackerman of Portland and Miss Myrtle Parker of North Bend, were quietly married at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Parker, here. The event was a surprise to friends here and the news of the marriage has just leaked out although the event was solemnized July 28. The young couple left immediately for Portland where they will reside.

White House Store.—Mrs. A. J. Davis of North Bend, left on the steamer Panama for Portland to purchase a large stock of fall goods in the latest styles, which will be placed on display. Mrs. Davis will return home in about two weeks. She will be pleased to meet you and show our new line of goods and convince you that our goods and prices are right.

Mrs. Guy Warner at Coquille. Mr. Warner recently moved to Marshfield to take a position in the Lockhart grocery. Mrs. Hoyt and party will make the journey home overland.

EDITOR H. J. CRIPPEN of the Coquille Sentinel was on Coos Bay today calling on friends and looking after business matters. He says that Coquille is feeling jubilant over the victory over North Bend Sunday as well as the defeat of Marshfield by Bandon. The defeat of Marshfield results in Coquille and Marshfield tying for first place and the Coquille aggregation claim they are certain of winning the pennant.
