Gus Schoenbeck Turns From Child to Face Death.

(By Associated Press.)
CHICAGO, Ill., Aug. 7.—Gus Schoenbeck, a foundry foreman, lost $750 playing poker last evening. Upon entering his home penniless, his little daughter asked him for a penny to buy candy. Without saying a word, Schoenbeck stepped into the adjoining room and sent a bullet crashing into his body.

Schoenbeck had been known as a fiend for poker and always had been considered lucky until recently when he has had a losing streak. All his gains were lost and finally the bank account went.

He did not have even a copper in his pocket and the inability to grant the baby's request, coupled with his general remorse, was too much.

There is no hope for his recovery.

(By Associated Press.)
AUCKLAND, New Zealand, Aug. 7.—With the fleet three hundred and sixty miles off, this city is taking on a gala appearance. Parliament has adjourned for two weeks that the members might devote themselves to entertain the visitors.

It is explained that the Maoris are in no way enthusiastic over the visit of the American fleet because of the attitude of Americans on the yellow race line.

A wireless message from the fleet to the Supply ship at Cuiques states that the fleet yesterday encountered the heaviest weather since leaving Hampton Roads. The ships pitched heavy and spars were knocked down, but the vessels kept their formation distance easily.

THREE KILLED AND MANY INJURED IN ARKANSAS WRECK

REV. THURSTON LEAVES HERE

Pastor of First Baptist Church Resigns to Go to Charge at Vancouver.

The Rev. D. W. Thurston for the past three years pastor of the First Baptist church of Marshfield, announced his resignation to his congregation at a prayer meeting last night. The announcement came as a surprise as the congregation had recently extended a call to him to remain another year and he had practically agreed to accept.

His retirement from the local pulpit is the result of an offer from the First Baptist church of Vancouver, to become a candidate for that charge in the larger field. He will leave for Vancouver Saturday and will occupy the pulpit there a week from Sunday. Although the details are not closed, it is practically certain that he will be given the Vancouver charge, this having been made plain to him before he agreed to give up the pastorate here.

Rev. Thurston has had charge of the local Baptist church for three years and has been quite successful in his work here. In addition to his duties as pastor, he has been an active Prohibition worker and also active in charity work. His decision to leave Marshfield will be greatly regretted by his friends here.

Capt. R. Schmehl of North Bend, will occupy the pulpit here Sunday and others will be called in until the congregation decides upon Rev. Thurston's successor.

Mrs. Thurston and the children will remain in Marshfield for a month or so until Mr. Thurston can arrange their new home.
