COQUILLE IS VICTOR AGAIN

Defeats Marshfield By Score of Four to Two In Twelve Innings.

Standing of the Clubs.
	Won.	Lost.
Coquille	7	3
Marshfield	6	4
Bandon	6	4
North Bend	1	9

In a twelve inning game, Marshfield lost to Coquille yesterday on the home grounds by a score of 4 to 2. The game, aside from a little vaudeville rag chewing over Umpire Washburn's decisions, was a good one. It was largely a pitcher's battle and honors were about even although Thelle had to deal with a bunch of better batters than did Gardner. Each had twenty strikeouts to his credit at the conclusion of the twelve inning. Both pitched themselves out of three or four bad holes.

According to many of the onlookers' view, the game shouldn't have gone beyond nine innings and Marshfield should have won. Both Marshfield's runs in the nine innings were due to errors, and Coquille's two runs in the nine innings were secured on questionable decisions by Umpire Washburn. Coquille's runs in the twelfth were secured by good batting and base running.

Coquille's first run was given them by Washburn who claimed that Thelle balked. Thelle made a motion to throw to third and then whirled and by two movements tossed it to first. His intention evidently was to catch the man napping on first. While a vote of the onlookers would have been that Thelle did balk, the rules prove otherwise by stipulating that a balk cannot be made to second or third. Washburn wouldn't listen to the rules and Marshfield threatened to quit. After fifteen minutes or so of rag-chewing, they finally decided to play it out in order to give the large crowd present something for their money.

Again in the eighth, Washburn gave Coquille a questionable run. Porterfield in absolute violation of the rules ran in from third to the plate with the runner, making it questionable as to whether Thomas touched the base. Rutledge fell in catching McKeown's throw but dropped on the plate.

Marshfield in the last of the sixth and seventh, largely as a result of Porterfield's errors on third. Two

New Zealand Officials Extend Warm Welcome to American Fleet.

(By Associated Press.) AUCKLAND, New Zealand, Aug. 10.—The government gave a banquet to Rear Admiral Sperry and the officers of the American battleship fleet here tonight, on a magnificent scale. Prime Minister Sir Joseph George Ward, proposed a toast to King Edward and President Roosevelt during the course of which he said, "Each is a born ruler, richly endowed with common sense, and is a great ardent lover of his country and people. Each is a peace maker. The American navy is one of the greatest and most efficient in the world. We are proud of Admiral Sperry's visit and no fleet except a British one would be so welcome."

When the commander-in-chief arose to reply to the Prime Minister's toast, he was given a tremendous ovation. LAND CASES AT ROSEBURG

Government Land Office Hears Coal Claim Contests From Near Myrtle Point.

ROSEBURG, Ore., Aug. 10.—The Roseburg Review says: "Through the United States Land Office in Roseburg, contests have been instituted by the federal government against fifteen persons who filed entry on lands in what is known as the Eden Ridge Coal Field, in township 32-1 north of the Coquille River, in Coos county. All of the fifteen entries were made under the coal land act—that is, the lands were taken up as coal claims. It is the suspicion of the government, however, that the claims are wanted primarily for the magnificent timber they contain, and not for what coal they might possess. The lands are embraced in a forest reserve, but, under the law, if they are proven to be chiefly valuable for their coal they will at once pass from the reserve into the hands of the applicants, timber and all."

"Of the fifteen persons filing the coal entries, eight reside in Coos county. They are Claus and Augusta Anderson of Coquille; Cecil and Alta Carter and S. D. Pulford of Myrtle Point, and James H. Flanagan and Herbert and Louise C. Lockhart, of Marshfield. The remaining seven applicants hail from South Bend, Wash., headed by Arthur Hammond, an official of the International Bank of that city. His associates are O. D. and S. M. Reeves, and K. Daniel Ell and Joseph Pearson."

Novel Divorce Secured.

"The cases of the two Andersons were heard in the Roseburg Land Office last week, but a decision will not be rendered for several days yet. It is reported that the Andersons divorced as husband and wife, continue to occupy a homestead together, the sole object of their legal separation, it is alleged, being to enable the woman to extend her land entry rights."

"Depositions in the cases of the other six Coos county people were taken at Marshfield last week preparatory to their hearings, which will open in the land office in this city Monday. At the conclusion of these hearings, the land office will take up the cases of the South Bend entrymen."

"In the hearing of these contests the government will use two expert witnesses, Prof. J. S. Diller, of the United States Geological Survey, and Prof. Day, of the University of Iowa, both of whom will testify as to the quantity and value of the coal contained in the claims involved."
