Wilhelmina Out Tomorrow.—The Wilhelmina was to have sailed today for Coquille but owing to a delay in loading the merry-go-round and some freight at Empire, she will not sail until tomorrow.

Council to Meet.—The Marshfield city council will meet Tuesday evening. The South Marshfield sewer proposition will come up again, the citizens there being anxious to have the project rushed. A number of street improvement matters will also come up.

Has Blood Poison.—Charles Merchant is suffering from a slight attack of blood poisoning in his hand. The infection is not regarded as serious yet but it is very painful and requires the member to be carried in a sling. His many friends hope for his rapid recovery.

Get More Machinery.—The Coos Bay Gas and Electric Company has received two carloads of machinery for their new electric light plant at Porter. General Manager Seymour H. Bell states that unless unexpected difficulties are encountered, the new plant will be completed in about ninety days.

Breakwater Delayed.—Owing to the Breakwater reaching here a little later Saturday than expected and the time required to unload and load freight, she did not get out for Portland until yesterday. Capt. Magenn will try and make the lost time during the trip and get out of here on schedule time next Saturday.

Get Car of Melons.—The Breakwater brought in a carload of water-melons from San Francisco for Pettijohn & Nicols. It is declared to be the first full carload of melons that has ever been brought in here at one time. As melons have reached the low water mark of the season, the entire carload has already been disposed of.

Personal Notes

RUSS TOWER, George Sheridan and James Polhemus are down from South Coos River where they have been enjoying an outing.

KARL KAUFMAN of San Francisco, is spending a few weeks vacation at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. I. S. Kaufman.

C. J. TIBBETTS has moved here from Sumner and will occupy the D. L. Rood residence until the return of Mr. and Mrs. Rood from their New York trip in September.

MISSES GRACE and Minnie Sheridan and Anne Flanagan are down from "Rock Ledge," the C. F. McCullum summer home on South Coos River, where they have been spending several weeks.

MISS STELLA O'CONNELL is down from the O'Connell summer home on South Coos River. They are planning to close "The Maze" for the season Wednesday and reoccupy their home in Marshfield.

BENNETT SWANTON arrived home on the Alliance from London and Ireland where he has been attending the International Episcopal Convention and visiting his old home, respectively. He had a delightful trip but Coos Bay looked mighty good to him.

MRS. S. A. YOAKAM returned yesterday from a trip to Tillamook, Salem, Portland and other northern points on business connected with the dairy exhibit at the coming state fair at Salem. She started in today to arrange for the dairy exhibits at the Second Southern Oregon District Fair here.

THE REV. FATHER E. DONNELLY, who has been in New York and other eastern points, has written that he will not return quite as soon as expected. He will reach Portland the latter part of this week and remain there for the annual retreat of the priest of this diocese which opens next Monday. He will be here a week from Sunday, probably.

A. T. HAINES returned today from Portland where he arranged for supplies for a flour and feed business which he will open in a few days in his new building on South Broadway. Mr. Haines was engaged in the fuel and feed business in Oklahoma before coming here and the experience gained there will enable him to make a marked success of it here.

E. W. KAMMERER returned today from a short outing in Curry county. J. Doyle and W. Morrow, who accompanied him remained to secure a few more deer. They had killed one before Mr. Kammerer left. On the trip, Mr. Kammerer had a nice, long walk that wasn't scheduled. He thought to start out from Eckley for Myrtle Point and ride when the stage overtook him. However, he walked the twenty-five miles without the stage appearing in sight and now he is thinking of entering the long distance pedestrian contest.

PIONEER IS DEAD.

Enoch Wimberly, Noted Old Timer of Southern Oregon, Passes Away.
ROSEBURG, Ore., Aug. 10.—Enoch Wimberly, one of the most prominent pioneers of southwestern Oregon, is dead at his home here. He is the father of L. Wimberly, editor of the Roseburg Review. He was born April 16, 1830, in Warren county, Missouri and came to Douglas county in 1854. Mr. Wimberly located on a government land claim near Glide. Early in the year 1856 he again enlisted as a United States volunteer in the wars with the Indians of Southern Oregon, in progress at that time. On September 3, 1857, he married Miss Nancy A. Marks, who had come to Oregon from Illinois, with her mother four years previous, and who now survives him, she being at this time past 70 years of age. Their golden wedding anniversary last September was rendered less enjoyable by Mr. Wimberly's illness, he then having been in failing health for nearly two years.

REMARKABLE HAY HARVEST IN OREGON

Mother Hay Gets busy While Farmer Hay Cuts Hay.
ALBANY, Ore., Aug. 10.—While James Hay of Selo, was finishing the harvest of his hay crop, there was born unto his wife three little bundles of Hay in the shape of triplets. The new harvest took place in the morning between 7 and 9. Two of the little fellows weigh six pounds, and the third tipped the scales at five and a half pounds. The mother and babes are doing finely, while the father declares the Hay harvest is wonderful.

Novel Feature Arranged For Second Southern Oregon Fair Aug. 26 to 29.

All high school students and children of the grammar schools over ten years of age, with good voices, are to be given an opportunity to see the Fair free, and furnish a very attractive feature for the exposition August 26 to 29. A large chorus is being formed and trained by Mr. Elmer A. Todd in several songs, including the new "Coos Bay Marching Song," lately composed by Mr. Todd to the poem by Mr. Francis H. Clarke.

The Marshfield young people met this afternoon at the school house, and will meet again Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the same place.

North Bend scholars will meet Wednesday, the place and time to be announced in tomorrow's paper.

In order to furnish copies of "Coos Bay," the Times will publish the music in Thursday evening's paper, and every child should be careful to secure a copy of that paper and bring it to the rehearsal.
