HEART FAILURE THEIR VERDICT

Coroner's Jury So Reports In Case of Andrew Wiklund Who Was Found Dead.

A coroner's jury late Saturday afternoon returned a verdict of heart failure in the case of Andrew Wiklund, the logger and timberman who was found dead in his room above the Castlewood saloon on Front street Saturday noon. The verdict was returned following a post mortem and the examination of several witnesses before Coroner T. J. Lewis.

The post mortem was performed by Drs. A. L. Houseworth and E. E. Straw and their report of the cause of death to Coroner Lewis was "acute alcoholism."

The vial of headache medicine found near Wiklund's bed was pronounced harmless and it was declared that it could in no way have been responsible for the death.

The coroner's jury consisted of E. O. Hall, W. E. Dungan, Jas L. Ferry, Jr., Joseph Trewella, E. R. Moore and D. W. Short.

The funeral was held this afternoon from the Swedish church, the Rev. B. F. Bengtson officiating. Wiklund was forty-five years old and a native of Finland.

The witnesses who testified at the coroner's inquest were Dr. E. E. Straw, Mrs. Phoebe Lee, John Preuss, Rev. B. F. Bengston, John Bachman, H. Finnell, Chas Selen and Alex Johnson.

Mrs. Albert Stora of Coos River, is a cousin of the deceased.

WILL ATTACK GAME LAWS

Milo Pearson of Ten Mile, to Carry Violation Conviction to Circuit Court.

As a result of his conviction in Justice C. L. Pennock's court late Saturday afternoon on the charge of running deer with dogs and killing them in violation of the law, Milo Pearson of Ten Mile, through his attorney, J. S. Coke, announced that he would carry the case into the circuit court. It is understood to be the intention of Messrs. Pearson and Coke to attack the validity of the law on two points and to knock out Mr. Pearson's conviction by having the law declared not valid.

The charges against Pearson were preferred by Deputy Game Warden Cal Wright. He introduced Steve Lapp, Jr., and Alec. Randa, both of Ten Mile, as witnesses to prove that Pearson had chased a big buck with dogs and then killed the deer in the lake. Mr. Wright also said he had at least one other witness to prove the charge but the two named were all that testified. The defense did not introduce any witnesses, merely arranging for the appeal to the circuit court.

After the verdict of guilty was pronounced, Justice Pennock announced that Pearson's fine would be $75 and costs. Pending the appeal, a bond of $200 was required.

Phil Short, the Ten Mile restaurant man accused of selling venison, has not appeared for his hearing.

COQUILLE IS VICTOR AGAIN

Notes of the Game.

Coquille now leads the Coos County League with Bandon and Marshfield tying for second place.

Marshfield plays Coquille at Coquille next Sunday and North Bend Bandon at Bandon. The following Sunday, Bandon plays Marshfield here and Coquille plays North Bend at North Bend. Only two more games remain after these, Marshfield and North Bend playing each other and Bandon and Coquille.

If the Marshfield team got in the field a little quicker, it would prevent the game dragging between innings.

Owing to the other three teams failing to put the $50 each towards the $200 prize money, Manager McKeown has pulled down his $50. He was the only one to post forfeit money.

Several changes were made in the Marshfield lineup yesterday and it worked all right. McKeown showed up well on first. A little better stick work would help Marshfield a whole lot in the final summary.

Peralto, who was picked up by Marshfield after Coquille let him out unexpectedly failed Marshfield yesterday and joined Bandon.

NORTH BEND LOSES.

Bandon Takes Slugging Game By Score of 8 to 3 Sunday.

In a regular slugging match yesterday, which incidentally brought forth some good fielding, Bandon defeated North Bend at North Bend by a score of 8 to 3. Jordan, Bandon's star pitcher, was up in the air a good share of the time and had it not been for some gilt edged support, he would have been up against it for fair. Bandon landed on McFarland pretty hard and in addition to this he failed to get fancy support when he badly needed it. Bandon secured seven singles, three doubles and a three-bagger off him, but he had six strikeouts, three being secured by burning over the third strikes on R. Myers, Jordan and Seger before they expected them. Jordan was touched up for six singles and two doubles and made three wild pitches.

The score by innings:

Bandon—									R	H	E
3	1	0	0	1	0	0	0	3	8	11	3
North Bend—
0	0	0	1	0	0	0	0	2	3	8	4

Schofield who plays second for Bandon is an old schoolmate of Pitcher McFarland and played the star game for Bandon yesterday.

A GOOD HEDGE.

How Honeysuckle Can Be Planted to Offset an Ugly View.

It may be that you are planning a new hedge this year to shut out an ugly view or intruding animals or to form a boundary line, says the Delineator. For this purpose the common honeysuckle, Lonicera grata, is worthy of consideration. A simple but strong wire fence will support it perfectly, and the roots may be set in at almost any time of the year. The vine grows rapidly, showing a disposition to take care of itself even to the extent of choking out poison ivy or other climbers that endeavor to invade its stronghold. Its habit is to grow to the top of the fence and then to droop down gracefully on either side. A close wall of green is soon formed, so close, indeed, that dogs give up the attempt to push themselves through its mass of intertwined twigs. The flowers return for a second blooming, casting always to considerable distances their soft, delicate scent.

A hedge of honeysuckle vines, moreover, is less costly than one of box or privet, and it does not require the clipping and care of the latter. Often such a hedge forms a desirable windbreak, especially for the roses of a garden. Trained over a simple framework, it makes a delightful canopy for a garden bench.

Value and Protection of Street Trees.

Municipalities have of late much awakened to the value of street trees and the advisability of protecting them, more especially since several eastern courts have placed a value of several hundred dollars on fine old specimens damaged by public service companies through their wire stringing vandals. These latter look upon all street trees as so many obstructions and place no value upon them. This is evident through the ruthless and unnecessary butchering indulged in by all linemen. That neither the public nor the abutting property owner has any rights or privileges in the matter seems to be taken for granted.

Clean Up.

The most unsightly feature of a town at present and one that may easily be removed is the vacant lot crop of weeds. Just now the weeds are going to seed and should at once be removed and burned. Not only will this improve the looks of the streets and town in general, but the destruction of this year's seed crop will materially reduce next year's weed crop upon these areas and adjoining premises. "One year's seeding makes seven years' weeding" is all the truth and none of fiction. You're next. Get busy.

"No; just a common, ordinary liar."

Couldn't Hit Her.

An Englishman was being shown Chicago by some friends who had been entertained by him in London. They couldn't interest him. He was bored at everything. Finally in desperation they took him to see a vaudeville show. The big act of the night was an "impalement" act, where a young woman stood against a board and a man threw knives at her, outlining her on the board

The Englishman watched for a few minutes. Then he yawned and said: "Well, old chaps, let's be going. Deuced bore, I call it. 'E's thrown at her 'alf a dozen times and 'asn't 'it 'er once!"

The Vizier's List.

The sultan bade his grand vizier to prepare a list of all the fools in the kingdom. In due course the vizier brought his list of fools to the palace, and, lo, at the head of the list appeared the sultan himself.

"Why, O vizier, is my name at the head of your list of fools?"

"Sun of the universe, did you not but last week commission two entire strangers—Franks they represented themselves—to purchase six motor cars for you, and did these two strangers not depart with 100,000 sequins from the royal treasury?"

"Yes. What of it?"

"They will never return," said the vizier, "and therefore on my list"—

"But suppose they do return?"

"Then, sire, I will erase your name and place theirs in its place."

A Fortunate Young Man.

President Roosevelt met a well known young writer and asked abruptly, "Do you know Spanish?"

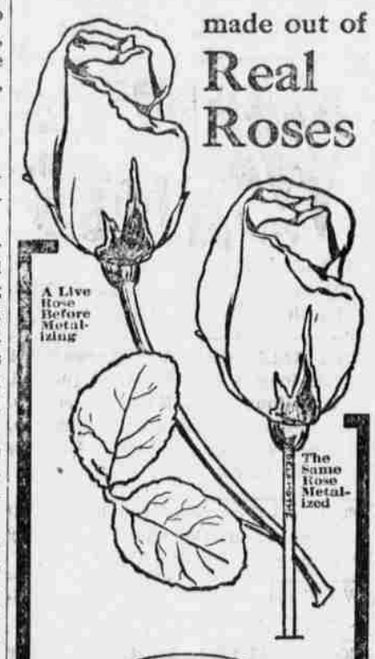
"No, Mr. President, I do not, I very much regret to say," was the reply.

"I am sorry to hear it," commented the chief magistrate, and the subject was dropped.

Deeply impressed with the idea that had he known Spanish he might have been appointed to a high office in the diplomatic corps, the young man set to work assiduously, dropping everything else, and soon acquired a proficiency in that language. He called at the White House and was cordially welcomed. In the course of conversation he said: "By the way, Mr. President, I know Spanish well. I both talk and read it with ease."

"Oh, you don't say so! Then you ought to be one of the happiest men in the world. You can read 'Don Quixote' [illegible]

Hat Pins made out of Real Roses



Real Rose Hat Pins

It does not seem possible, yet it is true, that these Hat Pins are made out of live roses, and changed into metal by a secret process. This discovery is without doubt one of the lost arts of the ancient Egyptians. They are the most beautiful of all Hat Pins. No two are alike. Made in finishes to conform to the prevailing fashions in millinery. Six sizes

Everybody is talking about them. Don't fail to come in and see them. These are the genuine DELAMOTHE Real Rose Hat Pins.
