

WANT ROOMS FOR GUESTS

Fair Association Asks Marshfield People to Aid in Caring For Visitors.

Every prospect is that there will be an unusually large attendance at the Second Southern Oregon District Fair to be held in Marshfield, August 26 to 29, inclusive. The crowds will undoubtedly overtax the regular hotel accommodations and in order to insure the safety and comfort of the visitors, it will be necessary for the private homes in the city to be utilized.

Every citizen of Marshfield who can accommodate one or more people with sleeping quarters is urged to place the rooms at the disposal of the visitors for this time. In order to do this, every household is urged to phone or send in their names to the secretary of the Chamber of Commerce with the number they can accommodate. In this way a list will be compiled and the strangers taken care of.

Mr. Albright who is aiding in arranging for the Fair and Secretary G. W. Carleton already report difficulty in securing quarters for the members of the Bandon band and their families who will be here.

Every Marshfield booster should unite in aiding in the entertainment of the visitors and see that they are properly cared for while here.

Send your name and the number of people you can furnish sleeping quarters for to the Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce at once.

Dog Attacks Child.—Considerable excitement was caused at Gold Beach last Friday by the attack of a stray dog upon the 18 months old child of Jennie Barrett. The dog bit the baby in the face, and only desisted from his attack when neighbors came to the rescue and drove the animal away and shot it. No serious results followed the encounter, though the child will bear a scar from the bite. —Wedderburn Radium.

CIVIC AWAKENINGS.

A General Cleanup is of First Consideration.

Many are the anxious inquirers who apply for information as to the first work to attack in the fight for civic beauty. The question is usually of only local significance and may be solved by those interested if they will but observe the most pressing needs of the community. As a rule, nothing will so effectually and so cheaply improve a section as the cleaning of streets, parkways and vacant lots. This accomplished, an air of general thrift and cleanliness is at once noticeable by all, whether residents or visitors. Individuals will catch the fever, and a general cleanup of private premises will still further improve the scene, says the Los Angeles Times. Some funds will be needed for the public work, and these may be obtained by starting an improvement association with a low membership fee, and the organization need not live beyond the cleanup period.

Whether the association is to be made permanent should be gauged by the interest and enthusiasm manifested by the general public. If only a few are interested the fight for permanence will prove a hard one, but if enthusiasm dominates the whole people do not rest with a simple cleanup, which is only a negative move, but engage in some permanent improvement looking to the beautifying and bettering of the whole field under consideration. Doubtless the easiest task and the one most productive of lasting results in proportion to the cost is the planting of street trees. If money is only on hand for a single block of planting, do not be discouraged, but make this block complete and orderly, and it will then not prove so hard to add thereto. At this stage of the game some enthusiastic, energetic workers will be needed to fan the feeble spark into an active flame. If you can get one street planted you can eventually and in the near future secure the adornment of all. Any community with well planted streets is well on the highway toward the goal of the city beautiful, and less difficulty will be experienced with every successive step.

Flower Bedecked Windows.

Here is an idea which could be adapted to the beautifying of towns with great advantage. The municipality of Paris offers prizes for the most attractive window decorations by using blooming plants, there being several classes in which competitors may strive—that is, single windows, whole house fronts and the fronts of mercantile establishments.

Rosy Outlook.

"His wife is learning the milliner's trade."
 "Fine. He can live in luxurious ease the rest of his life."

EXPECT BIG FAIR CROWD

woods, vegetables, etc. R. E. L. Be-dillon of the Bandon Woolen Mills promised to have a fine exhibit and that he would shut down the mill for a couple of days to allow all of the employees to take in the fair.

Mrs. Yoakam, Secretary Lyon said, was meeting with good success in arranging the dairy exhibit.

F. P. Norton said that the prospects for the races are fine and that everything on the grounds will be in readiness. The races are one of the big drawing cards of the Fair, several reporting that the farmers were especially anxious to see some good horse flesh.

G. W. Carleton said that he was certain that the attendance would exceed all expectations and the only thing he is worrying about is the ability to take care of the crowds. He said that this could be done all right providing the citizens cooperate. He urged that all private homes possible be thrown open to house guests in order that Coos Bay visitors be insured a good time. In addition to this, he proposed that tents be provided for emergency use.

The Development Congress.

Upon motion by Col. Wm. Grimes, C. J. Mills, Walter Lyon and Dr. J. T. McCormac were named as a committee on general arrangements for the Oregon-Idaho Development congress which will meet here August 24 and 25. In proposing the committee, Mr. Grimes said that he wished to correct the erroneous impression spread by a Portland paper to the effect that the congress was for the purpose of combatting the Southern Pacific. He said that the congress was called for the purpose of aiding in securing a railroad for Coos Bay and while they would encourage any and all railroads, they are particularly friendly to the Southern Pacific and Harriman interests.

Boost Coos Bay.

The principal speaker of the evening was Geo. K. Rogers of Portland, well known on Coos Bay on account of his prominent connection with the Woodmen of the World for several years. Mr. Rogers talk was an optimistic one and contained many bouquets for Coos Bay. He lauded the spirit of the people and the work that is being done to develop the country. He said that the big factor at present was publicity and in connection with this paid tribute to the work accomplished in this direction by the local press and publications. He said that they were deserving of much better support than they are now receiving at the hands of Coos Bay people. He painted a roseate picture for Coos Bay and was warmly applauded.

The Rev. H. H. Brown, who recently returned from an extended eastern trip, spoke on the necessity of Coos Bay being better advertised at San Francisco, Portland and other gateways in here. He said that when he was in San Francisco en route home, he had great difficulty in finding how to get to Coos Bay, the telephone central information bureaus and railroad offices never heard of a steamer M. F. Plant.

Hunt in Curry County.—Al. Nichols and George Wilson left here with the "Fish" last Thursday. They came in from their two weeks' hunting trip the evening before. The remainder of the party, consisting of Roy Rozelle and family, and Mr. Nichols' family, left the river at the ferry and drove back to Empire. The party had satisfactory success in their hunting, and bagged ten deer. —Wedderburn Radium.

English Etchings.

There are about 13,000 square miles of coal fields in the United Kingdom. At a church near Ledbury, England, a sermon is preached once a year against dueling.

A little girl who makes her living selling matches returned checks she found amounting to £22 and got 5 shillings reward.

The Society For the Protection of Children in England against the cruelty of parents and others receives now 40,000 complaints a year.

An attempt to inflate the price of butter in England lasted only a few weeks in consequence of the decreased demand. The retail dealers induced customers to buy margarin by giving free samples, and many liked these better than the butter.

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy Would Have Saved Him $100.00.

"In 1902 I had a very severe attack of diarrhoea," says R. N. Farrar of Cat Island, La. "For several weeks I was unable to do anything. On March 18, 1907, I had a similar attack, and took Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy which gave me prompt relief. I consider it one of the best medicines of its kind in the world, and had I used it in 1902 believe it would have saved me a hundred dollar doctor's bill." For sale by JOHN PREUSS.
