ANGER SHORTENS LIFE.

Every time you give way to impatience or anger you shorten your life by a calculable portion of time. The next time you get angry just study yourself during the reactionary period. You will notice that you are very depressed and sad, that your blood is sluggish, and that your digestion is all wrong.

THE WORLD AS IT MOVES.

Over in Trenton, N. J., William Cake is shedding his skin. Fit occupation for a spell of protracted heat. Discovering that he had only imagined his bereavement while in a state of alcoholic aberration, Mr. Bowser of Kittanning, Pa., prints a manly apology for having advertised Mrs. Bowser as a deserter.

Harry Douglas, of Washington, is arrested for whistling after dark. Is it an unnecessary noise when a man is happy? Freedom merges likewise into gloom in Boston, where the police forbid public courting after 10 o'clock in the evening.

Virginia gives us the story for what it is worth—question mark—of a newly developed, wonderfully multiplying wheat seed sold for $250,000. Presque Isle, Me., reports its farmers joyful over a green bug with a lance which goes about spearing potato bugs.

It is a dull year in national politics and not all the freight cars are busy yet. But the world does move.

BOOST COOS BAY.

Real estate men from any town in this section who try to knock any adjoining town for their own selfish interests are placing themselves in a sorry plight. Every city from the coast ranges to the ocean and from the Siuslaw to the Rogue are part of the Coos Bay country and what helps one helps all.

STANDARD OIL'S HOLDINGS.

A lawyer friend handed us the following which he stated is the description contained in a deed he had been employed to draft in favor of Standard Oil, et al, since the decision of Judge Landis has been reversed: Beginning several ages previous to the initial point of eternity and running thence in a future direction to a point many ages beyond the hereafter; thence in an imaginary direction heavenward to a mythological point in space known as the Jasper Sea, including and lying just beyond the city of golden streets; thence on a down grade to a point just outside the Pearly Gates; thence across the Stygian sea for countless areas to the place of beginning; containing heaven, hell, the universe and all the hopes, desires and aspirations of mankind, for the present, past and future, now and evermore. Amen.—Coquille Sentinel.

GOOD EVENING.

Loyalty. If you work for a man, in Heaven's name work for him. If he pays you wages that supply your bread and butter, work for him; speak well of him; stand by him and stand by the institution he represents.

ELBERT RUBBARD. We're going to the country, for some quietude and rest; We're weary of the city, with its fruitless, noisy quest; We long for leafy stillness, where the gentle breezes play— And we'll take along a phonograph to whiffle the hours away.

We have some brass band numbers that are strictly up-to-date; They're loud enough to start a street procession while you wait; We have some fine orations, with the cheering of the throng, And the great applause and laughter that attend a comic song.

There are operatic solos, with the edges rather raw, As if while reaching for high C they'd struck it with a saw; And the prize of all the package—it's particularly fine— Is a dogfight imitation that sends shivers down your spine.

And when we've turned the crank and played the old selections o'er, If we find them too familiar we can send to town for more. Yes, we're weary of the city, with its fruitless, noisy quest, And we're going to the country for some quietude and rest!

A coat of arms doesn't always hide the family skeleton.

It isn't a secret if a woman hesitates in the telling of it.

Even a drunken man doesn't care to be held up by a footpad.

You can't flatter an honest man by telling him that he is honest.

The worst thing about rich relations is the way they look down on you because you are not rich enough to look down on them.

Anyway there will probably be no Merry Widow halos in heaven.

There is still hope for the bachelor who reads the marriage notices.

A man isn't necessarily a wood sawyer because he says nothing.

Conveniences of the age include improved wigs and better false teeth.

Women frequently jump at conclusions that are anything but alarming.

Sometimes a woman cries over her inability to find something to laugh at.

It takes an optimist to get more good out of a thing than there is in it.

If a man is crazy and doesn't know it, it is because he has no wife to tell him.

A hot-headed woman and a stick of a man ought to make a good match.

A little girl hates to be kissed by a man almost as much as a big girl doesn't.

It's hard to work; but it's harder to be unable to get work when you want it.

Occasionally the world loves a lover, but more often it sympathizes with him.

When a pessimist takes unto himself a better half, his worst fears are realized.

There is nothing green about the grass widow who can rope in a rich old bachelor.

The girl who marries her ideal often gets a divorce or lives unhappily ever after.

It is surprising how near a young widow can come to proposing to a man without actually doing it.

It matters not whether a man lives well or merely exists, so long as he doesn't know the difference.

Most young men will do almost anything a young and pretty sister asks—if she is some other fellow's sister.
