BANDON WINS CLOSE GAME

Defeats Marshfield By Score of 2 to 1 in One of Best Contests of Season.

Standing of the Clubs.		Per-

Bandon	8	4	666
Marshfield	6	6	500

In one of the best games ever seen on the Marshfield grounds, Marshfield lost to Bandon yesterday by a score of two to one. It was a great game from start to finish, the superior work of Theile and Rutledge Marshfield's battery, making up partly for the better field work and batting of the Bandon aggregation. Two or three little errors gave Bandon its scores—one in the first and one in the second. Three times Marshfield almost scored runs besides its earned one and only sheer luck cheated it out of a second run in the seventh after Rutledge had earned one score.

The features of the game were Theile's pitching and the team work of Bandon. With a few better batters to bring in scores at critical points, Marshfield would have won easily over Bandon. But Bandon has a good team, presenting a rattling good lineup yesterday and Marshfield's showing was better than had been expected, considering the recent numerous changes the team.

McKeown had to take first yesterday and two errors of his, with a question to whether a third fumble was an error, contributed much toward Bandon's scoring.

Bets Declared Off.
Jake Goldie umpired the game and while there was more or less protesting, the unbiased fans were well pleased with his work. Owing to there being intimations that friends of Mr. Goldie had bet heavily on the game; Goldie, before the game started, announced that all bets should be declared off. This announcement was satisfactory to Manager Bedillion.

Marshfield's only score was secured by Rutledge in the seventh. He landed a safe one over second and stole second. Theile hit for a nice single and Rutledge came in. Later Theile was caught on a fake play by Oswill while trying to steal home.

In the fifth, Marshfield almost scored but Jordan with gilt edge support got himself out of a bad hole. Luck Cut Off Score.
In the seventh, Marshfield lost a score by sheer luck. With two men out, Butler reached second. Cowan followed with a pretty single over first base. Butler tried to come home on it and nearly succeeded. A. Meyers threw short of the plate to cut him and off and Oswill ran out to meet it. He didn't quite reach it and the ball bounced over his head into the hands of Jordan who was guarding the plate and he caught Butler.

It was a rattling good game, all through, and while there was considerable rag chewing, it was taken good naturedly. Manager R. E. L. Bedillion of Bandon showed that he was a genuine sport by going out and boldly carrying his catcher back behind the plate after Oswill had wasted several minutes in a questionable protest. Bedillion was roundly applauded.

California Baseball Team Plans Northern Trip.

Herald says: "The champion Ferndale team of the Northern California baseball league is planning a trip to Marshfield, Oregon, for a series of five games with the crack Marshfield team. The cream cityites have a corking good team and will make the Oregonians go some to win. It is said that the Ferndale bunch will take Dobbyn of Fortuna, and Merz of Eureka along for extra slab artists, and they will change with Flieder on the mound during the series."

BEDILLION GOT EXCITED.

Bandon Umpire Imposed $35 Fine On Him.

The Bandon Recorder, in its report of the North Bend-Bandon ball game at Bandon, a week ago yesterday, says:

"During the game several heated discussions took place and in the seventh inning Umpire Johnston was compelled to eject Mr. Bedillion from the diamond and impose a fine of $35 upon him for interfering with the game."

MEYERS IN TROUBLE.

Bandon First Baseman Becomes Involved In Brawl On Grounds.

A regrettable feature of the game Sunday was a brawl which was precipitated by "Skinny" Meyers, Bandon's first baseman, determination to start something. Had it not been for Marshal J. W. Carter and other fans coming to Meyer's rescue, he would have got sufficient.

During the early part of the game, Meyers courted trouble by calling the fans back of first base unprintable names. In the seventh inning, he walked over into the crowd and accused somebody of stealing his mit. A roofer named Short courteously volunteered the information that the mit was where Meyers had left it. Meyers retorted by calling Short a vile name and in an instant the latter had landed on Meyers' jaw, and before he could regain himself Short followed up with another swing that knocked him down. Then they grappled, Short falling on top and proceeding to choke and pummel him when Carter and others came to the rescue. They quickly separated the two but not until Meyers was lustily calling for someone to pull Short off. Another Bandon player rushed in and in his endeavor to help Meyers struck Marshal Carter. The latter however did not lose head and soon had the matter settled and the crowd away without even so much as using his "Billy."

All baseball fans regret occurrences of this kind on the diamond or around the field during a game and at all times do all they can to prevent it. However, Meyers' actions previous to it made most of the fans feel that he well deserved what he got and more to. In addition to his courting trouble from the crowd, he made a mean attempt to "spike" McKeown on first base prior to the difficulty and did hurt McKeown slightly. At the time, McKeown and others were tempted to give him a lesson but in the interests of clean ball, passed it up.

Meyers did not get any sympathy from most of his team or the Bandon contingent.

KIDDER'S CLAIM "PIPE DREAM"

Henry Sengstacken Gives Facts Concerning Roseburg Man's Claim to Waterfront

Concerning the endeavor of Mr. Kidder of Roseburg to file on waterfront in east Marshfield as a homestead, Henry Sengstacken, manager of the Title Guarantee and Abstract Company of this city, who has thoroughly investigated the matter characterizes Mr. Kidder's claim as a "pipe dream." Mr. Sengstacken owns part of the land on which Mr. Kidder filed at Roseburg and after his investigation believes that Mr. Kidder is a "kiddier" for fair. Concerning the matter, Mr. Sengstacken this morning gave out the following statement:

"The state of Oregon, by an act of congress enacted January 7th, 1853, acquired title to sections 16 and 36 in each township.

"That one A. J. Davis filed a donation land claim on lots 2 and 3 and W 1/2 of SE 1/4, section 36, of township 25 S R 13 west, which he later relinquished by default.

"The state of Oregon deeded all the land in section 36 township 25 S R 13 west, prior to March 16, 1883.

"That on March 15th, 1884, through Attorneys Owen and Hall of this city, the state's attention was called to the fact that the state received an insufficient amount of land in section 36, owing to the fact that Isthmus Inlet (a meandered stream) ran through the section, cutting out 130.87 acres, and the state land office used this 130.87 as a base for selection of 120 acres of lieu land in another section that attorney Owen was trying to secure for a client, and not in lieu of the donation claim of Davis which had been relinquished a long time before the state deeded the land to private parties and before the lieu land selection was made on account of deficiency on account of Isthmus Slough or Inlet.

"The land filed on by Kidder is owned by Title Guarantee and Abs-

"John Lewellen has a Late Duke cherry tree in his yard which has produced 36 gallons of fruit, not counting what the birds destroyed, and it has found a market at 35 cents a gallon, bringing in a total of $12.60. The tree is young and not very large, at that.
