"Oregon Buckskin"

Special Cut Price Clothing Sale

Suits from the famous pure wool cloth now cut in price from $15.00 and $18.00 to

$12.50

To thousands of people in Oregon the suits named "Oregon Buckskin" need no introduction. For several years the two leading woolen mills located at Brownsville and Salem have been turning out a fabric that for looks and wear has no equal. On account of the splendid wearing qualities the cloth was named "Buckskin." In making up the suits special attention was given to the linings, canvas and haircloth, even the buttons and thread had to be the best made. In all we have made a suit that if sold according to intricate value would be $20.00 or $25.00; but that is not our way. There are two weights of suits, one selling at $15.00, the other at $18.00. For this special advertising sale two hundred suits have been sent us and we have made the special price only $12.50.

The Reason For this Sale

Every sale must have a reason, ours is that we want more customers for this popular priced Woolen Mill Store. Another is that Mr. Bowman, special agent for the Brownsville and Salem Woolen Mills, and proprietor of the chain of Woolen Mill Stores in Oregon, is here taking in the fair and helping out in the store for a short time, and he is anxious to meet as many people in the store as possible during his stay.

We know of no better way to make a friend than to put one of these wool-made in Oregon—suits on his back at $12.50. After he sees it will wear from three to five years and give better service than the ordinary suit does for one, we will take chances on retaining his trade in this store.

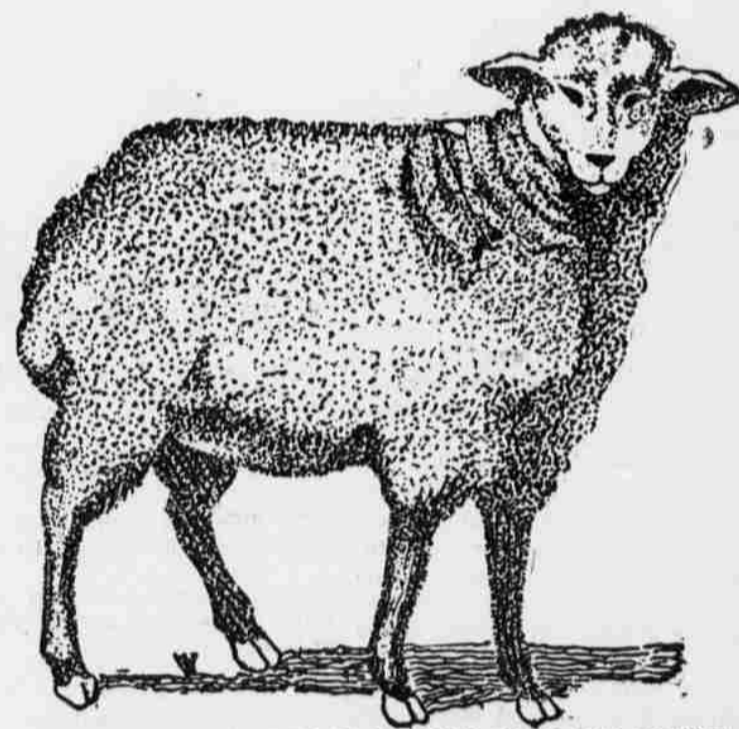

We especially want the people of Coos Bay and Coos County to have confidence in this house. No exaggeration or misrepresentation of any kind is permitted either in the store or in our ads. The truth backed up by reliable merchandise at popular prices is where we stand.

The Chamber of Commerce yesterday engaged four pages of the Daily Capital Journal during the State Fair Week next month to advertise Coos Bay on a large scale.

Each day during the State Fair that paper will be a Coos Bay edition, circulating 5000 copies a day for six days at the fair, ensuring a circulation of 30,000 copies.

Col. E. Hofer and assistants, under the direction of Capt. Lyon, will spend the rest of this week compiling the material and illustrations that are to present the advantages of Coos Bay for the investor and home seeker to the prosperous people of the Willamette Valley, who are already favorably inclined to Coos Bay.

DEMOCRATS LAUD EACH OTHER

PRAISE THE PARTY AND THE CANDIDATES AND BERATE REPUBLICANISM AT KERN'S NOTIFICATION.

(By Associated Press.)

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Aug. 25.—John Worth Kern, the Democrat candidate for vice-president, was notified formally today of his nomination. The meeting was in the elaborately decorated coliseum on the fair grounds and was attended by thousands of people, regardless of party, who were attracted by the distinguished speakers on the programme. The weather was ideal, being clear and cool. The early morning hours today were devoted to conferences of the party leaders and later a reception was held by Bryan and Kern in the Denison Hotel Parlors. Later, luncheon was served after which the official party proceeded to the fair grounds in automobiles. Bryan, Kern and Chairman Bell of the notification committee, riding together. Thomas T. Taggart, the National committeeman from Indiana, called the meeting to order and handed the gavel to Chairman Mack who introduced Theodore Bell who told Kern of his nomination to go on the ticket with Bryan. Bell reviewed the qualifications which resulted in Kern's selection and declared, "You will be able to show that the Republican party has been unfaithful to its trust, that it has violated most of the solemn commandments of the political decalogue that its service to the people has been not only impaired but destroyed by permitting its energies to become absorbed in the artificial life of the corporate creatures of their laws and at this time we must make a complete surrender to corporate misrule or redeem once for all time the heirlooms of our nation from the corporate pawnshop in which they have been hypothecated by the party in power."

Mr. Kern devoted some time to the question, "Shall the people rule?" deprecated what he claims to be the excessive power in the hands of the speaker of the House of Representatives and denied that the people had ruled because he said their will had not been given effect. He cited the demand for a reduction of the tariff on white paper and wood pulp and the failure of the Hancock tariff bill of 1902 and charged that there was lower within the Republican party determined that the people shall not rule. A power, he said, that has manifested itself whenever effort was made to check the destructive work or unlawful combinations, to reduce the tariff or to equalize the burdens by legislation. The Democratic party, he said, would draw a sharp line between lawful business, lawfully conducted and unlawful business. Thomas Marshall, the Democratic candidate for governor of Indiana, followed Kern and the program called for Bryan's speech on trusts to follow Marshall.
