TAKE RAILWAY BEFORE WINGS

M. D. Wisdom of Portland, Tells of Coos Bay's Intense Desire For Line.

PORTLAND, Or., Sept. 4.—The Portland Telegram says: "If Coos Bay people could have their choice of a railroad or a seat in the Kingdom of Heaven, they would take the railroad first and then take their chances on salvation afterwards," remarked M. D. Wisdom, this morning. Mr. Wisdom and President W. H. Wehrung, of the Oregon Commission for the Alaska-Youkon-Pacific Exposition have returned from the Coos Bay country, where they went in the interests of the Oregon exhibit at the Seattle fair, gathering up specimens of the various kinds of woods indigenous to that portion of the state. They also attended the Marshfield fair and the Southern Oregon development congress.

"There is no use talking," said Mr. Wisdom, "but a railroad line into Coos Bay would bring about the most remarkable era of development of their manifold industries down there, I believe, in the history of the state. The people there are greatly aroused because of the failure of the railroads to build into that territory, and if I am any kind of a prophet they will have a line in their own right within the next two or three years, if they have to take off their coats and build it themselves."

"Marshfield held a splendid fair and some good races, last week, and that country will be well represented in our coming stock show and races here. They expect to prepare a rattling fine exhibit for the Seattle fair, too, and were very enthusiastic over our coming down there to take up this work with them."

COQUILLE COUPLE WEDS.

Frank Burkholder and Annie M. Moon United at Portland. Mr. Frank Burkholder and Mrs. Annie M. Moon didn't deceive their many friends in this city when they journeyed to Portland and returned as husband and wife. The ceremony was performed August 26th, at 7 a. m., at the residence of W. J. Fair in the Oregon metropolis, Rev. Mr. Staub officiating, and was witnessed by only a few, including the Farrall family, who are old friends of Mr. Burkholder, the groom. Following the ceremony all sat down to an elegant wedding breakfast, and by 8:30 a. m. train the happy couple started for Roseburg, from which point they journeyed to Coquille by private conveyance.

Mr. Burkholder is one of our successful real estate men and a member of the Coquille municipal board. Mrs. Moon is a daughter of Pioneers DeWitt and wife, and grew from early girlhood in this section of Coos county, being at one time a prominent as well as popular school teacher of the Coquille country.—Coquille Herald.

STOPS ROSEBURG PAVING. Lawyers Declare That Special Bond Election Was Illegal.

ROSEBURG, Ore., Sept. 5.—All hopes of starting street paving work in Roseburg in the next few days were shattered when City Recorder Orent received written notice from Morris Bros., of Portland, stating that, upon the advice of their attorneys, Teal and Minor, they had rejected the tender of $35,000 worth of municipal bonds, issued by the city council for the purpose of defraying 50 per cent of the cost of the street paving work. Teal and Minor express the opinion that the initiative proceedings governing the special election at which the flotation of the bonds were authorized were irregular. The election will probably be held over.
