

COQUILLE MEN ARE INJURED

E. W. Gregg Sustains Severe Wound From Piece of Flying Steel.

COQUILLE, Ore., Sept. 10.—E. W. Gregg, employed at Bester's camp on Cunningham, was struck by a flying sliver of steel from a wedge or sledge which he was using. The missile struck his leg, cutting an ugly gash to the bone. He was taken to Marshfield for treatment.

F. W. Barker was in town from Johnson's mill, and walked with considerable difficulty as the result of a little mixup he had had with the planer. The box which covers some of the cog gearing had become misplaced and his pants leg was caught by the cogs and before the machine was stopped had gathered up all the loose clothing and had bitten a good sized chunk out of Barker's leg near the knee. While it was a very painful pinch, nothing more serious than the loss of time is expected.

TOO BASHFUL TO GET LICENSE, LOSES BRIDE

Hawkins, in the Thirties, Too Slow to Please Fiancee, Who Is Only Twenty.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 10.—The bashfulness of Elmer Hawkins, thirty-three years old, of West Alton, Mo., lost him a bride. His fiancee, Miss Ellen Hauff, tired of waiting until he could summon up courage enough to apply for a license, and returned home, after going to St. Charles, Mo., with him, to be married.

Elmer was to have married Miss Hauff who is twenty years old, in St. Charles, but when he couldn't muster the courage to get a license she was angered, and left Elmer waiting at St. Charles, returning to her home with her mother.

Hawkins' ardor rapidly decreased after the wedding party, consisting of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Elder, stepfather and mother of Hawkins, and Mrs. Edward Hauff, aunt of Miss Hauff, reached St. Charles.

"Let's not go to the license office yet," he said. "We'll stay over here until this afternoon and I'll buy you all a nice dinner at the hotel."

There were only mild objections to this plan.

But after dinner the bride-to-be showed signs of impatience. After more than an hour had passed she suggested that the time had arrived for the trip to the license office. "Oh, let us wait awhile," said Hawkins.

"I'll not wait any longer and I won't marry you at all," said Miss Hauff. She and her aunt left the hotel and took a car for home.

CANDIDATES IN VOTING CONTEST DOING GOOD

Many Votes Are Being Secured and Much Interest Is Being Aroused By Special Prize.

The contestants for the prizes in the Coos Bay Times Popular Voting contest are doing some good work this week, many of the leaders having enlisted their friends. While many coupon votes are being cast, the ones making the greatest gains are those securing the large number of votes that are given for new subscriptions.

The special prizes of 35,000 votes to be given away by The Times to the candidates securing the largest number of new subscriptions and payments on old subscriptions is arousing much interest and several of the candidates are working hard.

As the public schools are opening, they are beginning to organize the pupils to take hold of the contest and secure either the piano or talking machine for their institution.

NEW POSTAL RULES.

Christmas Packages For Alaska Must Be Mailed Before October 1.

If you have any friends in Alaska that you wish to send Christmas presents to, now is the time to send them, as the postoffice department has just issued an order that after October 1, nothing but first class mail will be accepted for inland points. Consequently anything in that line would have to be sent now in order to reach the distributing points for the inland. Another order from the postoffice department to local postmasters is that after October 1st letters to England can go for two cents the same as in the United States.

The steamer BREAKWATER sails for Portland SATURDAY, September 12 at 11 a. m.

BREAKWATER IN FROM PORTLAND

Steamship Brings Large Number of Passengers From Northern Port.

The Breakwater arrived in about midnight from Portland after a pleasant trip down. She had a large list of passengers and a fair cargo of freight. While it has not been definitely settled, it is not likely that the Breakwater will tow the new dredge down next week. Major McIndoe, in charge of the United States Engineering Corps at Portland, wants the dredge hauled down by a tug boat and this will probably be done.

The Breakwater will sail from Coos Bay for Portland at 11 o'clock Saturday morning and will have a large list out. Among those who came down on the Breakwater were the following:

R. H. Connery, Mrs. Reed, D. L. Reed, E. Swan, Mrs. Jussland, C. Buckman, Mrs. Buckman, E. H. Rossiter, Mrs. Rossiter, T. P. Howard, W. Neilson, Mrs. Neilson, A. Neilson, Miss Neilson, J. B. M. F. PLANT IS IN.

The M. F. Plant arrived in late yesterday from San Francisco after a fair trip. They encountered a northwest wind up, but it was not strong enough to cause very rough seas. Captain Burtis says they had the most pleasant voyage of the season down the last time. She will sail for Frisco tomorrow. Among those who came in on the Plant were:

Mrs. McKenzie, Sigrid Westerland, Mrs. J. Bigne, Mrs. Schuyler and children, Miss Hazel Rich, Mrs. R. C. Arlandson, and three children, Clay Knowlton, Owen Knowlton, R. S. Knowlton, G. McNelly, J. D. Dodge, J. Hardesty, E. J. Crawford, A. Weiner, Miss Amy Pearce, Mrs. F. R. Ham, Phil Mendelson, D. F. Bruce, W. Clayburn, J. B. Allison, Miss Susie Eickworth, Mrs. Dorsey Kreitzer, Mrs. A. B. Malthoid Roofing

R. P. Grant, a baker of Visalia, Cal., U. S. A., writes: "During the time I have used Malthoid Roofing, my bakery has been damaged by fire on four occasions, which was communicated from the outside. In none did the fire reach the interior through the roofing, although subjected to terrific heat. Through Malthoid's efficiency as a fire protector, I have been saved many thousands of dollars."
