NATIONAL REPUBLICAN TICKET

For President, WILLIAM H. TAFT. Of Ohio. For Vice President, JAMES S. SHERMAN. Of New York. Presidential Electors, J. D. Lee, of Multnomah county. F. J. Miller, of Linn County. A. C. Marsters, of Douglas county. R. R. Butler, of Gilliam county.

TELL THE TRUTH!

Mr. Taft in the course of a brief but effective address in Athens, Ohio, before an audience which included many laboring men, gave a definite reply to the assertion that he had said that "a dollar a day is enough for any man." His answer was short, sharp and right to the point. He exclaimed: "It is a lie!" That vigorous declaration puts into the mouth of the slanderer a lie upon which he may gnaw to his heart's content. It serves notice, also, that in the present campaign the liar will be dealt with as such, and not handled with the soft glove of courtesy.

There is no place in this year's campaign for the bigot, the crank or the anarchist. What is needed is an honest discussion of real issues in the light of truth and justice, in order that the people may be helped to a correct understanding of the purpose of opposing parties and opposing candidates.

The only Democratic occupant of the Presidential chair since the civil war, when confronted with a given proposition during his first campaign, gave his party counsellors this simple instruction: "Tell the truth."

Mr. Cleveland's admonition is the Republican watchword for 1908. The plain truth, clearly understood, is all that is needed to justify popular confidence in the purpose and policy of the Republican party. The party or the candidate attempting this year to trick the people by statements of half-truth, by misrepresentation or by evasion of records and issues is self-doomed to defeat and humiliation. The people are today more thoroughly informed as to national conditions and national needs than ever before. They cannot be fooled by pretenders nor betrayed by false prophets. They are the real rulers of the country, and they will measure each party seeking their favor by what it has done rather than by what it promises to do.

The Republican party will tell the truth throughout the whole campaign. It will stand fast for the candor, courage and resolute Americanism which pities a coward but hates a liar.

GOOD EVENING. Days should speak, and multitude of years should teach wisdom.—Job 32:7. CROSSING THE BAR. Sunset and evening star, And one clear call for me; And may there be no moaning of the bar When I put out to sea. But such a tide as moving seems asleep, Too full for sound and foam, When that which drew from out the boundless deep Turns again home. Twilight and evening bell, And after that the dark! And may there be no sadness of farewell When I embark. For tho' from out our bourne of time and place The flood may bear me far, I hope to see my Pilot face to face When I have crossed the bar. TENNYSON. Every man mistakes merited punishment for persecution. Introduce wisdom into a love affair, and you will break it up. There are some people that nothing improves except a slap in the mouth. The more worthless the man, the more difficult it is to satisfy him. A real, nice man is one who is as polite to a girl of 57 as to one of 17. "Why did Bink's widow feel so indignant at his funeral?" "The members of his volunteer hose company sent him a floral fire extinguisher." Of course, people can't carry their party manners into marriage, but if they could marriage would be more like a party and less like a prize fight. A man forgets all about how to make love after 10 years of matrimony, but it's wonderful how quickly he can get into practice again after his wife dies. Don't flatter yourself, because he calls every Sunday evening, that it is a sign that he's getting serious. It may only be a sign that everything else is closed. No doubt when a man puts his cheek against a girl's he always imagines that it feels as smooth as her's does, but it doesn't, unless he is a very smooth man.
