

ONLY FOUR WEEKS MORE

Times Prize Contest Closes On October 31—Time to Hustle.

There is ample evidence in the showing of the contestants last week that they are all laying plans for a coup which may be sprung at any time. The week was an unusually quiet one all along the line and the few changes in the total ballots left each contestant just in the place occupied the previous week. Remember these prizes will be given away and you should be one of the lucky ones. A little more than four weeks remain to secure the votes that will elect the winners. Every prize in the list is well worth a four weeks effort of any one to secure.

The watchful eyes of the candidates take in every move of their adversary. Not a move but the candidates adjust themselves to the circumstances. Ever since the first ballots were issued the contest has progressed at a pace that is very gratifying. Now the final play is being made and there are only a few weeks more in which to accomplish the work.

It is the all-absorbing hour—the last final effort. Who will hold the most trumps? Who will have the winning hand? Be one of them. Hurry and you may be one of the top notchers. Get in the crowd that makes a star showing at the last. Your opportunities are as great today as at any time.

NURSE CONTRACTS DIPHTHERIA OF PATIENT

Miss Anna Hunt Taken Ill As Result of Nursing Cutlip Children Who Had Disease.

Miss Anna Hunt, a well-known nurse, was taken ill of diphtheria late Saturday having contracted it while nursing the children of Mr. and Mrs. Cutlip of Coos River, who were ill of the disease. She was taken to a cottage in South Marshfield where she is being cared for.

Some of the residents of South Marshfield near the cottage where Miss Hunt is being cared for, entered a strong protest against a diphtheria patient being moved into the neighborhood. They laid the matter before Dr. E. Mingus, city health officer, but he stated today that the patient would not be moved. He said that the moving of the patient would be likely to increase the danger from contagion. He said that he had been urging the city for many months to provide a pest house where persons afflicted with contagious diseases could be cared for, but that the city council has never carried out his recommendations. Lewis Jerome Cutlip, the seven-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Cutlip, succumbed to the disease. Some of the other Cutlip children have been critically ill as has Mr. Cutlip.
