COL. HOLABIRD REACHES SAN FRANCISCO SAFELY

E. H. Harriman's Expert Writes C. J. Mills Expressing his appreciation of Treatment While On Coos Bay.

C. J. Mills, general manager of the Harriman interests on Coos Bay, has just received a letter from Col. Holabird, the expert sent here by E. H. Harriman to ascertain whether there was sufficient business to justify the immediate construction of the Drain-Coos Bay railway at once, announcing Mr. Holabird's safe arrival in San Francisco. Col. Holabird also asked Mr. Mills to express his pleasure and appreciation of the cordial treatment accorded him by Coos Bay people.

Or course, Col. Holabird did not refer to the compilation of his report or what it showed, that being solely for Mr. Harriman. However, it is believed that the report is favorable.

Unless there is an unexpected delay, a statement from Mr. Harriman or other Southern Pacific officials will probably be forthcoming within a few weeks.
