Entertains At Luncheon.—Mrs. J. E. Oren entertained a few friends at luncheon at her home today.

Heavy Rain at Ten Mile.—According to reports received here, the rainstorm the night before last was more severe north of here than on Coos Bay. Reports from Ten Mile are that the Lake had raised ten inches early yesterday.

Kills Panther.—George L. Gould has just killed his third panther this season on the ranch on upper North Coos River. When the Harriman bear hounds are sent up to the Gould ranch, it is expected that a number more varmints will be added to his list.

Nann Smith Sails.—The Nann Smith will sail late today for San Francisco with a big cargo from the C. A. Smith mill. Dr. J. T. McCormac, Mrs. A. J. French and Miss Mary Black will make the trip down on her, going aboard at Empire today.

Reopens Cafe.—Messrs. Sheehan and Burleigh, who recently purchased the Smith Cafe on Front street, near 'C' street, will open the place this evening under the name of the "Garfield Grill." Both are experienced restaurateurs and will undoubtedly make a great success of the new dining hall.

Lux Is Here.—Louis A. Lux, the Berkeley, Cal., man who was arrested by Sheriff Tyler of Curry county as an escaped inmate of the California asylum for the insane, has reached Coos Bay. Mr. Lux has a number of acquaintances here and at North Bend, former residents of California. He told them that he had been well treated by the Curry county authorities.

Makes New Record.—The Alliance made a record trip from Coos Bay to Portland this week, covering the distance in a trifle less than twenty-six hours. She crossed out from here at 4 o'clock, Tuesday and landed at her dock in Portland at 6 o'clock last night. Agent H. W. Skinner, received a wire from Agent Baumgartner at Portland today notifying him of the new record. The brisk southerly wind had much to do with the fast run made.

Life Saving Crew Helped.—The night before last, the crew of the United States Life Saving Station was called out to help take care of the barges loaded with lumber which were beached in the Lower Bay. Capt. Nicholls of the Fish, who was helping tow them says that they could have been hauled down without much trouble even against the heavy seas had the Mabel H. been able to take care of her part of the load. After the barges were beached, Capt. Nicholls called out the crew from the life-saving station, and the barges and the Fish were anchored in a safe spot.

M. F. PLANT IN FROM SAN FRANCISCO TODAY

Steamer Makes Rapid Trip As Result of Favorable Wind—Brings Many Passengers.

The M. F. Plant arrived in early today from San Francisco after one of the fastest trips up the coast in weeks. A stiff southerly wind enabled her to make good time while for several weeks she has been fighting a stiff northwest head wind. She had a good cargo of freight and a large number of passengers. Among those who came in on her were the following:

F. A. Smith, J. C. Greene, Max Acton, G. C. Schellinger, Peter Loggie, H. Alberger, F. Emery, Theodore Bradley, W. W. Holland, Geo. Mieszen Duck, A. H. Agnew, Mrs. Agnew, G. W. Radouck, J. Anderson, Mrs. Anderson, Mrs. Cassoyne and children, Jno. Abrahamson, A. Witte, J. P. Still, P. Collins, Thos Williams, Al. Morus, D. H. Rowell, M. Johnson, J. E. Wales and twenty steerage.

OREGON WOOL OUTPUT.

Not As Large As In 1907—Price Not As Good As In 1906.

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 15.—The Oregon wool season of 1908 is now drawing to a close with the purchasing of the remaining lots of the fall clip in the western and southern parts of the state. It is estimated by dealers that about 310,000 pounds of wool remain in growers' hands, of which 200,000 pounds are in eastern Oregon, 35,000 pounds in the Willamette Valley and 75,000 pounds in southern Oregon. There is a good market for these remnants now if the farmers are willing to part with them.

The total output of the state is

NORTH BEND NEWS

John Lennon has returned from a week's stay in Portland.

Mrs. O. Ohman of North Inlet, visited friends in North Bend this week.

The Presbyterian Ladies Aid Society met at the home of Mrs. Richard Coke this week.

C. C. Kennedy and son, George, of North Bend, have returned from a few weeks business trip and visit in Lane county.

B. C. Smith who is now connected with the box factory, has moved his family from old North Bend to residence near the Methodist Episcopal church.

Charles Hanson of North Bend, this season raised some of the finest peaches ever seen on the Bay. They were large, measuring almost ten inches, of a rich color and fine flavor.

Mrs. Nellie Coffelt of South Coos River, who recently went to the home of her sister in California in hopes that the change of climate would benefit her health, writes that she is not much better and that she will probably have to spend the winter in Arizona.

MODERN WOODMEN HOLD PLEASING ENTERTAINMENT

Large Number Join Lodge In Festivities At The Finnish Hall.

The entertainment given by the Modern Woodmen of America at the Finnish Hall last night was one of the most pleasant events of the lodge this season.

The evening's exercises were opened with music by the Coos Bay Orchestra, followed by a song from the Modern Woodmen Quartette, composed of Messrs. Dodge, Travers, Sumner and Doll.

Clarence S. Dodge, chairman of the meeting then introduced J. W. Simmons, state deputy of this state, who spoke for a few minutes on the objects and benefits of the society, and was followed by Hon. Geo. M. Hyland, lecturer of the society, who delivered the principal address of the evening. Mr. Hyland possesses unusual ability as a platform orator and had the closest attention of his audience throughout his address.

After the speaking, an elegant lunch was served in the banquet room, and the remainder of the evening was spent in dancing and social chat. Messrs. Hyland and Simmons have visited all the camps in Coos county, and report the best meeting in the county at Marshfield which speaks well for the local camp and its members. They expressed great surprise at the growth and progress of the Coos Bay country since their last visit here.

MERRY EVENING AT THE MILLICOMA CLUB

Initiation of Three New Members Made Occasion For An Interesting and Entertaining Social Affair.

The Millicoma Club opened its season last evening most auspiciously with a smoker and initiation. The initiation proved a successful innovation as a feature of a social evening. The debutantes of the occasion, Phil Wilbur, R. T. Durrett, and Alton Sengstacken were strikingly original coming out gowns that won much favorable comment. Mr. Wilbur's director costume being particularly admired. The entire 103 degrees (in the shade) of club membership were conferred on the novitiates under the direction of master of ceremonies John D. Goss. The ritual was keenly satirical and before its conclusion some of the seasoned veterans of the club were initiated into new views of the pastimes and purposes of the Millicoma.

There was no set program. Smoke social converse and music, all contributed to make the evening a most enjoyable and memorable one.

estimated at 18,500,000 pounds, as compared with 20,000,000 pounds shown in 1907, and 18,000,000 pounds in 1906. The value of this year's clip is approximately $2,500,000, compared with a total valuation of $3,800,000 in 1907 and $3,240,000 two years ago.

Prices paid this season ranged from 12 to 15 cents for good average to choice wool, and in some instances better than 16 cents was paid.

LADIES ATTENTION!

A demonstration of CRESCENT BAKING POWDER will be given on Friday and Saturday afternoon at the Gas Office. A dainty lunch served to all ladies attending.
