Liquid Case Affects City

Oregon Supreme Court Declines to Hear Case

MEDFORD CASE SAID TO APPLY TO MARISSHES.

BEND, ORE., Oct. 29—An anti-prohibition suit was brought in the Oregon Supreme Court when the decree of Judge H. E. Elliott of Jacksonville, enjoining the retail sale of liquor here on the ground that the city was in violation of the state law, was overruled by the court. The city was in conformity with the supreme court's decree, and Judge Elliott held that the supreme court made no change in the city of Medford.

The case is pending in the Medford court and is said to be in conflict with the Oregon supreme court decision, but that is a different matter.
