Those who regard this possible declare they have assurances from the President himself that he is not entirely adverse to the acceptance of the senatorial office under the conditions which prevail. When he steps out in March from Washington, he will be ready to answer the attacks which have been made upon in the recent presidential campaign.

Chandler, $10,000 and an annuity of $1,200; Jennie Chandler, $10,000; Ross Wright, $2000; several grandchildren of the decedent, an endowment policy for $20,000; $60,000 in trust for the use of William S. WILL TALK POLITICS.

American Federation of Labor Will Determine Future Policy.

(By Associated Press.)
DENVER, Colo., Nov. 6.—Politics will furnish the principal topic of discussion at the twenty-eighth annual convention of the American Federation of Labor. It is said by local union leaders that it is probable that the Federation, with its two million members, and with more than one million voters, will adopt a permanent political policy through an amendment to its constitution. There will be vigorous opposition to any policy looking to binding the organization to follow fixed political lines.

KAISER BACKS DOWN TODAY

Germany Ready to Accept France's Offer to Arbitrate Casa Blanca Affair.

(By Associated Press.)
PARIS, Nov. 6.—The crisis between France and Germany which arose over the arrest of the German deserters from the foreign legion of the French Army by the French authorities at Casa Blanca, was seemingly dispelled during the night. It is now apparent that Germany is ready to abandon her recent demand for the release of these men and she excuses the action of the French soldiers who are alleged to have attacked an official of the German consulate at Casa Blanca. Germany is ready to accept the proposal by France whereby with mutual expressions of regret, the entire incident may be referred to arbitration.

COL. HOLABIRD WILL PERSONALLY REPORT TO E. H. HARRIMAN SOON

Special Representative Will Leave For New York, November 13.

DECIDE FATE OF COOS BAY RAILWAY

Local People Expect Definite Announcement About Road About December 1.

Col. W. H. Holabird, the special representative of E. H. Harriman who recently investigated the Coos Bay country to ascertain whether there was sufficient business here to justify the construction of a railway from Drain here, has wired friends in Marshfield that he will leave Los Angeles, November 13, for New York where he will go over the matter with Mr. Harriman and his board of directors.

Judging from this statement, an early announcement of the decision of E. H. Harriman in regard to the construction of a railroad to Coos Bay may be expected. Col. Holabird will reach New York about November 20, and the matter will probably be decided by December 1. Since leaving Coos Bay, Col. Holabird has gone over the Tillamook project. While he has not made any statement concerning it, the understanding is that the Tillamook line does not tap as rich a country as is to be found in Coos county.

D. L. DEAN TO LEAVE PAPER

Editor and Founder of Coquille Herald Retires—Succeeded By C. O. Dryden.

COQUILLE, Ore., Nov. 6.—D. F. Dean, one of the best-known and most highly respected pioneer newspaper men of southern Oregon, retires this week as editor of the Coquille Herald which he founded about eighteen years ago and has since been continuously at the head of it. Mr. Dean will be succeeded as editor and manager by C. O. Dryden who has been connected with the paper hitherto.

Mr. Dean announces his retirement as follows:

"With this issue of the Herald the editor in chief retires for the time being, while C. O. Dryden takes charge. We have been connected with the paper since it was founded, its first appearance being on September 9, 1882, and sole proprietor and editor for the past eight years, and have been constantly at the work since the first date with the exception of two years spent in the county clerks office, which, we think entitles us to a vacation of a year at least. Mr. Dryden has spent most of his life in the office and fully understands the work which he has well in hand and we feel assured that the business will be conducted along former lines and to the satisfaction of our large number of patrons."
Concerning the future policy of the paper, Mr. Dryden says:
"With this issue of the Herald I assume management and will in the next year endeavor to give the readers and patrons a fair clean up-to-date newspaper that will merit the continuance of its already large patronage."

It is likely that the league will support F. M. Freidberg for chairman of the city caucus. C. A. Johnson was suggested as a candidate for chairman of the caucus but it is likely that he will be a candidate for councilman.

It was urged that all members of the league be in attendance at the meeting next Thursday night when the league's candidates will be named and also to be in attendance at the city caucus November 16, to support these candidates.
