

SMITH FOR HARBOR WORK

were invited to remain but they were determined to see Coos Bay. Welcome them and assist them and welcome and assist others. It will make your city. I presume that the secretary of the Chamber of Commerce is the one who is entitled in a large measure to the credit."

Mr. Smith's extemporaneous address was sort of a heart to heart talk and the audience frequently expressed its appreciation of his statements by applause.

Road to Roseburg.

Francis H. Clarke in his talk dwelt on the need of harbor improvement and also of securing railroad facilities. He said that while the harbor improvement is important, it was his opinion that a railroad is more essential just now. He said that the people of the interior of Oregon need it and Coos Bay needs it, each requiring the other's resources. He said that at the recent Oregon-Idaho Development Congress in Roseburg, the people of Roseburg and the Willamette valley had expressed their desire of securing railroad connection with Coos Bay. He said that the time was ripe for the people to take it up themselves if they could not interest some of the magnates and have them build the line.

In the harbor improvement, he urged the people to take the matter up in a business-like and systematic way with congress. He outlined the method of procedure. An essential feature of the harbor improvement work, he said, is the organization of the port of Coos Bay. He expressed the hope that the citizens of Coos Bay would be alive to the latter need, and at the coming session of the legislature see that the needed legislation to permit the organization of the port of Coos Bay is secured.

Connection With Idaho.

Capt. M. W. Hunt of Weiser, Idaho, in a brief talk urged that steps be taken to educate the people of southern Idaho and of Coos Bay of the similarity of their needs. He said that he and others of southern Idaho had heard much of Coos Bay but that he had never realized the possibilities of this section until his visit here now. He said that he was convinced that the Snake River (Southern Idaho), and Coos Bay were designed by nature to be linked together and he declared that time would soon see that the intent is fulfilled.

Urge Harbor Improvement.

Peter Loggie of North Bend, and Capt. Magenn of the Breakwater, made two of their characteristic addresses, expressing their views with which everyone on Coos Bay is familiar. Each talk teemed with the booster spirit and each was heartily applauded. Each urged the construction of a permanent and more extensive jetty on the north side of the bar as a means of improving the harbor. Capt. Magenn said that nature had provided a south Breakwater, with the exception of possibly a few hundred feet near the mouth of the bay. Each urged that the people unite an appeal to congress for the necessary government aid for Coos Bay.

PASTOR OUT ON BOND NOW

Gardiner Divine Released From Custody at Roseburg Until Wednesday.

ROSEBURG, Nov. 14.—Rev. George C. Clark, the Gardiner minister, alleged to be the Rev. Summers indicted at Throckmorton, Texas, in 1904, on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses, was arraigned before Justice Long, in this city, and placed under bonds of $500. The bonds were furnished and at midnight the minister left on the overland train for Gardiner. His examination is set for Wednesday, November 18. As counsel, he has employed Attorneys F. G. Micelli and W. W. Cardwell, of this city.

The object of the examination is to enable Governor Chamberlain to act intelligently upon the requisition to be made for the minister's extradition to Texas. It is understood that the local authorities telegraphed to Throckmorton yesterday for a person whose name is not divulged to come to Roseburg for the purpose of identifying, if true, the accused as Summers. If Clark is thus identified, Governor Chamberlain will, in all probability, honor the requisition, but if Clark is not pronounced to be the man wanted then the case will end there and there in a complete vindication which the minister announced that he would submit to The Review for publication does not appear for the reason that he neglected to prepare it before leaving for Gardiner.

A copy of the indictment returned at Throckmorton was received here yesterday, together with the affidavit on which it is based. Specifically, it accuses a Rev. Summers of borrowing $100 from another individual under the false representation that the money was needed to defray the expense of a surgical operation.

A message from Rev. Clark stated that he was taken with a hard nervous fever at Elkton and was very ill. The message did not state whether he was able to continue his journey.

THE THEATRE.

The Margaret Iles Comedy and Dramatic Company that has been playing in Marshfield and the county for the past five months, is now stronger and better than ever. New people have been engaged and will make their appearance during the week of November 30, in the popular play "Under Two Flags." Mr. Meade the manager, states that he has other business interests that will require his attention, but he will be with the company at frequent intervals, and during his absence the management will be in competent hands. The company, consisting of ten people, appear at the Odd Fellows' Hall tonight in the comedy-drama "Court Martialed" or "A Hero In Rags," with specialties between the acts.

Reserved seats, 50 cents, on sale at Lockhart & Parsons'. General admission, 35 cents.

JOE GILBERT DIED TODAY

Well-Known Empire City Pioneer Succumbs to Long Illness.

Joseph Gilbert, a resident of Coos county for more than forty years, and one of the most highly respected citizens of Empire, died there last night after a lingering illness. He was about seventy-five years old.

"Joe" Gilbert, as he was familiarly known, was a quiet unassuming fellow, bothered no one and was ever willing to lend a helping hand. While he did not make acquaintances as rapidly as some, his acquaintances always became real friends. Consequently there are many expressions of deep regret today by the older residents of Coos Bay over his death.

Mr. Gilbert, when he first came to Coos Bay, worked as a carpenter, but later took a ranch on Bear Creek. Ranch life did not exactly suit him and he gave it up and returned to Empire to work at his trade of which he was master—or in other words, a real mechanic. He was saving and thrifty and accumulated considerable.

He was a bachelor and has no near relatives in this section. He served in the army but of his past he talked but little and consequently few are familiar with his earlier years.

Many years ago, he was a candidate for sheriff but was not elected to office.

The funeral arrangements have not been completed.

WHY DO WE sell so much of Brown's Cough Balsam? Because it does what it is intended to do—cures coughs—25c and 50c, at BROWN'S PHARMACY.

A CURE FOR RHEUMATISM.

Each recurring attack of rheumatism makes the disease harder to control, but the fact that it is not in itself dangerous causes people to neglect it, awaiting a change or a settled condition of the weather for relief. It is often only after the disease has become so serious as to interfere with business that the sufferer will seek more than temporary relief. Chamberlain's Liniment is a remedy for rheumatism which any one can apply. It not only gives prompt relief from pain, but in a large majority of cases it brings about permanent results. The first application will surprise and delight you as immediate relief is almost sure to follow. For sale by JOHN PREUSS.
