TEXAS SHERIFF IDENTIFIES GARDINER PASTOR AT ROSEBURG

Declares That Rev. Clark Is Man Wanted There For Crimes.

GOES TO SALEM WITH REQUISITION

Will Take Erring Minister Back to Lone Star State For Trial.

ROSEBURG, Ore., Nov. 26.—With the testimony of J. G. Sperlock, sheriff of Throckmorton county, Texas, introduced at the preliminary examination in Justice Long's court, the state welded its last link in the chain of evidence around Rev. George Clark Summers, the Gardiner minister, who is resisting extradition to Throckton, where he is wanted on the charge of obtaining money under false pretenses. Rev. M. C. Wire, of Eugene, district superintendent of the Methodist Episcopal church, was placed on the witness stand by the defense, but his evidence, if anything, favored the state. The defense expected to have present Rev. T. B. Ford, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church at Pendleton, but he did not appear, although he has been subpoenaed. Attorney W. W. Cardwell, of the defense, asserted that Rev. Ford's testimony was imperative in the interest of his client and asked for a continuance of the hearing until such time as he could appear. Justice Long granted the request, adjourning the hearing until next Wednesday. Sheriff Penton was instructed to telegraph to Rev. Ford to come to Roseburg forthwith.

Knew Him Instantly.
Sheriff Sperlock testified on the stand that the recognized "Clark" as Summers the moment he saw him at breakfast in the dining room of the Roseburg Hotel. Sperlock explained that he often heard Summers preach in Texas and had met him innumerable times on the streets or at residences.

MYRTLE POINT POINTERS.

Upper Coquille Valley News As Told In The Enterprise.

Dr. M. O. Stemmler has recently had two very narrow escapes from death while making professional calls in the country. Some days ago he attempted to ford the South Fork when his horse and buggy were swept down stream, but he managed to regain the shore with nothing worse than a heavy ducking in cold water. The river was high at the time and he missed the ford by a few feet. Last Saturday, he was returning from a call to McKinley when the team he was driving became unmanageable and he was thrown out and down a grade, striking on his head and shoulders, after which the team broke loose from the buggy and ran to the bridge where he later found them.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hansen welcomed a son to their home at McKinley on Saturday, the 14th.

W. W. Gatchell arrived in Myrtle Point Tuesday from Nampa, Idaho, and expects to remain here about six weeks to dispose of his stock of goods, which have been moved into the Stevens store building. Mr. Gatchell states that his family is enjoying good health. He is having a concrete building erected at Nampa and will engage in business there when the same is completed.

A young horse belonging to O. Reed and being driven by two young men, ran away Monday on the grade in the west part of town. When the boys lost control of the animal it failed to make the turn east of the bridge and dashed on down the bank into the river, where in some manner it kicked loose from the vehicle and left it at the bottom of the river, while the horse swam ashore. The boys then went fishing for the buggy and finally recovered it.

DECIDE FATE OF LAMPHERE

Judge's Instructions to Favor Prosecution In Noted Indiana Murder Case.

(By Associated Press.)
LAPORTE, Ind., Nov. 26.—The state scored a big victory in the Lamphere trial when Judge Richter after exhaustive arguments on both sides announced that he would instruct the jury that if the evidence shows Lamphere set fire to the Gunness house, then the fire did not cause the death of any persons therein, the jury must find him guilty of arson. The instructions will contain a paragraph that if the jury finds that anyone of the four persons in the house lost his or her life as a result of the fire and that Lamphere set that fire, then it must find Lamphere guilty of murder or manslaughter.

OREGON APPLES FOR KINGS.

20 Boxes Will First be Exhibited In New York Store Window.
PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 25.—Oregon apples, fit for kings, will be shown about Christmas time in a New York store window in a way that will attract widespread attention. Twenty boxes of the best fruit the state produces will be presented by the Portland Commercial Club to King Edward VII and Emperor Wilhelm of Germany. Before being shipped to the titled recipients the fruit will be exhibited in the window of Macy's, New York, one of the biggest department stores in the world.

This advertisement of Oregon apples probably will be the most striking the fruit has ever received. The 20 boxes of apples will be on display in Macy's window for 10 days. They will be admired by literally millions of people, for undoubtedly more people pass this store, prominently located on Sixth avenue, in any given time than any other corner in America, if not in the whole world. The 20 boxes of apples will be bought by the Commercial Club from the showing to be made here early in December by the state horticultural associations.

MYRTLE POINT YOUTH IS GUILTY

Judge Hall In Juvenile Court Finds Tom Kinnicut Over to Circuit Court In Assault Case.

(Special to The Times.)
COQUILLE, Ore., Nov. 26.—Judge John F. Hall, acting as juvenile court judge, found Tom Kinnicut of Myrtle Point, one of the three youths charged with criminally assaulting Miss Adria Lillian Endicott, guilty and remanded him to the grand jury in the circuit court. The decision is a big victory for prosecuting L. A. Liljeqvist of Marshfield, as Kinnicut through his attorneys fought the case, especially Mr. Liljeqvist's contention that the crime was too severe to be punished by sentence to the reform school. Kinnicut is but sixteen years old, the law providing that youths under eighteen are not subject to penitentiary sentences except in extraordinary cases.

About eighteen witnesses testified. There was no jury, the defense waiving that point. The defense assailed Miss Endicott's character, trying to show that the youths were not to blame.

Judge Hall declared that Kinnicut was guilty of forcible ravishment and that the reform school was not adequate punishment. In remanding him to the circuit court, he placed him under $500 bonds.

Rose and Williams, his associates, are also bound over to the grand jury.

Circuit court will convene December 14. Judge Hamilton has issued a special summons for a jury and grand jury owing to the criminal matters to come up.

LEGAL TO ROB HUSBAND'S POCKET

"Shows Your Wife Loves You," Judge Mullowney Holds, "and They All Do It."
WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—It is legal for a woman to take money from her husband's pocket while he sleeps. It has been so decided by Judge Mullowney, of the Washington police court.

"It shows the interest the woman has in you," he said to George Ridgway, who complained that his wife took liberties with his pockets as he slept. "It shows that she loves you. A woman who does not go through the pockets of her husband does not love him. They all do it." Ridgway had been arrested on complaint of his wife, who declared she was afraid her husband would do her injury. He was put under bond to keep the peace.

CAPT. NELSON WILL RETIRE

Capt. Olson of the Alliance Will Succeed Him On the Nann Smith.

It was announced today that H. C. Nelson had asked sometime ago to be relieved of the command of the Nann Smith and that Captain B. W. Olson of the Alliance will shortly succeed him. The news will be a great surprise to the many friends of the well-known navigators on Coos Bay.

Captain Nelson has not been feeling well for sometime and decided that he should retire from the sea for a time at least. General Manager J. E. Oren expressed regret over his decision.

Captain Olson, who will succeed him is one of the ablest navigators on the coast and while many will dislike to see him leave the Alliance, they will be glad to know that the change will mean that Captain and Mrs. Olson will reside here.

Who will succeed him as captain of the Alliance is not known. Prentiss Gray, one of the owners of the Alliance, will come up from Frisco on the Plagt this week and may announce it then. Agent H. W. Skinner stated today that he did not know who would succeed Captain Olson, but he said that the company had a number of able seamen under consideration for the place.

INSIDE INSIDES INSIDER.

Outside Inner Inside Part, Fish Story Is All Right.

VICTORIA, B. C., Nov. 26.—The following remarkable story comes from Nanaimo, where the fish are on exhibition and have been photographed. The annual run of herring at that place is now on and it was in this connection that the story developed. A veteran fisherman, Simeon Day caught a monster cod just outside Nanaimo harbor and brought the fish to the city, where it was on exhibition at the Vendome Hotel. The cod was of extraordinary size and out of all proportion to the ordinary specimens of the genus.

On being dissected a most remarkable state of things was discovered. Inside the big fellow was another codfish about 20 inches in length, and inside this was a rockcod 18 inches in length and inside this again was another 10 inches in length. To make the story complete, inside the innermost cod was the herring which Day had used as bait.

Also that the conduct of the Princess before her marriage to de Sagan had been improper. He asks that the Princess be compelled to contribute $40,000, annually to support the children and that the children be awarded him because the immoral atmosphere of Sagan household is unfit for children.

GRAPPLED A DEER, FINALLY KILLING IT

Hunter Managed to Draw His Knife and on the Next Clinch Was a Victor.

BANGOR, Me., Nov. 26.—Walter E. Bixby, of North Dixmont, had a struggle with a deer in that town which resulted in the death of the deer and the temporary destruction of Bixby's personal appearance. Bixby first discovered the animal, a fine buck, in the orchard near his house. His gun was loaded with nothing heavier than bird shot, but he crept within thirty yards and fired, the charge striking the buck in the neck.

The deer took to the woods, with Bixby in close pursuit. He was too much excited to reload his gun, and soon, with an empty weapon, he overtook the buck, standing behind some bushes. The animal charged fiercely, and then began a most exciting battle.

Bixby seized the deer by the horns and threw it, but when he let go to draw his hunting knife the deer was up like a flash and at him with hoofs and horns. Time and again did Bixby throw the deer, and as many times did the deer spring to the attack before the knife could be drawn. Finally, by dodging about a tree, Bixby found time to get his knife out, and in the next clinch he cut the deer's throat. When the fight was over the hunter's clothes were in ribbons and his face, arms and body covered with cuts and bruises from the buck's sharp hoofs.

Ruby Brayton or Helmken Overboard From Launch Marshfield.

BOATMAN SAYS THAT SHE JUMPED

Alec Eganoff Almost Saved Her—Body Not Found Yet.

Miss Ruby Brayton or Helmken, a young woman of about twenty-seven, was drowned last evening about 6 o'clock, in the bay near the Railroad dock. She either fell or jumped from the launch Marshfield on which she was taking a ride with a companion, Irene Davis. Whether it was an accident or suicide, an inquest to be held, probably today, by Coroner T. J. Lewis will determine.

Owing to the high tide and the darkness, the body could not be recovered last night. This morning Coroner Lewis and others arranged to drag the bay near where she went down. It is not unlikely that the body will not be recovered until it rises to the surface in the lapse of time.

Alec Eganoff who was running the Marshfield made a strenuous attempt to save the girl and almost succeeded. He saw her go overboard and quickly turning the launch around, he ran to the rail and reached out to her. She appeared to be trying to swim and keep herself afloat. He succeeded in reaching her sleeve and got hold of it but the boat was still in motion and the cloth gave way. Just as it did so, she went down for the third time and no chance to throw her line or anything else was afforded.

Says She Jumped.

Eganoff last evening declared that she jumped overboard. He said that she and Miss Davis had been in the cabin and suddenly she came up to the rail. "She looked up and sort of smiled and then leaped overboard, striking the water feet foremost," said Eganoff.

If it was intentional, it was not long premeditated as was shown by the shopping she did during the afternoon. She had not been well and late in the afternoon she and Miss Davis went into H. S. Tower's and were looking at some jewelry. Mr. Tower noticed that the girl appeared unwell and suggested that he get something for her. A moment later, she swooned and it was sometime before she came to. Then she and Miss Davis chartered the Marshfield for a little ride and had started toward the C. A. Smith mill when the event occurred.

Very little is known about the dead girl here. She came here in August from Roseburg and entered May Atherton's resort on North Front street where she has since been. It is stated that her parents reside in or near Salem and are well to do people. She was well educated, claimed to have had some experience on the stage and claimed a personal acquaintance with Lillian Russell.

An effort is being made to locate her parents so that the body may be sent to them.
