TRIBUTE TO OREGON.

J. E. Desebaugh, editor of the "American Lumberman" of Chicago, has the following to say editorially in the current issue of the "Lumberman":

"The Pacific Northwest makes a wonderful appeal to every visitor. It is a land of living waters, of golden soil, of mineral wealth beyond comprehension, of forests which will bless mankind when other lands are desolate; a land of mountain, plain and valley; of a people great in intellect, energy, endurance, and kindness. In this golden Northwest, in a climate without the harshness of the north or the enervating softness of the south, these people are building an empire. They have harnessed the streams for power, or pouring them over the plains, have produced fruitful fields and gardens; they are wresting from the earth its mineral wealth; they are converting the forests into forms of utility and beauty; they are building schools and colleges; the Bible vision of every man dwelling under his own vine and fig tree is realized here, where his every bodily need and intellectual want may be gratified. The natural wealth of the country is great and great are its achievements, but better than all this are the people themselves—a chosen race growing in numbers and in all the accomplishments and graces which make a people mutually useful and happy."

WOMAN'S POINT OF VIEW.

Every man is enough of an optimist to look on the bright side of his wife's troubles the day after the cook leaves, but somehow his pessimism returns when she suggests that he help wipe the dishes.

If a man could remain as cool and unmoved in the face of a woman's smiles as he does in the face of her tears, we would all feel just like immortalizing him.

Acute inflammation of the vanity is an affliction which makes a man suspicious that every woman he meets is in love with him and will pine away if he isn't kind enough to flirt with her.

A clever flirt is something like a sleight-of-hand performer—he makes you see a lot of things that aren't there.

When a man tells another something which isn't so, it's a lie; but when he tells the same thing to a woman, it's just "polley."

One way to lose a lover is to marry him.

NEW BOOKS PUBLISHED

Another Lot of Advertising Matter For Coos Bay Has Been Issued.

The Chamber of Commerce has a lot of new advertising booklets ready for distribution. The books were printed in Marshfield and are quite attractive. The same cuts used in the old books are reproduced here but the matter has all been rewritten and brought down to date. The books are of a long narrow shape, with sixteen pages and a light blue cover and make a pretty souvenir. Several thousand have been ordered and will be sent out by the Chamber of Commerce to persons making inquiry about the place.

WITH THE TOAST AND TEA

GOOD EVENING.

That is no true aim which the hand can hold; He gives nothing but worthless gold Who gives from a sense of duty; But he who gives a slender mite, And gives to that which is out of sight, That thread of the all-sustaining beauty Which runs through all and doth all unite, The heart outstretches its eager palms, For a God goes with it and makes it store To the soul that was starving in darkness before. LOWELL through shadow an' through shine.

I sometimes think it's part of the heavenly design To give us just a few friends, an' make 'em be the best, With hearts that is so loyal they're too big for the breast.

So when you've got a good friend, you keep him all the time— He'll catch you when you stumble an' help you when you climb An', if you win, or suffer, because o' fortune's whim, He's just as glad or sorry as you would be for him.

Brother, it's the good friends, the good friends an' true, That makes the world a livin' place for me an' for you— The friends that's yours in sorrow an' the friends that's yours in joy, All makes for you a fortune that nothin' can destroy. —Selected.

"I want another box of pills like I got for mother yesterday." "Did your mother say they were good?" inquired Frank Parsons as he proceeded to wrap them up. "No—but they just fit my air gun."

"Did you ever find the traditional man under the bed?" queries the spinster.

"Only once," replied a Coos Bay married woman. "We thought we heard burglars downstairs, and a few seconds later I found my husband there."

No, we won't tell her name.
