Malthoid Roofing

Mr. W. T. Somes, Proprietor of Bimini Hot Springs Hotel, Los Angeles, Cal., U. S. A., writes as follows: "Our hotel building, a flat roofed structure covered with Malthoid Roofing, is situated quite near the large Bimini Bath Houses that burned so fiercely the night of November 15th. The wind carried blazing shingles and red hot cinders in showers to my building, where they simmered on the Malthoid Roofing and went out, doing no damage beyond a number of small blisters raised on the surface of the roofing. We have had one rain since the fire and the roof is tight."

Work on Ferry Slip.—Work will soon begin on repairing the Marshfield ferry slip so that the ferry can run into its regular place at 'W' street instead of up to the wharf back of the city hall. The work will be rushed and it is hoped to have it completed within a week or ten days.

Eighty-Nine.—C. S. Hilborn of Millicoma, one of the oldest and best known pioneers of Coos and Curry counties, will celebrate his eighty-ninth birthday, January 16. He is still hale and hearty. He settled at Port Orford in 1856 but moved to Coos Bay in 1866 and has resided in this section continuously since then.

Eastside Council Meets.—The Eastside city council met last evening and organized for the coming year, Messrs. Stonecypher, Ackles and Humbert being the new members. The new charter becomes effective now and the municipality will have its own laws instead of being merely governed by the Oregon statutes.

It is stated by officials there that no franchises will be granted for sometime to come.

E. N. Harry Here.—E. N. Harry, postmaster and road supervisor at Sitkum, is spending a few days in Marshfield on business and pleasure. Sitkum is just thirty-four miles east of Marshfield, half way between Coos Bay and Roseburg. Mr. Harry says that the roads are pretty bad, but not so bad as in previous years, the improvement each year being of marked effect. He says that mail carriers could make better time if pack horses were used. The canyon is the danger spot now, but two men have been stationed there to keep it clear. Mr. Harry has been road supervisor there for about sixteen years, and it is likely that he will be reappointed and given more funds with which to improve the roads.
