

With the Toast and Tea

GOOD EVENING

There is nothing possible to a human soul greater than simple faithfulness.—Maithe D. Babcock.

Reform Time.

I've got a dog I'm going to train
When Harriman builds the road.
I mean the one that's coming from Drain,

When Harriman builds the road.
I'm going to plant that saved up seed
And buy the paint my house doth need,

And heaps of works I'm going to read
When Harriman builds the road.

I'm going to pay eleven calls
When Harriman builds the road.
I'll patch the paper on the walls
When Harriman builds the road.

I'm going to mend that broken sleigh
That I might have used in the snow today

And—sh—I'm going to write a play
When Harriman builds the road.

I'm going to turn a lot of leaves
When Harriman builds the road.
I'll harvest my full share of sheaves
When Harriman builds the road.

I'm going to rise when larklet sings
And you can mark this down by jings
I'm going to quit postponing things
When Harriman builds the road.

heavily upon it if you wish to retain his friendship.

The fountain of youth consists in working every day, eating regularly and moderately, and sleeping nine hours at night.

"Why is a pancake like the sun?"
"Because," said a man from Sweden, "it rises out of der yeast and sets behind der vest."

A Coos Bay woman knows a remedy for nearly everything, but a Coos Bay man only knows what is good for the bust-head.

As much pleasure as there is being with old and tried friends, there is a certain delight in meeting strangers; they are not familiar with your jokes.

You may think you can be unnecessarily disagreeable, and get away with it, but you can't. Why does anyone want to be unnecessarily disagreeable? Yet how many seem to enjoy it!

Every other effort having failed to make two women friendly, let them occupy the same room at night. When each one sees that the other also has false hair they will at once become chummy and confidential.

Very Wet Money.

That which is due 'n the morning and MIST (missed at night).

"Pat, I hear your wife is sick."
"Yes."
"Is she dangerous?"
"Indeed no, she is too wake to be dangerous."

There was a man in our town,
And wondrous wise was he,
And with an ax and many whacks
He once cut down a tree.

And when he saw the tree was down,
With all his might and main
He straightway took another ax
And cut it up again.

Since the Beginning.

I have no doubt that when Adam and Eve
The Garden of Eden were forced to leave,
That Eve turned to Adam, with face
quite sedate,
And anxiously asked him: "Is my leaf on straight?"

BAD SEASON FOR COLDS.

Colds and grip were quite prevalent last winter and Chamberlain's Cough Remedy was in great demand and performed some remarkable cures. Mrs. Mary J. Robinson of Cameron, W. Va., says: "Last winter I was taken with one of the awfullest colds I ever had in my life. I could not speak above a whisper and was very hoarse. I was afraid it was going to be pneumonia. I took one bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy—and in three days was lots better and could talk. I did not take but the one bottle and it cured me. I now tell everybody about Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and he good it did me." For sale by JOHN PREUSS.
