The policy of the Coos Bay Times will be Republican in politics, with the independence of which President Roosevelt is the leading exponent.

A WONDERFUL TREE.

THE FORESTRY society of California, with headquarters in Los Angeles, has the lumber question which confronts America solved in advance, according to a lucid bulletin which has been distributed over the country.

The enthusiastic Californians urge the planting of the eucalyptus tree to the exclusion of other varieties when reforestation of the southern and western timberlands is undertaken in earnest.

Passing over the extravagant language with which the natives of California would naturally air their home industry, it remains a fact that the eucalyptus is a valuable tree, of rapid growth and excellent quality.

WITH THE TOAST AND TEA

GOOD EVENING. There are not good things enough in life to indemnify us for neglect of a single duty. MADAME SWETCHINE.

A Coos Bay woman with any sort of a figure is prouder of it than a man is of a million dollars.

Do you believe people like to hear you talk? Well, if you do, you were never worse mistaken in your life.

Make hay while the sun shines, and the sun never shinges so steadily and bright as when you are young.

By the time a girl has reached 16 her gifts to her mother assume the character of all things she would like to borrow.

Changes do not always mean improvement. Not so many people play guitars as formerly, but there are more phonographs.

A San Francisco heiress has married the head waiter in a big hotel. Probably she wanted a husband who was accustomed to wearing a dress suit.

Traveling by water has been made much safer than traveling by land. However, this does not help people in states like Nevada and Idaho to any extent.

Fashion announcements are to the effect that the clinging gowns are to be—those direttore things—are to be with us next summer. This, combined with the customary peek-a-boo effects common to the warm season, is going to make the coming summer rather severe on the modest man.
