The policy of the Coos Bay Times will be Republican in politics, with the independence of which President Roosevelt is the leading exponent.

Official Paper of Coos County.

The prevailing styles in New Year resolutions look suspiciously like some we have seen before.

Patrons of moving picture shows do some lively moving on their own hook when the films are accidentally ignited.

Says the philosopher of folly: "Everything anybody buys goes to the buyer, except coal, and that goes in the cellar."

Happy thought for the day: You can get on the water wagon without letting the whole neighborhood know about it.

A great deal of disease in this world could be conquered if it were possible for the surgeons to amputate the imagination.

The country is threatened with a writing paper famine, but the news is hardly likely to cause a big slump in the number of love letters mailed every day.

One Pennsylvania teacher is of the opinion that "a boy's conscience is never stimulated by a spanking." His desire to stand up, though, is undoubtedly increased greatly thereby.

The Brooklyn Woman's club has been celebrating its fortieth anniversary, but how many of the women claim to have been living at the time of its organization is not stated.

To the credit of Mr. Carnegie let it be reported that he gave $10,000 for the relief of the earthquake sufferers without providing that they must build a library with the money.

A Pennsylvania man ate a full meal before committing suicide the other day. That's wastefulness for you when you stop to think of the people anxious to live who are going hungry.

The estimated wealth of the French people is reported to be more than $1,100 per capita. In comparison with which the American per capita circulation of $35.35 looks like 30 cents.

WITH THE TOAST AND TEA

GOOD EVENING.

A sound mind in a sound body is a short but full description of a happy state in this world. He that hath these two, hath little more to wish for here, and he that wants either of them, will be but little better for anything else. LOCKE.

Men and women never agree on the best way to "raise" children.

The only reason some Coos Bay men don't crow like roosters is because they can't.

When an old man becomes disgusted with the world you can't coax him out of it as you can a younger man.

A Coos Bay man's promise to a candidate is as worthless as his promise to a woman to quit smoking tobacco.

A New York artist has been advertising for "a perfect man," and strange to say, some of these Coos Bay men who resent any criticism have not answered.

CHILD ACTRESS WILL MAKE FIRST APPEARANCE

Little Florence Flanagan Will Have a Part in "The Ensign" With Keane Co. Saturday Night.

"The Ensign" is the grand opening bill to be presented by the James Keane Company on Saturday, January 23, at the Masoole Opera House. Little Florence Flanagan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Flanagan plays the very important role of little Mary Wilks.

Jim Keane says she is simply marvelous, a wonderful child. "The part is quite long," said Keane in speaking of the forth coming production yesterday. "Why, I do not know a little child actress in all New York City, who could begin to learn the lines in the short time little Florence mastered them. Every gesture, intonation of the voice and the carriage of the child bespeak the natural born actress. She will make a big hit." The play is to be given a good staging and Keane considers it the strongest in his repertoire.

FORMER COOS BAY WOMAN IS MARRIED

Miss Alice Dee Turpen and George Langford Married in San Francisco Today.

Miss Alice Dee Turpen, a former Coos Bay young woman and a sister of W. S. Turpen of Marshfield, and George Langford, a prominent California vineyard and ranch man, were married today in San Francisco, an Episcopal divine officiating. The wedding was a quiet one, being solemnized in the presence of immediate relatives and a few close friends. They will reside on the groom's California ranch and the best wishes of the numerous friends of the young lady here will follow them to their new home.

GOOD PROSPECT FOR RAILWAY

A LIVE ONE DURING THE PRESENT YEAR IS THE COOS BAY BRANCH OF THE SOUTHERN PACIFIC. IT IS THOUGHT THAT WORK ON THIS LINE WILL BE RESUMED DURING THE COMING SUMMER.

"I believe financial conditions here at home are better than they are in the East," said Mr. O'Brien. "This section is an agricultural country and business here is a barometer of the crop conditions, particularly the wheat crop. I got off bad on the weather while I was away, for I was telling everybody I talked with what a delightful winter climate we have. In Chicago somebody called my attention to a newspaper telling of heavy snows here, and yesterday I ran into the storms myself."

Mr. O'Brien said he knows nothing of the purchases of property in the terminal district and has no knowledge of purchases being made there by the Harriman interests.

In regard to the work on the Oregon and Washington, the Union Pacific extension to Puget Sound, Mr. O'Brien said there has been no recent progress on this end of the line, although work is going ahead in splendid shape farther north. He does not expect the long tunnel to be started through the Peninsula until the work is still further advanced, for he says the tunnel can be driven in seven or eight months. Mr. O'Brien's office has jurisdiction only over that portion of the Oregon and Washington project lying south of the Columbia River, and the tunnel and the bridge connections, which have already been built, are all he has to construct.
